Water Wisdom
Remember To Boat Safe This Labor Day
— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

As summer winds down, we all want to squeeze in a few more adventures out on the water. In preparation for the last hurrah of Labor Day weekend, or just the final moments with family and friends under the summer sun, keep these safety tips and boating laws in mind.

Remember, water skiing and other towed recreation are not allowed from sunset to sunrise. If you are boating after sunset or before sunrise, all watercraft must have navigation lights.

Planning a sober ride both on the water and off keeps your family safe and ready for the next adventure. The effect of alcohol and drugs are increased while recreating outdoors in the hot, sunny weather. It can take 1/3 as much alcohol while boating to become intoxicated. The legal limit for operating a motorized boat and a vehicle is 0.08 percent alcohol by volume (ABV).

Share the water this Labor Day. Motorized boats are required to keep 75 feet from anglers. Check the boating regulations for wake restrictions. Motorized boats, including personal watercraft (PWC) such as jet skis and Sea-Doos, must stay out of designated swimming areas and away from towed persons or water skiers.

Motorboats and PWCs may not emit noise in excess of 86 decibels measured at 50 feet of distance. More restrictive noise standards are in effect for Flathead Lake, Echo Lake and Swan Lake.

Please review the boating regulations for more information. This can be found at: <https://fwp.mt.gov/activities/boating/rules-regulations>

Everyone deserves to enjoy Montana's incredible outdoor recreational opportunities. Please be safe in the final days of summer, and wear your life-jackets while on the water!

3AM- THREE ANGELS messages, is the everlasting Gospel of Revelation 14:6-12. My question to you is, why haven't you heard anything about this? The answer is simple, as found in 2 Corinthians 4:4. The Bible tells is that the god of this world (Satan) has blinded the minds of people, so that the good news of Jesus Christ is not heard of by you. Or, if you have heard it, Satan makes sure that you will reject it. Either way, Satan wants you in hellfire with him. God tells us that Satan deceives the whole world and you think that doesn't include you? Think about it, who is it that keeps you from personal, daily, Bible study? Christ or Satan? Bottom line, Jesus Christ says, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge and since you reject knowledge, I also will reject you," and Satan is determined to keep you in ignorance of Bible truths that would save your lives. PCBs

Poly Chloriated Biphenyls

FOR SEWER USERS

THE PCB CHALLENGE

PCBs CAN BE FOUND IN EVERYDAY PRODUCTS

How Do PCBs Enter the Wastewater System?

- Atmospheric deposition
 - RESIDUE RINSED OFF IN SHOWERS AND THROUGH HUMAN WASTE
- Consumer products used in our homes
 - DYES WASHED FROM CLOTHING AND FIRE RETARDANT MATERIALS
- Stormwater runoff
 - PIGMENTS FROM RECYCLED NEWSPRINT

DID YOU KNOW?

YELLOW DYES HAVE HIGHER CONCENTRATIONS OF PCBs!

The "PCB Regulatory Paradox".

While EPA allows PCB levels up to 50 ppm in products, Federal PCB water quality regulations allow only 0.000000064 ppm for any wastewater discharge

PCB Regulatory Relationships (in parts-per-million)
Federal Allowance in Products	50 ppm
Federal Allowance in Drinking Water	0.0005 ppm
ID State Human Health Water Quality Criteria (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.00000019 ppm
Federal Human Health Water Quality Criteria (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.000000064 ppm
Spokane Tribe Water Quality Standard (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.000000007 ppm

THIS IS OFTEN REFERRED TO AS "PCB-FREE".

IMAGINE...
1 part-per-million =
1 inch in 16 miles
1 minute in two years
1 ounce in 32 tons
$0.01 in $10,000

What can I do?

THE PCB SOURCE INFORMATION IS BEING DISCOVERED ALL THE TIME, SO STAY TUNED.

Be a consumer advocate for plain packaging that uses less ink since a lot of common packaging contains PCBs due to inks and dyes.

Don't rinse chemicals, solvents, oil, paints, etc. down your home drains.

Learn what, why and where to dispose of hazardous waste at www.kcgov.us/departments/solidwaste/hazmat.asp.

WINNERS CUTEST PET CONTEST 2025

The votes are in, and we are pleased to announce the winners for this year's Nickel's Worth Cutest Pet Contest! All the entries were (as usual) adorable, and we were very grateful that we didn't have to judge, just tally the votes.

Congratulations to our winners, and thank you to everyone who submitted an entry. And thank you also to our amazing sponsors: Duncan's Pet Shop, GoodDog Pet Supplies Plus, Star's Pet Grooming, North Idaho Pet Stop and Wild Birds Unlimited. Winners' owners, please give us a call at 208-667-0651 to arrange prize pickup.

Pets of the Week: Milo and Duchess — Better Together Animal Alliance—

Meet Milo! He's a 5 year old mixed-breed who weighs 88 pounds. Milo grew up around other canines and has been compatible with them, however cats are not recommended in the same household. We believe Milo would do well with another dog around his similar size and temperament after a proper introduction. He's an intelligent guy, he's house-trained and knows several different commands! He's an affectionate guy once he warms up to you and he'll lean up against you to get petted. Come by to spend some time with him today!

Meet Duchess! This sweet lady is 2 years old, and is six pounds. Duchess is a very vocal little lady, and loves to be snuggled once she gets to know you. Duchess is an independent young lady, although she does get along with other animals, and children, we believe Duchess would do well in a home where she can receive lots of love and attention. Come by our care center to meet her today!

Avanti is a gentle, mellow kitten with a tender heart and a shy disposition, favoring quiet corners over noisy crowds. Her serene nature makes her an ideal companion for those seeking peace and calm. Avanti's gentleness reflects her resilience, and her mellow personality encourages slowing down to savor simple moments. Though shy, she is full of affection, waiting patiently for the right person to share it with. Adopting Avanti means inviting a loving, peaceful presence into your home—her soft purrs promise comfort and companionship for anyone looking to welcome a tranquil feline friend. Avanti's adoption fees have been sponsored by Aerocet in Priest River, Idaho.

Our hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 11:00am to 4:00pm. Walk-ins are welcome to see the adoptable animals. We have a wonderful Critters Thrift Store full of hidden treasures.

Tyrion is a loyal and affectionate Anatolian Shepherd who forms strong bonds with his family. While he can be a bit stubborn, he thrives with older children and enjoys plenty of attention. Sensitive and empathetic, Tyrion loves cuddling but finds car rides stressful—probably because of vet visits. He adores outdoor adventures like hiking and playing fetch, and with a gentle introduction, he can become comfortable around livestock and poultry. Ideally, Tyrion would thrive in a peaceful country home with ample space and an active family ready to share adventures. To meet this wonderful companion, please complete an online application and visit our facility

Pets of the Week: Darcy and Moki

— Companions Animal Center —

Darcy

My foster mom says I'm amazing! I'm learning to potty outside, sleeping through the night, and growing into a happy, healthy pup. I'm curious, playful, and love being part of the action. Like all young dogs, I'll need patience, guidance, and socialization to help me grow into my best self. Daily exercise, plenty of playtime, and a whole lot of love will keep me thriving. Before bringing me home, please be sure you have the time, space, and resources to care for me for my lifetime. I'm ready and waiting to meet my forever family at the shelter!

Moki

Moki is a big, lovable older gentleman with an even bigger heart. He's searching for a quiet, adult-only home where he can feel safe and cherished. Moki is on an important weight-loss journey and will thrive with a family committed to regular exercise, a healthy routine, and plenty of patience and encouragement. He has so much love to give in return. Before bringing him home, please be sure you have the time, space, and resources to care for him throughout his lifetime. Moki is ready to be your loyal and devoted companion.

Adoptions by appointment. Companions Animal Center is located at 10275 N Atlas Rd, Hayden, ID. We are open to the public Tuesday-Saturday noon-6pm, Sunday noon-4pm, and closed Mondays. Visit www.companionsanimalcenter.org or call 208-772-4019 for more information.

Bad Blooms Steer Clear of HABs

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

Harmful algal blooms, or HABs, occur when colonies of algae — simple plants that live in the water — grow out of control and produce toxic or harmful effects on people, fish, mammals and birds. According to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, human illnesses caused by HABs, though rare, can be debilitating or even fatal.

Cyanobacteria, or blue-green algae, are the most common type of algae that cause harm in freshwater lakes and rivers. These are naturally occurring in Montana and are safe in low densities. However, a harmful algal bloom of cyanobacteria can be toxic to humans and animals.

Blooms occur when water temperatures rise and are full of nutrients such as nitrogen or phosphorous. This is most common in slow-moving water.

For your safety this late summer and fall, steer clear of water that looks discolored, contains scum or has a bad smell. The algae may change the color of the water to red, green, blue or other colors and can grow on or below the surface of the water.

To prevent exposure, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends:

- Staying out of discolored, scummy or smelly water and keeping pets away
- Checking for and follow swimming and fishing advisories

If you are exposed to a harmful algal bloom, make sure you rinse off with tap water right away.

To make a report or view current reports and advisories of HAB in Montana, visit: <https://dphhs.mt.gov/publichealth/Epidemiology/hab/>

If you think you have symptoms caused by a harmful algal bloom, contact a healthcare provider or the Poison Control hotline at 1-800-222-1222.

If your pets or livestock seem sick after going in or near water, contact a veterinarian right away. You can also call the ASPCA Animal Poison Control Center at 1-888-426-4435 or the Pet Poison Helpline at 1-855-764-7661. Note that there is a fee for these calls.

Take Dinner Outdoors With Grilled Chicken Skewers

— Family Features —

(Family Features) Keep the heat out of your kitchen this summer with these grilled Chicken Skewers. Enjoy them on their own, pair with rice, serve as chicken tacos or toss in a salad for nearly endless, delicious possibilities. Visit Culinary.net to find more summer flavor inspiration.

Chicken Skewers

Recipe courtesy of "Cookin' Savvy"

Servings: 4-6

- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste
- 1/2 cup apple cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon mustard
- 2 teaspoons onion powder
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 2 teaspoons smoked paprika
- 2 teaspoons barbecue seasoning
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/4 cup teriyaki sauce (optional)
- 2 pounds boneless chicken
- rice, for serving (optional)

In saucepan over medium heat, cook brown sugar, tomato paste, apple cider vinegar, mustard, onion powder, garlic powder, paprika, barbecue seasoning, honey and teriyaki sauce until well combined.

Cube chicken and place in large bowl. Pour sauce over chicken, saving some for basting. Marinate at least 1 hour.

Heat grill to medium heat.

Place marinated chicken cubes on skewers and arrange on baking sheet. Grill until chicken reaches 165 F internal temperature, 20-30 minutes. Baste with remaining sauce as needed. Serve over rice or use for chicken tacos.

Substitution: Use hot honey instead of regular honey to spice it up.

When Wildfires Strike, Use These Tips to Breathe Better at Home

— Statepoint Media —

(StatePoint) Recent, out-of-control wildfires in Canada are bringing hazy, dangerous air to American communities, prompting air quality alerts and advisories in multiple states nationwide. With the size and number of wildfires increasing, and fire seasons lengthening, experts advise taking action so you can protect your household.

“One of the single most effective strategies for improving your indoor air quality and breathing better every day, but particularly during events such as wildfires, is investing in the right air purifier,” says Ed Vlacić, CEO of Lasko Products, parent company of Guardian Technologies.

When it comes to something as important as your family's health and safety, you should shop for products made by experienced manufacturers that make it their business to over perform. In 2005, GermGuardian set a goal to change the air purifier industry using rigorous and respected testing methods, performed by labs in the United States that exceed industry standards. Today, all its devices are designed and engineered domestically and are ENERGY STAR CERTIFIED, CARB (California Air Resource Board) Certified, ETL Certified and Zero Ozone Verified. While some competitors remove less than 90% of particles, independent testing shows that GermGuardian's air purifiers remove more than 99.97%. That's thanks to the devices' advanced HEPA filtration system, which are designed to efficiently capture smoke particles, allergens and various pollutants.

One model that is particularly well-equipped to help ensure clean, healthy indoor air during wildfires is the GermGuardian 22" 4-in-1 Air Purifier (AC4825E). For added protection, users can pair it with a Smoke Clear HEPA Genuine Replacement Filter, which has over 125 pleats and 8.0 square feet of filter media surface area, and is designed to specifically remove the particles, principal toxins, and some of the leading cancer-causing gases found in wildfire smoke, such as formaldehyde, acetaldehyde and acrolein. Also equipped with UV-C light technology, the AC4825E helps reduce airborne viruses, and its pre-filter traps dust, pet hair, and other large particles, while ensuring long-lasting performance of the HEPA filter. If you're looking for a quick solution for recent wildfires, both products are available on Amazon for fast delivery and will start working immediately to help ensure clean air in your home.

In addition to investing in a high-performance air purifier, you can also make a few lifestyle adjustments and home improvements for better indoor air.

Weather strip and caulk windows and doors. It's not only an effective strategy for reducing energy bills, it will go a long way toward improving indoor air quality, especially when the air outside is hazy and smoky. During times when wildfires are impacting local air quality, you may also want to limit or avoid activities that create smoke or fine particles indoors, including burning candles, smoking, vaping, or using a gas-burning stove. The EPA also recommends during these times to set your HVAC system to recirculate mode and to use portable AC units with one hose sparingly. According to Guardian Technologies, your HVAC system should also always be equipped with a high-quality filter.

Raging wildfires that impact people hundreds and even thousands of miles away are no longer a rare occurrence. Fortunately, there are effective actions you can take right now to breathe better at home.

Huckleberry Hounds Juicy Information For Berry Pickers

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

It's huckleberry season in western Montana. Though nearly all hucks grow in the state's north-western region, picking is a statewide calling. Picking berries is easy, but it helps to know where to look.

Here are some tips:

- Huckleberries are most abundant between 3,500 and 7,000 feet.
- Look for conifer forests with roughly 50 percent tree cover. The berries ripen in open or semi-open areas of old burns, old clear-cuts and avalanche chutes.
- Collect on south-facing slopes at lower elevations starting around mid-summer, then move to other slopes and higher elevations as the season progresses.
- Try not to encroach on other pickers territory.
- As you pick, put the berries in a 1-quart plastic container with a U-shaped flap cut in the lid. Picking is often on hillsides. If you slip or stumble, your hard-earned hucks won't spill onto the ground.
- Keep in mind that humans aren't the only ones looking for huckleberries. Watch out for grizzlies, make noise and carry bear pepper spray.

RECIPE: Wild Montana Huckleberry Coffee Cake

Ingredients:

Streusel:

- 1/3 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon

- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons butter, softened
- Cake:
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon table salt
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 4 tablespoons butter, softened
- 1 large egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 cup wild Montana huckleberries, fresh or frozen

Instructions

- Preheat the oven to 375°F. Lightly grease a 9" square or 9" round cake pan.
1. Streusel topping: In a small bowl, mix the dry ingredients then cut in the butter until it reaches a crumbly state. Set aside.
 2. To make the cake: In a medium-sized mixing bowl, whisk together the flour, baking powder, and salt.
 3. In a separate bowl or the bowl of your stand mixer, beat together the sugar, butter, egg, and vanilla.
 4. Alternately add the milk and the flour mixture to the sugar/butter mixture, ending with flour. Add huckleberries. Stir only enough to blend.
 5. Pour the batter into the prepared pan. Sprinkle the streusel topping over the batter.
 6. Bake for 40 to 45 minutes, or until a toothpick or knife inserted into the center comes out clean.
 7. Let cool for 10 minutes.

EarthTalk®

Questions & Answers About Our Environment

Dear EarthTalk: Is it really possible to store large amounts of carbon dioxide (CO2) in building materials like concrete and plastic? If so, why don't we do more of it already?

- P.L., via email

The construction industry, a major contributor to carbon emissions, has an untapped potential to become a powerful ally in fighting climate change. By incorporating carbon-storing materials like concrete, bio-based plastics and asphalt, it's possible to transform buildings into carbon "sinks" and work toward meeting the 1.5°C global warming target established in the Paris Agreement in 2015.

Concrete, the world's most-used building material, offers significant potential for carbon sequestration. Researchers are exploring "carbonated aggregates" which are materials infused with CO2 during production, that can enhance carbon storage. Professor Sabbie Miller of UC Davis says, "The potential is pretty large. If feasible, a little bit of storage in concrete could go a long way." Studies suggest including carbon-storing aggregates in just 10 percent of concrete could sequester up to a gigaton of CO2 annually.

Other materials, like bio-based plastics and wood, also show promise. Bio-based plastics, derived from biomass, can store CO2 during production, offering a green alternative to petroleum-based plastics. And sustainably sourced wood retains carbon absorbed during the tree's growth, providing a natural reservoir when used in construction. Asphalt innovations further contribute by including CO2 in road materials.

These advancements have both ecological and economic benefits. Carbon-storing solutions promote an economy that reuses resources and reduces waste by reducing emissions associated with traditional materials. They also promote green industries and jobs. Professor Miller notes, "These new processes would enhance material value, creating economic growth while promoting circular economy practices."

However, challenges remain. Scaling these solutions requires significant investment, and industry inertia and higher initial costs slow adoption. Ensuring the long-term stability of stored carbon also has technical hurdles. The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) states that utilizing carbon-storing materials is crucial for meeting the 1.5°C climate goal by actively removing CO2 from the atmosphere.

By integrating carbon-storing materials into construction, we can drastically reduce emissions, foster sustainable industries and create a greener future. To support this transition, advocate for policies promoting low-carbon materials and educate others about their benefits. Opt for sustainable materials in personal projects and encourage their use in local developments. And push for increased investment in technologies that make carbon sequestration feasible on a global scale. Together, these actions can transform the construction industry from a carbon emitter into a solution for climate change.

Fruity Fuel for School Keep students energized and engaged with sweet watermelon snacks

— Family Features —

(Family Features) School days bring excitement for students with classroom fun, exploration of new subjects, time with friends and extracurricular activities like sports and clubs. They also mean hectic schedules for families, especially parents looking to keep nutrition top of mind in spite of jam-packed weeknight calendars.

Help your kiddos stay energized for each school day (including those dreaded homework hours) with nutritious snacks that prioritize hydration. As a satisfying sweet treat thanks to its taste and nutritional value, watermelon provides a year-round solution to rehydrate as part of simple, kid-friendly meals and snacks.

Sweet watermelon, salty cottage cheese and pops of berries make this Watermelon Berry Fruit Salad with Cottage Cheese hard to top after a long day in the classroom. A sprinkle of fresh mint is a perfect final addition to this after-school treat.

Or for an easy, fast, no-mess meal that can be prepared for homework sessions or taken as a lunchbox treat, look no further than Watermelon Kebabs. Just cube watermelon, turkey breast and cheddar cheese and thread on coffee stirrers or beverage straws then share with your loved ones while tackling dinner and prepping for the next day of learning.

Any way you slice it, watermelon is a nutrient-dense food you can feel confident stocking in your kitchen and feeding to your family. It provides 21 grams (8% of the recommended daily value) of natural carbohydrates and is especially energizing when paired with protein like cottage cheese or turkey for a balanced snack.

Plus, with just 80 calories in two cups, it's a high-volume food that can fill you up at mealtime. Once you've enjoyed the delicious watermelon flesh, make sure to avoid waste by using the rind in recipes like stir fries or salads, or encourage little ones to get creative with watermelon rind crafts to let their creativity shine.

Find more school year snacks and meals by visiting Watermelon.org.

Watermelon Berry Fruit Salad with Cottage Cheese

Water Wisdom Remember To Boat Safe This Labor Day

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

As summer winds down, we all want to squeeze in a few more adventures out on the water. In preparation for the last hurrah of Labor Day weekend, or just the final moments with family and friends under the summer sun, keep these safety tips and boating laws in mind.

Remember, water skiing and other towed recreation are not allowed from sunset to sunrise. If you are boating after sunset or before sunrise, all watercraft must have navigation lights.

Planning a sober ride both on the water and off keeps your family safe and ready for the next adventure. The effect of alcohol and drugs are increased while recreating outdoors in the hot, sunny weather. It can take 1/3 as much alcohol while boating to become intoxicated. The legal limit for operating a motorized boat and a vehicle is 0.08 percent alcohol by volume (ABV).

Share the water this Labor Day. Motorized boats are required to keep 75 feet from anglers. Check the boating regulations for wake restrictions. Motorized boats, including personal watercraft (PWC) such as jet skis and Sea-Doos, must stay out of designated swimming areas and away from towed persons or water skiers.

Motorboats and PWCs may not emit noise in excess of 86 decibels measured at 50 feet of distance. More restrictive noise standards are in effect for Flathead Lake, Echo Lake and Swan Lake.

Please review the boating regulations for more information. This can be found at: <https://fwp.mt.gov/activities/boating/rules-regulations>

Everyone deserves to enjoy Montana's incredible outdoor recreational opportunities. Please be safe in the final days of summer, and wear your life-jackets while on the water!

Cool Down This Summer with a Sweet Slushie

— Family Features —

Each season throughout the year seems to have its own “flavor,” and summer is no exception. Hamburgers and hot dogs off the grill, refreshing watermelon at snack time and cool, delicious ice cream on warm evenings.

While many people think of sweetpotatoes during the holidays, you can make this sweet vegetable a key ingredient all year-round – including summertime. As one of the most versatile veggies you can find, they’re easy to add to a variety of recipes while enhancing flavor and boosting nutrition content.

Sweet potatoes can be your summer staple in both simple and elevated recipes alike, as well as in both sweet and savory dishes. They can be cooked or prepared in several ways: on the stove, baked, microwaved, grilled or slow cooked.

Or, for an easy way to cool down in the heat, try them in a creamy drink like this Sweetpotato Summer Slushie. It may surprise you, but sweetpotatoes are ideal for sipping – smoothies and cocktails are both crowd-pleasers, especially during sweltering summer days. This refreshing treat can be made with or without the boozy kick; just break out the blender and kick back in the sunshine.

To discover more ways to cook and enjoy sweetpotatoes all summer long, visit ncsweetpotatoes.com.

Sweetpotato Summer Slushie

Recipe courtesy of the “North Carolina Sweetpotato Commission”

Servings: 4-6

- 1 cup cooked, mashed North Carolina sweetpotatoes
 - 1 cup pineapple juice
 - 1/2 cup orange juice
 - 1/4 cup lemon juice
 - 1/4 cup coconut milk
 - 2-3 tablespoons simple syrup or honey (adjust to taste)
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 2 cups crushed ice
 - 2 ounces spiced rum, coconut rum or bourbon (optional)
 - pineapple slices or orange wedges, for garnish (optional)
1. Coarsely chop potatoes. In Dutch oven, boil until fork tender. Drain then add coarsely chopped eggs and pickles.
 2. Add garlic powder, onion powder, bacon pieces, mayonnaise and mustard. Season with salt and pepper, to taste. Mix well.
 3. Transfer to large bowl and refrigerate 1-2 hours. Garnish with smoked paprika.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Lucie Winborne

- James Doohan, beloved by Star Trek fans as “Scotty,” was awarded an honorary doctorate by the Milwaukee School of Engineering after it was discovered that half of the school’s students had been inspired to pursue engineering careers by the fictional character he portrayed.
- A boy born with only 2% of his brain defied doctors’ expectations when the organ grew to 80% of the average size.
- The first written ice cream recipe was found in a 1665 recipe book.
- Rocking chairs were used in mental facilities and hospitals to soothe and comfort patients long before their widespread adoption in homes.
- Some asteroids get pulled into a planet’s gravity and become their moons.
- White-tailed jackrabbits are the greatest land jumpers, having been recorded leaping 21 feet vertically.
- In early 1949, Victor T. Hoefflich introduced the “Man-from-Mars Radio Hat,” featuring a portable radio built into a pith helmet. It retailed for $7.95 and was sold across the country for a while, but lost popularity due to its technical limitations, which included losing its signal and making annoying squealing noises.
- A man was jailed for two years for cheating at poker. His method? Using infrared contact lenses to see cards pre-marked with invisible ink.
- The Finnish word “kalsarikännit” means to get drunk alone at home in your underwear.
- In Alaska, plants can grow exceptionally large due to receiving up to 20 hours of sunlight daily, which greatly enhances their photosynthesis process.
- When Nebraska implemented a law allowing parents to leave unwanted newborns at safe havens, no age limit was specified. Within just weeks, 36 kids had been dropped off, but not one was a newborn and the oldest was 17.

Baseball Mitts and Faithful Hands

— Marilyn Giuliani —

Life is a lot like Baseball
There are wins and losses
The positive, faith-driven force supports you on.
Hard work, perseverance attitude,
Never give up—
Faith in God, yourself and others.
Teamwork, together and stronger.
Life and Baseball have challenges
They're met, solved in a faith lived strategy.
Strikes may put you out feeling defeated
Followed by home-runs, knocking the ball out of the Ball Park.
One ends by shining, winning
And making the World brighter.

Summer Organization Made Easy: 5 creative ways to simplify a busy summer

— Family Features —

Schedules filling up with events and celebrations, vacation planning in full effect and mile-high to-do lists can only mean one thing: summer is in full swing. While summer brings plenty of fun, it can also lead to feeling disorganized and overwhelmed without the structure of the school year.

Keep stress at bay and bring a sense of order to your summer adventures with these simple, creative hacks from EXPO.

Streamline the Kitchen

When family members are coming and going throughout the day, the kitchen and pantry quickly become high-traffic zones. Between breakfasts on the go, afternoon snack raids and (hopefully) a few sit-down dinners, organizing your refrigerator, cabinets and pantry can bring calm to the chaos. Label bins, jot notes on pantry or refrigerator doors and create a snack inventory so everyone knows what's available and nothing goes to waste.

Keep Up with Every Activity

Summer gets hectic fast – with sports practices, parties, camps, dinners and weekend trips all piling on, it's tough to keep track of everything. Hang a whiteboard calendar in a high-traffic spot like the kitchen or mudroom and use EXPO Wet Erase Markers for clean, color-coded scheduling everyone can follow. Their fine tips make it easy to write detailed notes while the no-smudge ink stays put – perfect for busy areas where schedules can be seen all day long. The writing won't budge until you wipe it off with water, keeping summer plans visible, organized and stress-free.

Create a Packing List for Road Trips

If you're planning a summer getaway, avoid the last-minute scramble by writing out a packing checklist on a whiteboard, window or mirror. Keep essentials sorted by category – clothes, toiletries, travel documents – and encourage family members to check off what they've packed.

Organize the Party to Add Personality

When it comes to summer birthdays, backyard barbecues or holiday gatherings, a little prep goes a long way in keeping things stress-free. Use EXPO Wet Erase Markers to create welcome signs or menus directly on windows, label wine glasses for easy drink tracking or jot down to-do lists on glass surfaces to stay on top of hosting tasks. With bold, water-removable ink that adheres to glass, windows and more, it's easy to create festive, colorful details that are mess-free – a perfect way to stay organized while adding flair to any celebration.

Keep Your To-Do's in Check

From yardwork to grocery runs, summer still comes with its fair share of tasks. Stay ahead of the hustle by creating organized, visual to-do lists on surfaces like whiteboards, windows, mirrors or glass cabinet doors. Jot down priorities and divide them by timeframe or person – think “today,” “this week” or by name. Keeping lists visible in the right spots can help everyone stay on track and free up more time for sun and fun.

Take control of your summer and find more solutions for staying organized at expomarkers.com.
