World Kebab Day

Second Friday in July

— National Day Calendar —

World Kebab Day is the second Friday in July on the National Day Calendar. This delicious food holiday celebrates the origins of kebabs and how to make them.

There is a good chance you have eaten a kebab at one time or another. For those who have never had one, a kebab is basically food on a stick. The food usually consists of roasted or grilled meat. Some people add veggies to their kebabs.

This easy-to-eat delicacy most likely originated in Turkey. It's believed that soldiers used to grill chunks of freshly hunted animals on swords over open fires in the field. A Turkish script from 1377 backs up this idea. From Turkey, the kebab spread to other parts of the Middle East. Many countries around the world have since adopted their own version of the kebab.

The type of food used on a kebab depends upon location. For example, people in China make their kebabs with chunks of mutton. In Cyprus, kebabs are made with ground pork sausage. Many places in Iran use either lamb or grilled chicken on their kebabs. Common vegetables used for kebabs include grilled zucchini, mushrooms, corn, onions, and peppers. Some unusual kinds of foods people have used include ice cream, pizza, salad, pasta, and a combination of fruit and brownies. As long as the food can be put on a skewer and eaten with one hand, it is considered a kebab!

HOW TO OBSERVE #WorldKebabDay

Restaurants around the world celebrate this day by offering kebab specials. People also host social gatherings that encourage guests to try different types of kebabs. To participate in this delicious day, create your own kebab. Eat a kebab in one hand while waving to someone with your free hand to come get a kebab. Go to a restaurant that serves kebabs. Don't forget to share your favorite kebab recipe on social media with #WorldKebabDay.

WORLD KEBAB DAY HISTORY

Our team is still researching the origins of this delicious day.

Chill Out and Get Patriotic: Homemade Ice Pops to Beat the Summer Heat

Independence Day is just around the corner. Celebrating the Fourth of July brings a sense of patriotism and community as people gather to enjoy parades, fireworks and barbecues. The summer heat adds an extra sizzle to the festivities, making it the perfect time to cool down by indulging in ice pops.

Before you dash to the grocery store, why don't we make popsicles at home? Here's a refreshing treat bursting with red, white and blue colors and fresh fruity flavors that bring relief on hot summer days.

Store bought pops are often full of sugar, artificial flavoring and dyes. How else can you get those neon colors not found in nature? While it's fun for the kiddies to stick out their electric blue tongues, we can make healthy, delicious and nutritious pops they will love.

Do-it-yourself popsicles are so easy, you can literally put any flavorful fluid you wish in a popsicle mold, freeze it and make people happy. The molds can be found online, in practically any grocery store, even at dollar stores. Or you can opt for a nostalgic throwback and use craft sticks in little paper cups like back in the day. Remember ripping the paper off those chunky juicy ice pops?

Making popsicles at home can be as healthy and virtuous or as indulgent and decadent as you wish. They don't have to be complicated; you can simply freeze fruit juice, soda or instant pudding, and the kids will love them. Make them with yogurt, fresh fruit, and roll them in granola, and they're a breakfast treat. Make them with coffee or your favorite cocktail ingredients, and they're an adult treat. And the best part, you can have an infinity of flavors, and they're still totally cheap!

The recipe I'm sharing today is meant to truly help you beat the summer's heat. We're making a very healthy, light, refreshing popsicle brimming with electrolytes. Electrolytes are minerals (which include calcium, magnesium, potassium and sodium) your body needs. Electrolytes regulate hydration, muscle and nerve function, blood pressure and your body's pH levels. Imbalances or deficiencies in electrolytes can cause everything from muscle cramps and fatigue to irregular heartbeat and seizures. When we perspire, we lose electrolytes. How fun to concoct a popsicle that helps to replace them!

Savor the season with patriotic ice pops.

We start with a coconut water base and add a simple syrup made with ginger. Coconut water rehydrates and replenishes electrolytes, especially potassium. When choosing coconut water, look for one that's 100% juice with minimal ingredients — ideally just "coconut water." Ginger is a powerful anti-inflammatory with antioxidant properties. Next, we add watermelon and blueberries, both packed with antioxidants, vitamins and minerals.

PATRIOTIC ICE POPS

Yield: approximately 3 3/4 cups
Servings: 10 (3-ounce) ice pops

2 tablespoons candied ginger, minced
1/4 cup sugar
Pinch sea salt
2 cups coconut water
1 1/2 cups watermelon, cubed
1/2 cup blueberries or blackberries

In a small saucepan, bring ginger, sugar, salt and 1/4 cup water to a boil. Let this reduce for about 5 minutes or until approximately 1/3 cup. Set aside to cool. When cooled, add the coconut water and stir. Use either a small melon baller or knife to make bite-size pieces of watermelon that will fit into your ice pop molds. Divide the watermelon pieces and berries among the popsicle molds. Fill with the coconut ginger mixture, and add your popsicle sticks. Freeze at least 4 hours, or better, overnight.

What a perfect way to end a summer evening on the patio, feeling like a kid again. See you next week!

Autistic Man Thankful For Support Of Salvation Army's Backpacks For Kids Campaign

— Salvation Army Spokane —

For the fourth straight year, Harrison Armstrong, who is 20 years old and autistic, does his part to visit and thank more than 20 Spokane County nomnom Convenience Stores for the wonderful support it gives The Salvation Army's Annual 'Backpacks for Kids' event.

From July 1st-31st each year, nomnom collects funds at its local convenience stores to help 4,000 thousand students, grades K-12, receive new backpacks with school supplies through The Salvation Army Spokane. It occurs when customers of nomnom and the general public make financial donations at any local nomnom store. As a thank you, contributors receive a coupon for a free 20 oz. soda or 20 oz. coffee.

When the magical month of July arrives, Armstrong, who loves what nomnom does annually to help The Salvation Army and the young people that benefit from Backpacks for Kids, enlists the help of his mother to drive him to the various nomnom stores so that he can personally say hello and thank the different managers and their staff for helping so many local students through this campaign.

What makes this tour even that much more special is that Armstrong, who is a member of the local Salvation Army Corps, is a young man who deals with severe autism 24/7, but his thoughts are on this wonderful campaign and the impact it has on other young lives.

"This young man has a heart of gold, and this annual campaign is proof of that," said Major Ken Perine, corps officer of The Salvation Army Spokane. "When he sets his mind on something he doesn't quit. He is an amazing young man."

Though he has already visited several stores, Armstrong's tour continues and it won't stop until he has visited each of the below Spokane County nomnom stores in July.

— Family Features —

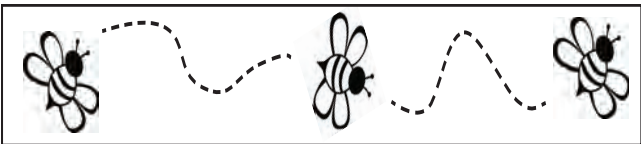

Ensure your boat is ready for the water with this checklist

(eLivingtoday.com) No matter how much experience you have on the water, prepping your boat – and your passengers – before leaving the dock can make for a more enjoyable experience.

To prepare for a safe and comfortable trip, review this pre-departure checklist to ensure your vessel is in good working order and well-stocked for the adventure:

- Documentation – Have all required documentation for planned activities, including boat registration, fishing permits and boater education cards readily accessible.
- Float Plan – File a float plan with a responsible party who will remain on land. Provide contact info, explain where you're going, when you intend to return and what to do in case he or she doesn't hear from you.
- Weather Forecast – Always check the forecast before you head out on the water. To regularly monitor any changes, keep a handheld radio onboard.
- Fuel – Before leaving, check that your fuel level is adequate for the trip and that other fluids, like oil and coolant, are at the proper levels.
- Batteries – Check to make sure the boat's battery, as well as battery-operated items like flashlights and handheld radios, are fully charged and operational.
- Lights – Check to make sure you have properly functioning navigation and instrument lights and pack a flashlight, as well.
- Life Jackets – Ensure you have at least one U.S. Coast Guard-approved personal flotation device per passenger with a minimum of two onboard. If your boat is longer than 16 feet, you'll also need a throwable device.
- Anchor – Keep at least one anchor, attached to an anchor line, and at least two fenders for docking onboard.
- Bilge – Before launching your boat, ensure the bilge is dry, clear of waste and has a properly functioning pump.
- Fire Extinguisher – Keep a U.S. Coast Guard-approved fire extinguisher securely mounted in an accessible place.
- Distress Signals – Store flares and day signals in a dry, accessible location and ensure all passengers onboard know how to use them. Also have a noise-making device, such as an air horn, bell or whistle, capable of producing a 4-second blast audible for at least 1/2 mile readily available.
- Tools – Keep a basic toolbox onboard with commonly used tools and spare parts like wrenches, screwdrivers, batteries, fuel filters, hull plugs and light bulbs.
- First-Aid Kit – Keep a well-stocked first-aid kit – and extra sunscreen – in an accessible location in case of accidents.

DEAR BETH: There's a fine line between "cuddly" and "clingy," and Blue has hopped right over it. If it helps, know that you're not alone. Studies over the past decade show that cats bond to their humans much more strongly than we thought. Underneath that aloof exterior is a loyal heart of gold.

Cats who've had to spend time in a shelter may become overly clingy once they reach their forever home. They're finally with a forever family, and they don't want to let go! It's also tempting to give in to their demands for treats or to take over your bedroom to make up for their lost time.

Keep enforcing boundaries, but try to introduce positive stimuli before and after you shut him out of the bathroom or bedroom. Two important factors to be aware of are: 1. A daily routine and 2. Combating boredom. Commit to spending time with your cat before leaving for work, after returning and before going to bed. Incorporate play, using toys or laser pointers that he can chase.

Don't give up. You and Blue will figure out a routine and comfort level that works for both of you.

Winner Winner, Walleye Dinner! Anglers Are Cashing In On Lake Pend Oreille Walleye

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Anglers on Lake Pend Oreille earned over $5,000 catching walleye during May and June

For most fisherman, the notion of getting paid to fish is a pie-in-the-sky dream. For five lucky anglers on Lake Pend Oreille, that dream recently became a reality. During May and June 2023, each of the five anglers caught and turned in a reward-tagged walleye from the lake, earning them each a payout of $1,000. You read that right, a thousand bucks each!

Chris Lewandowski from Bonners Ferry has been fishing for walleye on Lake Pend Oreille for almost a decade. His first walleye trip of 2023 yielded more than just a gallon bag of walleye fillets.

"I had a feeling I was going to win something, but when I got the call that I had won $1,000, I was in disbelief and shock, to be honest," said Lewandowski.

Lewandowski's winning fish was one of six he caught that day. "I love to fish, especially with my family. When you can catch a really great tasting fish and win money on top of that, that is a pretty good deal," he said.

Lewandowski learned about the Lake Pend Oreille angler incentive program a few years ago; he had turned in lake trout heads before, so he knew the drill.

"It's really cool that anglers on Lake Pend Oreille get to actively be a part of managing the different fisheries in the lake, including walleye," said Lewandowski.

He hasn't spent his winnings yet; however, he has been considering getting a new pontoon boat, so the money will likely go toward that purchase.

The scoop on walleye

Walleye fishing has been picking up lately, and it should continue to provide good opportunity in the weeks ahead. More walleye heads were turned in during June than in any other month since the Lake Pend Oreille walleye angler incentive program started in March 2019. The number of walleye heads turned in by anglers during June easily surpassed the total number of heads turned in from January to May 2023. In the past, the highest number of heads have been turned in during July, so right now is the time to get out and chase some walleye!

Since the walleye angler incentive program started in 2019, over 50% of the reward-tagged walleye have been caught in the northern end of Lake Pend Oreille. In fact, all five of the winning walleye caught in May and June came from the north end of the lake. So, if you're looking to get out and fish for walleye, consider spending some time in that portion of the lake.

Fish and Game biologists provide regular updates on known walleye locations in Lake Pend Oreille to help get anglers and walleyes to cross paths. Make sure to check for walleye location updates on the Fish and Game website and Facebook page before heading out on your next walleye outing.

Catching that lucky reward-tagged walleye isn't the only way to win big. For every walleye head turned in, an entry is earned to a monthly drawing for ten rewards worth $100 each. Think of it as a raffle, where each walleye head is a raffle ticket. The more tickets you have in the hat, the more likely you are to win.

If you're interested in learning more about walleye fishing in Lake Pend Oreille, the walleye angler incentive program and general information about walleye in the lake, Idaho Fish and Game has plenty of resources to help.

"Make-do" Mirror

"Use it up, wear it out, make it do, or do without." These were words to live by in the days before mass production, online shopping and overnight shipping.

This leaf-shaped hand mirror in an irregular wood-frame is a "make-do" mirror, made by setting a broken mirror in a frame so it could still be used. It sold for $438 at Cowan's Auctions. The shape of the mirror and the chip carving on its frame and handle show it was made with care – a piece of folk art as well as a utilitarian object.

Q I recently saw some dishes with red, green and yellow flowers labeled "Delft." I always thought Delft was blue and white. Was I mistaken, or were the dishes mislabeled?

A Delft, or delftware, is a type of tin-glazed pottery like faience and majolica. It was first made in the city of Delft in Holland in the 17th century, and later in England and other countries. It is often white with blue decorations but sometimes can be multi-colored, known as polychrome. Pieces are usually everyday-ware like dishes and tiles. Delft marked "Holland" was made in 1891 or later. If it is marked "Delft," it is probably from the 20th or 21st century. Today, blue-and-white porcelain may be marked and sold as Delft. Authentic Delft is pottery and softer than porcelain, so antique pieces often show signs of wear. Prices depend on age and condition.

Q I have a set of three wooden nesting tables. They've been in our family for as long as I can remember. They are lightweight and small. The top on the largest one is only 20 inches by 14 inches. Who invented nesting tables and are antique ones valuable?

A Nesting tables were made in England in the 18th century. The cabinet maker Thomas Sheraton is credited with being the first to make them. They were designed to be functional while taking up very little space in small English houses. Sets of antique nesting tables similar to yours have recently sold for $90 to $240.

Broken mirrors don't have to be bad luck. This one was made into a piece of folk art that still had its use.

TIP: To get rid of mildew on wooden furniture, wipe the wood with a cloth dipped in a mixture of 1 cup of water, 1 tablespoon of bleach and 1 tablespoon of liquid dishwashing detergent. Then wipe the wood dry.

picture words as a feature on their pagers to make them more appealing to teens.

The release of the first iPhone by Apple in 2007 had an emoji keyboard embedded into the phone to nab the Japanese market. While not intended for U.S. users to find, they did and quickly figured out how to use it.

Every year new emojis (both emoji and emojis are acceptable plural forms of the word) are developed. The emojiopedia.org keeps track of all the emoji updates across all platforms and operating systems. Over 1800 emojis cover much more than just emotions. From transportation, food, an assortment of wild and domesticated animals to social platforms, weather, and bodily functions, emojis virtually speak for themselves.

When it comes to celebration emojis, the designers created a variety to make sure we could express our excitement. Whether we celebrate the arrival of a new baby, an anniversary, or a birthday, there's something for every celebration. In fact, if we search our emojis carefully, we could probably Celebrate Every Day® on National Day Calendar® emoji style.

National Pet Fire Safety Day July 15th

— National Day Calendar —

National Pet Fire Safety Day on July 15th reminds us to consider our pets when planning fire routes and safety in our homes.

Our pets are as much a part of our family as any other member. This day stresses the importance of protecting them. Taking preventable measures now can both save your home and your pet. Many times our pets can cause a fire if we don't take the proper precautions.

PET FIRE SAFETY TIPS

- Extinguish open flames. Pets are curious and certainly not cautious. Wagging tails haphazardly knock over candles. Curious kitties will paw at

- sizzling grease, quickly sending a kitchen up in flames.
- Remove knobs from the stove. When not in use, they will not accidentally get turned on.
- Consider flameless candles for ambiance and backup lighting in the event of a power outage.
- Replace glass water bowls with metal or plastic. Outside on wooden decks, they can heat up and actually start a fire.
- Store leashes and collars near the entrance of your home. When away, have your pets in the main living area for easy rescue.
- Secure young pets when away from home. This can help avoid fire hazards. Pet kennels or in a pet-proofed room are options.
- Fire alert window clings help firefighters identify the room your pets are located and identify the number of pets in the home. Add one to the window of the room you keep your pets when you are away. Keep it updated with the number of pets residing with you and your current phone number.
- Have a plan when you are home. Know which family members will be responsible for each pet.

HOW TO OBSERVE NATIONAL PET FIRE SAFETY DAY

Put the tips into practice and have a fire drill. Keep your pets and your humans safe! Use #PetFireSafetyDay to post on social media.

NATIONAL PET FIRE SAFETY DAY HISTORY

The American Kennel Club in association with ADT Security Services declared National Pet Fire Safety Day in 2009 to educate pet owners on how to take steps to prevent fires and to plan for unexpected emergencies effectively.

Pennsylvania-Dutch Brownies

- 4 tablespoons (1/2 stick) margarine or butter
- 1 (1-ounce) square unsweetened chocolate
- 1/4 cup light molasses
- 2 large eggs
- 1½ cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1½ teaspoons ground cinnamon

1. Preheat oven to 375 F. Grease 13-by 9-inch metal baking pan; set aside.
2. In 4-quart saucepan, melt margarine or butter with chocolate over low heat. Remove saucepan from heat. With wire whisk or fork, stir in molasses, then eggs.
3. With spoon, stir in flour, ginger, cloves, baking soda, salt, 1 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon just until blended. Spread batter evenly in pan. Bake 15 to 20 minutes until toothpick inserted 2 inches from edge comes out clean. Meanwhile, in cup, combine remaining 2 teaspoons sugar and 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon; set aside.
4. Remove pan from oven; immediately sprinkle brownies with cinnamon-sugar mixture. Cool brownies in pan on wire rack at least 2 hours. When cool, cut brownies lengthwise into 3 strips, then cut each strip crosswise into 5 pieces. Cut each piece diagonally in half. Makes 30 brownies.

Two Men Charged For 2022 Trespass On Blackfoot- Clearwater Wildlife Management Area

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

Early entry to WMAs disrupts wildlife and takes opportunity from others

SEELEY LAKE – Two men faced criminal trespass charges this spring in Missoula County Justice Court from an incident that occurred on March 22, 2022 on Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' Blackfoot-Clearwater Wildlife Management Area (WMA), south of Seeley Lake, Montana.

Ivan Yarmolich of Missoula and Logan Baston of Anchorage, Alaska entered the WMA during a closed season to look for shed antlers. The property, along with many Montana WMAs, is closed to the public from late fall to early spring to help reduce stress on wintering wildlife.

FWP Criminal Investigator Justin Singleterry said, "Yarmolich and Baston were trespassing on the WMA nearly two months before the public opener to hunt for elk shed antlers. Antlers can weigh anywhere from five to 15 pounds on average and fetch about $15 to $20 per pound from an antler buyer."

The Blackfoot-Clearwater WMA opens to the public at noon on May 15 each year, with many lining up to hunt for shed antlers.

On June 20, 2023, Yarmolich entered a guilty plea and received a $585 fine, along with two years loss of hunting, fishing, trapping privileges, and two years ban from Montana WMAs. The revocation of Yarmolich's hunting, fishing, and trapping privileges is recognized by 48 U.S. member states of the Interstate Wildlife Violator Compact. In May 2023, Baston settled for a deferred prosecution agreement and was banned from WMAs for six months.

"This was not the first time Yarmolich has been caught trespassing to steal antlers," Singleterry said. "He was federally charged and prosecuted for a 2013 trespass onto the National Bison Range and then again in 2014 for trespassing on the Sun River Wildlife Management Area owned by FWP."

Due to the popularity and value of shed hunting, FWP wardens have seen an increase in trespass on WMAs during the closed season. People entering WMAs during closed seasons can disrupt wildlife during their more vulnerable times. Trespass also takes opportunity away from others.

FWP game wardens work to deter trespassing on WMAs by sharing information about the importance of winter closures to wildlife and by monitoring closed areas through patrols, using remote cameras, and other surveillance techniques.

Anyone with possible information about crimes involving fish, wildlife or park regulations is encouraged to visit myfwp.mt.gov/fwpPub/tipmont to provide details or call the FWP violation reporting hot line at 1-800-TIP-MONT (1-800-847-6668). Callers may be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000.

- When baking, you can slow the rising time of dough by placing it in a cool place to rise. You can even let it rise in the refrigerator! Basically, it's done rising when it's doubled in size, so use that as your guide.
- Place individual fabric softener sheets into sneakers to keep them fresh between wearings. You can use this for other shoes, too. Just be aware that the softener sheet should stay inside the shoe; it could discolor certain fabrics on the outside.
- "I have long hair, and it always jams up the shower drain. I tried one of those hair catcher things, but the drain doesn't recess enough. What I did was to cut a piece of stiff screen to fit the drain hole, and I secured it with a hair pin that dangles down. It catches everything. Nothing slips under it, and I can clean it off easily." – L.R. in Massachusetts
- "It used to be that my kids would do something cute and I'd scramble to dig out the camera, only for the moment to be passed. Now I keep two cameras (digital photos and video camera) charged up and ready to go in a bowl on a high shelf. I grab it and turn it on – that's it." – T.F. in Idaho
- When baking savory bread, try substituting vegetable broth for the water in your recipe. It adds a deeper element of flavor to the bread. Just try to use low-sodium broth so you don't add too much salt to your bread.
- "If you have a little one who is afraid of the bedroom because of 'monsters,' try getting your hands on some 'Monster Away Spray.' I used a can of air freshener that I decorated with paper to make a new label. Fooled the kids and eased their fears quickly." – W.L. in Arkansas

It's Trout Stocking Time! Here's What's Headed To Panhandle Waters This July

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Get your vitamin D and fishing fix all in one stop this July

If you're looking for a good excuse to enjoy some summer weather while soaking a line, look no further. Over 7,000 catchable-size (10 to 12 inch) rainbow trout will be stocked in the Panhandle Region in July.

Stocking of all waters is tentative and dependent on river/lake/pond conditions (angler safety concerns); dates may change due to weather or staffing constraints.

Body of water	Week to be stocked	Number to be stocked
Moose Lake (Bull Moose Lake)	Jul 3-7	500
Day Rock Pond	Jul 3-7	500
Solomon Lake	Jul 3-7	450
Dismal Lake	Jul 10-14	450
Elsie Lake	Jul 10-14	675
Gene Day Pond	Jul 10-14	1,000
Lower Glidden Lake	Jul 10-14	675
Elsie Lake	Jul 17-21	675
Lucky Friday Pond	Jul 17-21	900
Lower Glidden Lake	Jul 17-21	675
Steamboat Pond	Jul 17-21	1,000

For maps of these fishing locations and other angling destinations in Idaho please visit the Idaho Fish Planner at idfg.idaho.gov/ifwis/fishingplanner.

Many of the waters highlighted above are easy to access, family-friendly fishing destinations. All you need to get started is a fishing license and some basic tackle. Annual adult fishing licenses cost around $30, junior licenses (ages 14-17) cost $16, and youth under 14 fish for free.

To purchase a license:

- Online (license.gooutdoorsidaho.com/Licensing/CustomerLookup.aspx)
- Phone: (800) 554-8685
- At a Fish and Game office
- At a license vendor

Fishing for stocked rainbow trout, particularly in community ponds, is a great way to introduce new anglers to the sport by using simple (and relatively thrifty) set-ups like worm/marshmallow combinations or commercial baits like Power Bait or Crave, either near the bottom or below a bobber. The Learn to Fish webpage offers diagrams for basic bait rigs at idfg.idaho.gov/fish/basics.

Most Idaho waters are open to fishing year-round, but some may have slightly different rules. Be sure to pick up a 2022-24 Idaho Fishing Seasons and Rules booklet or visit idfg.idaho.gov/rules/fish, which outlines season dates, special regulations and bag limits at any Idaho Fish and Game offices or most sporting goods stores statewide.

Need a little help reading Idaho's fishing regulations? See www.youtube.com/watch?v=5ZUbcBfalaM to view a short video on how to use the fishing season and rules book.

Contact the Panhandle Region office at (208) 769-1414 and follow us on the Panhandle Region Facebook page for regular news and updates.

Fish Tacos Are Great Eats for Get-Togethers

Let's talk tacos. Growing up in California, Wednesday was taco day on the school cafeteria menu. No brown-bagging it for me that day. I was a taco fanatic.

No wonder I was surprised when I married a Minnesotan and discovered that the humble taco was as unusual to him as other West-Coast favorites like artichokes, pomegranates and avocados. Wasting no time, I introduced him and his Midwest friends to beef tacos – not too spicy – and they were an instant hit.

Fast-forward to three kids and dozens of taco shells later, making and eating tacos together on weekends has become a family culinary tradition.

Nowadays, we've embraced the fish taco trend. We fill warmed corn tortillas with fresh seasoned white fish, or alternate with salmon or grilled shrimp. Stuffed with shredded cabbage and topped with what's on hand and a squeeze of lime, it's a tasty meal on a weeknight after work or when friends drop by during the long summer days.

Fish tacos are simple, prep-wise, since most ingredients can be readied in advance. Kids can help you chop, stir and arrange toppings in serving bowls on a buffet table. They also might want to make a few handwritten signs on folded index cards to identify the contents.

GRILLED FISH TACOS

Makes 12

- 1-1/2 pounds tilapia, cod, halibut or catfish fillets
- 1-1/2 tablespoons olive or vegetable oil

- 1 teaspoon ground cumin and/or chili powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 2 cups finely shredded cabbage
- 12 tortillas of your choice
- 2 limes, cut into wedges

Extra favorite toppings such as sour cream, salsa, sriracha sauce, radish slices, chopped scallions, sliced avocado, Cotija or feta cheese, snipped fresh cilantro, etc.

Brush fish with oil, and season with cumin and/or chili powder, salt and pepper. Grill on medium heat. Transfer fish to a warm platter and separate into bite-size chunks.

Meanwhile, heat tortillas in oven, or char on a grill rack on each side until warmed and softened. Wrap in a clean towel to keep warm.

Fill tortillas with fish, cabbage, a squeeze of lime juice and additional toppings to taste.

Cook's Notes:

- Instead of grilling, cook seasoned fish in a frying pan with 1 tablespoon of oil until golden.
- Substitute white fish with grilled seasoned salmon or medium-size shrimp.

Each year in on the second Friday in July we celebrate Collector Car Appreciation Day. This day recognizes the vital role automotive restoration and collection plays in American society.

Americans have had a fascination with automobiles since the first U.S. horseless carriage was demonstrated in 1893 by the Duryea Motor Wagon Company. The romance of the motor took us from rough country roads to iconic highways and byways. We were also able to stretch our legs and cross the country more independently than ever before. The urge to go faster, fleeter and finer were inspirations for design and ingenuity. Additionally, assembly lines made cars more affordable.

The appeal of the automobile influenced the American sense of adventure. Nostalgia, perseverance, and exploration are the topics of the day. Surprisingly, the automobile and the horse shared the road for a time causing much confusion. Stop signs and signal lights were non-existent. Rules of the road were not yet established. Still, motor companies began to tailor their designs to a public demanding a particular style.

Today, the collectors of these bygone eras keep history and memories alive. They restore and maintain old metal, engines, and blinkers. Crank, push-button, or throttle starters once rusting in a barn rev to life. Specialists take great care to find the right part or color, and skilled artists put their hard labor to work restoring a single collector car. They spend hours on end painting, repairing, rebuilding, and welding to recreate the final result of a pristine collector car.

This day recognizes those individuals dedicated to preserving a piece of American history. We associate each era with a certain car. Whether we ride in a Prohibition-era Cadillac Sedan, a 1950s era muscle car, or in our grandfather's pickup truck, they take us back.

HOW TO OBSERVE CAR COLLECTOR APPRECIATION DAY

Give a shout out to a dedicated restorer you know. Recognize their talent and knowledge. Attend a collector car event or show. Share your tips and videos. While you're celebrating, take a ride in your classic car. Post photos of your collector car on social media using #CollectorCarAppreciationDay.

CAR COLLECTOR APPRECIATION DAY HISTORY

Since 2009, SEMA Action Network (SAN) has sponsored Collector Car Appreciation Day. Per the request of The SEMA Action Network (SAN), each year the U.S. Senate has passed a Resolution helping to launch the day. For more information visit www.semanetwork.com.

THAT'S NOT RIGHT! They're stealing from you, internet servers, cell phones, appliances, social media websites, buying stuff online, etc. Everywhere you go, everything you do, is being recorded at your expense. Your data, you are the product, everything about you they want to know, so they can make money off you. They sell your data to anyone and everyone who uses your information so that can make money. It's your data, so shouldn't you get a percentage of the money profits? But no, you don't get a dime, even though it's your data, they steal your information and you get absolutely nothing in return. They are the only ones making a profit off of you and what's really incredible, is you give them your data, freely! Tim, 208-217-8942, text only
