FWP Accepting Open Water Fishing Contest Applications

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

Deadline is November 1st

HELENA – Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is accepting open water fishing contests applications for the 2024 season. Participants must comply with state fishing regulations, including daily and possession limits.

Applications for fishing contests may be approved, approved with conditions or denied by the FWP Fisheries Division in Helena. Conditions placed on contests may help to minimize fish mortality, regulate harvest, reduce user conflicts and/or require additional access site maintenance when needed.

Information on the proposed fishing contests can be found on the FWP Fishing Contest webpage, <https://fwp.mt.gov/fish/regulations/contests> or by calling 406-444-2449. All applications must be received on or before November 1st.

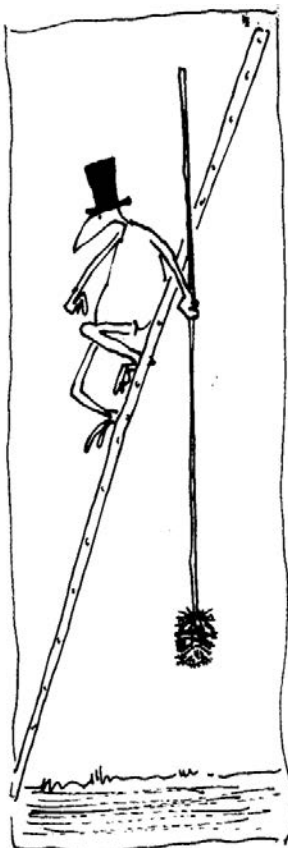

Applications may be mailed to FWP Fisheries Division, Attn: Fishing Contests, P.O. Box 200701, Helena, MT 59620-0701, or emailed to fwpfsh@mt.gov.

POST FALLS ALTERNATIVES

OPEN HOUSE

Learn more.
Ask questions.
Provide input.

The Idaho Transportation Department (ITD) and the city of Post Falls invite you to learn more, ask questions and provide input on two preliminary alternative designs for I-90 and the primary routes in the Post Falls area. Feedback will also be used for an ongoing update to the transportation master plan for the city of Post Falls.

Until additional funding is approved, any advancement of the ITD I-90 corridor study through Post Falls beyond this preliminary planning phase will remain on hold.

Scan for more information and to get project updates →

Crispy Plantain Chips Are a Global Family Treat

Go for an international twist when you embark on your next family cooking adventure. Discover healthy plantains! You've no doubt seen them in the produce section of your grocery store and possibly mistaken them a time or two for unripe green bananas. But don't be fooled by their appearance. Unlike bananas, they have thick skins, and they're not eaten raw.

Part of the banana family, plantains are typically grown around the globe in equatorial regions of Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean. Different cultures have their favorite preparation methods of baking, boiling or frying the fruit. Since my trip to the Democratic Republic of Congo, I've been preparing the nutritious food the same way I enjoyed it with the families I visited -- as yummy, crispy chips!

Plantain chips are versatile as a snack with a sprinkle of salt and a squeeze of lime for a Caribbean twist, or served as a side with rice and a main dish, such as peanut chicken stew, which is common in West Africa. The chips are equally tasty with a scoop of guacamole, salsa or your favorite dipping sauce.

PLANTAIN CHIPS Makes 6 1/2-cup servings

- 2 medium, ripe plantains (if purchased green, let ripen on the counter to a yellow-green color)

- Vegetable oil

- Salt

Cut off the ends and carefully peel the plantains with a knife. Thinly slice into 1/8-inch equal-sized rounds. I use my mandoline on its thin setting for ease and consistency in size. Plan on approximately 50 chips per plantain.

Pour about 1/2 inch of oil in a deep skillet or medium-sized saucepan. Heat the oil on medium to 350° F. Fry rounds in one-layer batches (do not overcrowd) until the chips turn a deeper yellow and the edges are slightly brown. They cook quickly, about 3-4 minutes per batch.

Remove with a slotted spoon and drain on paper towels.

Salt lightly to taste and serve immediately.

Note: This recipe should be prepared by an adult or your kitchen-savvy teen. The younger ones can sprinkle salt and serve.

National Pumpkin Spice Day
October 1st
— National Day Calendar —

What do cinnamon, ginger, cloves, allspice, nutmeg, and October 1 have in common? They are all part of National Pumpkin Spice Day.

We divide the world into factions. Left vs. right. Solar vs. gas. Privacy vs. freedom of information. But if you really want to turn a conversation on its head, divide the room into pumpkin spice vs. anti-pumpkin spice.

Right about the time school starts (and some of them start in early August), pumpkin spice lovers begin waxing poetically about fall and their favorite flavor. It's not all on the shoulders of the pumpkin spice lover, though. Coffee shops, bakeries, and stores on every corner begin selling their pumpkin spice merchandise.

Pumpkin spice ushers in the savory-sweet season of autumn like no other spice combination does. It conjures up images of fall foliage littering paths on a cool morning. But pumpkin spice isn't just a flavor - it's a personal style. The burnt umber, harvest gold, and cinnamon toast sprinkles home décor, apparel, and even decorates parties and weddings.

When you boil it down, though, pumpkin spice comprises wholesome ingredients that remind us of a warm hearth and the bounty of the harvest. What could be better than that?

How To Observe National Pumpkin Spice Day

These days, pumpkin spice can be celebrated in any number of ways. We even offer a list to get you started.

- Mix up your own pumpkin spice blend using cinnamon, ginger, cloves, allspice, and nutmeg.
- Bake a pumpkin pie.
- Experiment with pumpkin spice flavor in your favorite baked goods recipes.
- Try this Pumpkin Bread recipe (www.national-daycalendar.com/recipes/pumpkin-bread).
- Slip into the nearest coffee shop for their best pumpkin spice brew.

However you celebrate, be sure to use #NationalPumpkinSpiceDay on social media.

National Pumpkin Spice Day History

National Day Calendar continues to research the origins of this national day.

Winners Announced For Second 2023 Super Hunt Drawing

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

The second wave of Idaho Super Hunt drawing winners have been picked.

Of the 42,439 total entries, 10,635 were for two deer tags, 14,554 were for two elk tags, 4,093 were for two pronghorn tags, 8,682 were for one moose tag and 4,475 entries were for one Super Hunt Combo, which includes a tag for each of the four species.

Super Hunt winners by species, number drawn and state were:

- Deer: 2 – Idaho
- Elk: 2 – Idaho
- Pronghorn: 1 – Idaho; 1 – Montana
- Moose: 1 - Idaho
- Super Combo: 1 - Idaho

All winners have been contacted. State law prohibits Fish and Game from releasing the names of the winners.

Winners can participate in any open hunt in the state for the species that they drew, including general hunts and controlled hunts, in addition to any general season or controlled hunt tags they also hold. All other rules of individual hunts apply.

For more information, including frequently asked questions, and stories and photos of previous winners, visit the Super Hunt page on Fish and Game's website.

NICKEL'S WORTH
6TH ANNUAL

SALUTE to VETERANS
NOV. 9TH 2023

Every year for Veterans' Day, the Nickel's Worth prints a special tribute to all of our local veterans and current service members. To be included, just send a picture (in uniform is nice, but definitely not required), along with branch of service, rank, and dates of service. We'll print them all in our November 9th issue, so be sure to get everything to us by November 3rd so we can get it all assembled and looking good.

You can send us pictures via email, to sales@nickelsworth.com; by mail to Nickel's Worth, attn: Salute to Veterans, PO Box 2048, Coeur d'Alene, ID 83816; or drop it off in person at 107 5th Street in CDA (If you'd like your photo back, please include a self-addressed stamped envelope). If you have any questions, please give us a call at 208-667-0651.

The Nickel's Worth would like to thank everyone who has served - this is a small way of doing that!

Save Your Photos Day
Last Saturday in September

— National Day Calendar —

Save Your Photos Day is always on a Saturday in September. This is a great day to back up those digital photos and organize all those boxes of Polaroids.

As part of Save Your Photos Month, the day reminds us these precious memories are perishable. Whether through natural disasters like floods, fires, or tornados or the human ones like spilled liquids and computer viruses, photos in any form are fragile. Backing them up and preserving them is necessary for the long haul.

Some of the older photographs that have made it this far may be missing vital information. Many of our grandparents didn't take the time to write the names of the people in the pictures, never realizing that generations later would be as fascinated by the people in the images as they were by taking them.

There are several ways to create order from the chaos. Take charge of the modern photos now. Label as you go by including names, dates, and information about the event on the picture. Back up the digital photos regularly. Share your favorites and display those that bring a smile.

When it comes to tracking down information on old family pictures, start with relatives. There may be someone who knows someone with a long memory. Take a road trip with your photographs for a visit. Connect through ancestry and family tree websites. Some of the oddest things will help connect one photo to another.

How To Observe Save Your Photos Day

Take time to protect your photographs, whether you use your phone, a digital camera, or film to take pictures. Attend workshops on how to preserve photographs. Scan, preserve, and share the photos with family members to be shared for future generations as well. Other ways to participate include:

- Sharing your skills - Invite others to learn how to organize their photos, research their history, and document the stories.
- Take a class - Learn about photo preservation and editing. Bring those old photos back to life.
- Start scanning - Preserve old photos digitally to share with other family members.
- Make it a habit - Document your photos with dates and names.

Use #SaveYourPhotosDay to share on social media.

National Coffee Day September 29th

— National Day Calendar —

Whether getting one to go or lingering over a second cup, on September 29th be sure to observe National Coffee Day!

Ah, the perfect cup of java. According to an expert cupper (a professional coffee taster), there are four components of a perfect cup: aroma, body, acidity, and flavor.

From the moment the average coffee lover opens a fresh bag of coffee beans, the aroma beckons, percolating the senses. Even those who don't drink coffee tend to enjoy the fragrance roasted beans cast.

Growing, Roasting, And Brewing

When determining the body of a coffee, the bean, the roast, and the brew are all factors. The bean affects the texture of the coffee, whether its silky, creamy, thick or thin on the tongue and throat. However, the darker the roast and how we brew it will alter the feel of a coffee's body, too. Grandpa's motor oil blend versus the coffee shop around the corner's silky smooth, well-practiced grind have entirely different bodies.

Where a coffee bean grows determines its acidity. The higher the elevation the coffee grows, the higher the quality and the acidity. These coffees are considered brighter, dryer, even sparkling by cuppers.

When it comes down to it, coffee lovers cherish the flavor as well as the caffeinated boost this roasted bean gives morning or night, black or with cream and sugar. Hot or cold it provides enjoyment even when decaffeinated!

Coffee History

Many legendary accounts tell how coffee first came to be. However, the earliest credible evidence of either coffee drinking or the knowledge of the coffee tree appears in the middle of the 15th century in the Sufi monasteries around Mokha in Yemen. Here, monks first roasted coffee seeds and brewed coffee, much like we prepare them today. Yemeni traders brought coffee back to their homeland from Ethiopia and began to cultivate the seed.

In 1670, Baba Budan smuggled coffee seeds out of the Middle East by strapping seven seeds onto his chest. The first plants grown from these stowed away seeds were planted in Mysore. Coffee later spread to Italy and the rest of Europe, Indonesia, and the Americas.

While Brazil produces more coffee in the world than any other country, Colombia closely follows. Also, more than 50 countries around the world grow coffee, too. As a result, we choose from a bountiful selection of flavors for the indulgence of steamy cups of the black drink for connoisseurs to consume.

How To Observe National Coffee Day.

Enjoy a cup or two of your favorite coffee. Here is a Coffee Brewing Guide (atlascoffeeclub.com/pages/how-to-make-coffee) to help create your own. Want to learn more about Coffee History? We've collected 11 Historic Coffee Milestones at www.nationalday-calendar.com/lists/11-historic-coffee-milestones for you to savor. Use #NationalCoffeeDay to post on social media.

Canned Beans: Your Secret Weapon for Quick, Budget-Friendly, Nutritious Meals

In the fast-paced whirlwind of life, a can of beans might not seem like a hero ingredient, but trust me, it can be! Canned beans are the unsung champions of your pantry, ready to swoop in and save the day when you're craving a delicious, wallet-friendly and healthy meal in no time.

Canned beans offer a trifecta of benefits. First, they're incredibly cost-effective, making dining well on a budget a reality. Second, their convenience is unrivaled -- no soaking, no boiling, just pop the can open and let the culinary creativity flow. Third, they're a nutritional powerhouse, packed with fiber, protein and essential vitamins, nutrients and minerals, making them an ideal addition to your diet.

While homemade beans certainly have their virtues, the convenience of canned beans is hard to beat. When time is of the essence, canned beans offer a shortcut without sacrificing quality.

The culinary possibilities with canned beans are endless. Create salads, burritos, casseroles, dips and more with the modest canned bean at the core.

Today we're going to whip up a hearty White Bean Soup in a flash then elevate the humble dish with the vibrant flavors of this Provençal herb sauce. This makes a lovely lunch or light supper served with crusty bread and a green salad.

Provençal herb sauce is a vibrant and flavorful condiment with similarities to Italian pesto. It's a fragrant blend of fresh basil, garlic, tomato, red wine vinegar and olive oil, bursting with flavor and flair. This sauce brings a unique twist to this soup, adding a touch of Provençal charm to your culinary adventure.

The end of summer brings an abundance of herbs to our gardens that need to be used quickly. One easy way to preserve them is to make herb sauces like chimichurri, pesto or this Provençal herb sauce. They freeze beautifully, and they're nutrition-packed condiments. Herb sauces are rich in flavonoids with antioxidant properties and vitamin K.

Canned beans offer a trifecta of benefits.

SIMPLE WHITE BEAN SOUP

Yield: 4 (1-1/2 cup) servings

Total Time: 20 minutes

- 1/4 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 2 teaspoons garlic, chopped
- 3 (14.5-ounce) cans Great Northern or other white bean (5 cups)
- 1 (14.5-ounce) can vegetable or chicken broth (1 1/2 cups)
- Kosher salt & fresh ground pepper to taste
- 4 thick slices of crusty bread, grilled or toasted
- Provençal herb sauce (recipe follows)

In a saucepan on medium heat, warm the olive oil. Add garlic and stir until fragrant. Add beans and broth. Bring to a boil then simmer for 5 minutes. Now, you want to puree some of the beans to add creaminess to the soup. Puree about half of the beans with a food processor, blender or immersion blender, or smooch beans on the side of the pot with a fork. It all works! Return the puree to the soup and stir to combine.

Serve the soup topped with lots of pepper, a drizzle of sauce and a big chunk of toasted bread.

PROVENÇAL HERB SAUCE

Yield: 3/4 cup

Total Time: 10 minutes

- 1/4 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1 tablespoon garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon red wine vinegar
- 2 cups basil leaves, torn into pieces
- 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
- 1/4 cup tomato, diced

Pulse oil, garlic, vinegar and basil in a small food processor to a loose paste. Add salt and pepper. Stir in the tomatoes and refrigerate until ready to serve.

Canned beans are a frugal foodie's best friend, so stock your pantry with these versatile legumes and embark on a culinary adventure that's as delicious as it is cost-effective.

Small Dog's Aggression Is a Worry

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I have a small, mixed-breed, mostly terrier named Cookie. He's a darling to me and my son, but to anyone else, he's a terror. He is a rescue, so I don't know what his early life was like or if he was properly socialized. But I'm worried about having company over because he will bark ferociously at any strangers. What can I do to stop this? – Janice L., Trenton, New Jersey

DEAR JANICE: A lack of socialization or an abusive home could be factors in Cookie's aggression. Genetics can also be at play: Some dog breeds were developed to be guard dogs or hunters and may be more aggressive if not trained well.

However, Cookie has accepted you and your son as family, and that is a positive sign. Follow these tips as you begin the process of reducing his aggression.

- Never force Cookie to meet new visitors or strangers on the street. Let him approach visitors on his own, with you supervising.
- Ask visitors (and people on the street) not to approach Cookie or try to pet him.
- Create a safe space where you can put Cookie when visitors arrive. A kennel cage with water, soft bed and favorite toys is ideal.
- If Cookie is physically aggressive (charging or snapping), he must stay in his kennel when visitors come, and should always be leashed and wear a muzzle when walking outdoors.

Next, talk to Cookie's veterinarian about a combination of anti-anxiety medication along with a training routine. I recommend working with a trainer so you can implement effective training methods as quickly as possible. With love, training and care, Cookie can become a confident, less aggressive dog.

Hunters Are Reminded To Ask First, Treat Landowners With Respect When Hunting On Private Land

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Landowners are not liable if they allow hunting access and don't charge a fee

Remember the adage "treat others how you would want to be treated?" Well, that doesn't apply to just elders and grade school teachers. Hunters and private landowners share a unique relationship that often gets overlooked until about a month or so before hunting season opens.

With many of Idaho's hunting seasons in progress or soon to begin, Idaho Fish and Game urges hunters to abide by the above mantra and treat landowners the way they would want to be treated if someone were hunting on their land.

Irresponsible hunters make up just a tiny fraction of the overall hunting community, but their effect on landowners ultimately drive many to close up their land to the rest of the population. Trespassing, litter, property damage and discharging firearms close to livestock or buildings account for most of the trouble. Unfortunately, it's another classic case of careless actions of a few that impact hunting experience for the rest.

"We are fortunate that the majority of hunters are respectful and considerate to landowners," said Sal Palazzolo, State Wildlife Habitat Program Manager for Fish and Game. "But each year, we deal with problems related to irresponsible behavior of a few."

Getting permission to hunt private land may seem daunting, but the extra effort is worth it. According to a survey of rural Idaho landowners, 88% will allow hunting on their property if hunters ask permission first. However, how hunters behave before, during and after the hunt will determine if they are allowed back.

Are landowners liable for hunters on their property?

The answer may not be as complicated as you'd think. If you're a landowner who allows access to your land, either for recreational opportunities, which includes hunting and fishing, without charging or in land-access agreements with the government, then you are not liable.

Idaho Code 36-1604 allows landowners to provide recreational opportunity on their lands in an "as is" condition, without being subject to liability. People who enjoy the benefit of recreating on property for free are responsible for dealing with potential hazards on the property.

For landowners interested in learning more about the potential financial and technical benefits for maintaining, developing or improving fish and wildlife habitat on their lands, check out Fish and Game's Lands and Landowner Programs webpage.

State programs include the Habitat Improvement Program (HIP) and Access Yes! Federal and nongovernmental programs and grants are also available.

Building the foundation of trust between the hunter and the landowner

Before asking, sportsmen should consider the landowner's perspective. Hunting season falls during a very busy time of year for farmers and ranchers, as many are rushing to get their fall work completed before winter. A steady stream of phone calls and hunters appearing randomly at their front door takes time away from getting work done and can be overwhelming.

When asking, be polite, friendly and ask during reasonable hours. Calling or knocking on a rancher's door at 6am the day you want to hunt is the best way to get a door slammed in your face. If you haven't already obtained permission before the season begins, a face-to-face meeting at the landowner's house a few evenings before you plan to hunt is usually appropriate.

Hunters seeking permission are required to get written permission from the landowner, preferably before the season begins. A permission form is available in the 2023 Big Game Season and Rules booklet, at Fish and Game offices and at any county sheriff's office. Other methods of permission are still legal, but written is the best.

"A little courtesy goes a long way, and those hunters who plan ahead and ask permission in advance have a good chance of being let on," said Palazzolo.

If allowed to hunt, both hunters and landowners should clearly understand what "permission" is being given. For instance, is permission for a single day or for the whole season? Is permission only to hunt deer, or is it for elk or just upland game birds? Also, are you asking permission just for yourself, or will others be hunting with you? And never assume because permission was granted last year, that the same applies this year.

"Don't just assume," Palazzolo said. "Iron out all the details with the landowner well in advance."

Landowners want to know who's on their property, and some even manage hunter numbers by setting a limit. The limit makes for a higher quality hunting experience and helps the landowner keep track of who will be on their land and when.

If your request is denied, don't take it personally. Be understanding and remain polite, whether or not the landowner explains the reason for the decision. Remember, your courtesy and show of respect may affect the outcome of future requests.

"Hunting private land is a privilege, not a right," Palazzolo said. "If hunters respect landowners and show their gratitude whether the answer is yes or no, they can establish relationships that both will appreciate."

During the hunt

How a hunter behaves while on private land is critical. This includes knowing where to park, keeping safe distances from pets, livestock and buildings, leaving gates the way they are found and knowing the property boundaries. Keeping vehicles off fire-prone vegetation and muddy roads are other concerns for landowners.

"Remember that you are a guest of the landowner," said Palazzolo. "Follow their wishes, and chances are you'll be invited back."

Landowners also appreciate if you leave the area better than you found it. Again, this is just good manners and shows respect. This includes picking up your empty shell casings and trash and not cleaning birds or other game near roads, ditches or in areas frequented by people or livestock.

Remember, not picking up your empty shell casings is considered littering under Idaho law. If you notice something wrong or out of place, notify the landowner immediately.

After the hunt

Success during a private land hunt is only half-marked by tagging an animal; the real test is how you close up shop and treat the landowner upon your departure.

Hunters who are thoughtful and respectful of a landowner's property have a much higher chance of getting access next hunting season. When you are done hunting, drop by and thank the landowner for allowing you access. Send them a thank-you card, gift certificate to a local restaurant or other tokens of appreciation. Simple gestures go a long way with the landowner and help build a positive image of hunting.

If mentoring a young hunter, consider providing them with an opportunity to ask a landowner for permission and to express their appreciation after the hunt. As part of the mentoring process, it is important that young hunters respect landowners and their land.

National Good Neighbor Day September 28th

— National Day Calendar —

National Good Neighbor Day on September 28th creates an opportunity for neighbors to get to know each other better. This day acknowledges and celebrates the importance of a good neighbor.

It is a blessing to have a good neighbor, but it is even a greater thing to BE a good neighbor. Good neighbors often become friends. They watch out for each other, lend a helping hand, and are there for advice when asked. Neighbors offer that cup of sugar when we are short, collect our mail when we are on vacation, watch our homes, and sometimes watch our children and our pets. Simply put, being a good neighbor makes good neighbors and develops lifelong friendships.

How To Observe Good Neighbor Day

Being a good neighbor isn't all that difficult. Starting with kindness is always the first step.

- Offer a kind word. Even a small compliment goes a long way to creating a bond or breaking down barriers.
- Bring extra bounty from your garden or baked goods.
- Invite them to join an informal celebration in your home.
- Introduce them to your pets or offer a gardening tip.
- Ask who they recommend for a service such as taxes, painting, or car care. You will earn their respect, especially if the question is something they have first-hand experience with.

Use #GoodNeighborDay to post on social media.

National Good Neighbor Day History

In the early 1970s, Becky Mattson of Lakeside, Montana created National Good Neighbor Day. In 1978, United States President Jimmy Carter issued Proclamation 4601:

"As our Nation struggles to build friendship among the peoples of this world, we are mindful that the noblest human concern is concern for others. Understanding, love and respect build cohesive families and communities. The same bonds cement our Nation and the nations of the world. For most of us, this sense of community is nurtured and expressed in our neighborhoods where we give each other an opportunity to share and feel part of a larger family...I call upon the people of the United States and interested groups and organizations to observe such day with appropriate ceremonies and activities."

The date changed in 2003 from the fourth Sunday in September to an annual observance on September 28th.

Neighbor FAQ

Q. Who are some of the best TV neighbors?

A. We have four TV neighbors we think were pretty high quality.

- Kevin Arnold would probably agree that Winnie Cooper (Danica McKeller) of The Wonder Years was a pretty amazing neighbor. As the girl-next-door, Winnie became an integral part of Kevin's life.
- In The Big Bang Theory, neighbors Penny (Kaley Cuoco), Sheldon (Jim Parsons), and Leonard (Johnny Galecki) spent 12 seasons together. Not only did they rely on each other through thick and thin, but Penny and Leonard married, too.
- While his voice irritated, Steve Urkel (Jaleel White) of Family Matters brought laughter and intelligence to his neighbors.
- The advice-giving wise Wilson (Earl Hindman) lived next door to the Taylor family in the show Home Improvement. He doled out his advice to Tim Taylor (Tim Allen) without ever showing the lower half of his face.

Q. Who wrote, "fences make good neighbors"?

A. Poet Robert Frost wrote the words "fences make good neighbors" in his poem "Mending Wall" published in 1914. Though in the poem, Frost questions the saying as he and a neighbor walk a stone fence making repairs.

Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture Unveils EnChroma Glasses for Color Blind Visitors

— Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture —

Spokane, WA & Berkeley, CA – September 26, 2023 – The Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture (MAC) and EnChroma® – creators of glasses for color blindness – today announced that the MAC will become the first museum in Spokane to permanently loan EnChroma glasses to enable color blind visitors to more fully experience colors in its exhibits. Guests who are red-green color blind can borrow the glasses to tour the museum and view its artwork in clear, vibrant color.

One in 12 men (8%) and one in 200 women (.5%) are Color Vision Deficient (CVD); an estimated 350 million worldwide, 13 million in the United States, over 330,000 in Washington, and nearly 10,000 in the Spokane. While people with normal color vision see over one million shades of color, the color blind only see an estimated 10% of hues and shades (see images below). As a result, colors can appear dull, indistinct and difficult to discern.

“We’re excited to be able to offer this new service to color blind visitors to the MAC to enhance their museum-going experience and enjoyment of art and culture exhibitions,” said MAC Executive Director, Wes Jessup.

“Artists use color to tell a story and to evoke emotion, but much of this intent and information is unavailable to millions of people who are color blind,” said Erik Ritchie, CEO of EnChroma. “We are delighted that the Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture is supporting the needs of red-green color blind visitors, and enabling a better understanding and appreciation of art for them. We hope that schools, universities, employers, libraries and other museums in Spokane will follow the MAC’s lead and improve ‘color accessibility’ at their organizations too.”

On Thursday, Sept 28th, 10am, 7 local color blind people will be the first to experience the glasses at the MAC at a special event (see backstories below).

1. Denise Pounds, age 41 is a family medicine doctor and a rare color blind woman, whose two young sons are also color blind. How Color blindness Affects Her: “Color blindness can impact the clinical assessment of patients sometimes, like seeing jaundice of the skin or eyes, or identifying rashes, bruises, etc. Dressing can be a challenge. I tend to wear distinct solids to avoid mismatching with patterns. I have many color “disagreements” with family and friends, mostly related to blue vs purple and gray vs green.” What she hopes to Experience with EnChroma Glasses: “I want to experience colors in nature; see shades of green while hiking and variances of blue in the ocean. Even watching my kids’ sports events and having better contrast of color on the field or court would be great.”

2. Tony Caprile, age 67 is a carpenter and landlord with two color blind sisters (rare). How Color blindness Affects Him: “I have difficulty choosing paint colors. When birding, I cannot find a red bird in a tree with green leaves; my wife has to point it out.” What he hopes to Experience with EnChroma Glasses: “I hope the EnChroma glasses will help me compare and choose colors better. I’d like to wear them to visit art museums, see rainbows and go birdwatching.”

3. Justin Garrett is a 41 year-old psychiatrist from Liberty Lake. How Color blindness Affects Him: “In medical school, I had some difficulty distinguishing colors looking at ear drums (ear infections) and identifying red vs green related to skin infections and abscesses. If there is a question of red/green differentiation in a patient, I rely on support staff or other physicians to assist. It has caused me issues in art classes and minor annoyances like describing the colors of clothes or houses to others.” What he hopes to Experience with EnChroma Glasses: “I would like to see a great sunset on the top of Mt. Spokane and better distinguish reds and greens.”

4. Thomas Domrese is a 17 year-old color blind high school student whose twin brother, Josh, is also color blind. How Color blindness Affects Him: “I got in trouble in kindergarten for being unable to complete tasks involving color. When driving, I can’t tell what color light is at the top. I mostly wear black and white so I don’t have to figure out clothing color choices.” What he hopes to Experience with EnChroma Glasses: “I would like to wear EnChroma glasses at Disneyland and also just see how different everything looks.”

5. Joshua Domrese, age 17, is a color blind high school student and twin brother of Thomas Domrese. How Color blindness Affects Him: “Coloring by numbers in elementary school was impossible. Art is difficult. Clothes choices and dressing is a challenge. Color coded items are difficult for me to understand. When learning how to drive I couldn’t tell which color was on top because red and green stoplights look the same.” What he hopes to Experience with EnChroma Glasses: “I would like to wear EnChroma glasses at Disneyland to see all the colors.”

6. Lance Gurel, age 74, is a color blind retired second grade teacher. How Color blindness Affects Him: “I’m terrible at picking out ripe fruit; I can’t see greens and yellows on peaches. Trying to see red and green traffic lights is the worst.” What he hopes to Experience with EnChroma Glasses: “I would like to see what I’ve been missing and visit a flower garden.”

7. Orion Koffman, age 37, is a color blind pharmacist. How Color blindness Affects Him: “I’m horrible at cooking certain foods and I need to rely on other information to identify medications in my work. I have to be careful driving to ensure I see key colors.” What he hopes to Experience with EnChroma Glasses: “I hope the glasses make certain shades easier to identify and I would love to visit a rainforest with them.”

EnChroma Color Accessibility Program™

EnChroma is the lead advocate for “color accessibility” through its EnChroma Color Accessibility Program™. The program helps over 400 schools, universities, state and national parks, libraries, museums, and other organizations purchase and loan EnChroma glasses to color blind students and guests, including 28 in Seattle. Through partnerships with leading vendors, scenic viewers adapted for the color blind with EnChroma lenses are also available. EnChroma’s program is also open to employers.

EnChroma’s patented lens technology is engineered with special optical filters that enable people with red-green color blindness to see an expanded range of colors more vibrantly, clearly and distinctly.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Patriotic Quilts

Quilting has long been celebrated as an American folk art, and American symbols like flags, eagles and the colors red, white and blue often appear on quilts. Some patriotic quilts have elaborate designs with multiple flags, appliques and complex patterns, sometimes incorporating commemorative banners. Others were simpler, like this quilt with a single small flag on a red and white checked background.

But simple doesn't mean inexpensive. The quilt sold for $4,750 at a Rago auction. The flag on this quilt provides a clue to its age. There are 36 stars, indicating that it was made about 1865, the year the 36-star flag was introduced. However, the number of stars on a flag quilt isn't always a reliable way to date it. Quilters may have altered the number because of artistic license. Notice that the flag on this quilt doesn't have 13 stripes.

If a quilt isn't signed and dated, its age is hard to determine, but there are some clues that can help. If you can see dark spots in the quilt when held up to a strong light or sunny window, they may be cotton seeds. Some collectors claim that this means the quilt was made before the invention of the cotton gin in 1793, but this is not necessarily true. Quilt makers in rural areas used cotton with seeds in it until the 1920s. The sewing machine was invented about 1850, but quilts were often handsewn after that.

Q I recently inherited what I think is an original Shirley Temple doll from my grandmother's estate. What can you tell me about it?

A In the 1930s during the Depression, toddler Shirley Temple was credited with keeping spirits up and movie theaters afloat. Dolls made in her image were also popular. They were first licensed and made by Ideal Novelty and Toy Co. of New York in 1934, and they are still popular with collectors. Early dolls were made with a mixture of glue, sawdust and other materials called "composition." Vinyl dolls were made after 1957. Shirley Temple composition dolls from the 1930s have sold recently for about $50 to over $1,000. Price is determined by the doll's size, costume, condition and whether it has its original tags, box and script Shirley Temple pin.

FWP Game Wardens
Swear In 9-Year-Old Girl As Honorary Warden

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

Several Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks game wardens pose with Sarah Simons, who was sworn in last week as an honorary game warden. The FWP wardens hold our their wrists to show off the bracelets that Sarah distributes through her nonprofit, which helps kids with cancer or other life-threatening diseases. The bracelet has the words 'Fight like a llama.'

WEST YELLOWSTONE – On Sept. 15, 9-year-old Sarah Simons of Texas was sworn in as Montana's first ever honorary game warden. The ceremony occurred at the community center in West Yellowstone during a vacation to Yellowstone National Park with her family.

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks Chief of Law Enforcement Ron Howell presided over the ceremony and administered the oath of office to Sarah in front of her family and several other Montana game wardens. Upon completing the oath of office, Sarah was immediately promoted to the rank of sergeant.

According to her website, www.sarahswarriors.com, Sarah has been interested in law enforcement since she was very young. She also has battled severe life-threatening, incurable diseases since birth. While undergoing treatment police officers from New Jersey sent her a “battle box” of gifts and items to encourage her to keep fighting. After receiving this box, Sarah’s mission became clear, to pay it forward and to send battle boxes to other kids fighting life-threatening diseases. Her mission has grown into a 501(c)(3) nonprofit public charity dedicated to sending packages to other children.

“Sarah’s courage in the face of life-threatening adversity and her selfless dedication to helping others are in keeping with the highest traditions of law enforcement and exemplify the values that Montana game wardens live by,” said Howell. “Sarah is an inspiration to us all and we are honored to have her join our ranks.”

For more information about Sarah and her mission, go to www.sarahswarriors.com or visit her Facebook page.

The Spokane Symphony and The Fox Theater October 2023 Events

— Spokane Symphony —

THE FOX

HOME OF THE SPOKANE SYMPHONY

Complete event details can be found at foxtheaterspokane.com.

40 Fingers

Thursday, October 5th at 8pm at The Fox Theater.

With more than 90 million views on YouTube and Facebook, guitar quartet 40 Fingers is one of the new crossover phenomenons acclaimed all over the world. Each musician offers a strong musical history and a different background. Together 40 Fingers explores new sounds in the name of fingerpicking, combined with their unique style, offering an amazing repertoire of famous rock/pop songs cleverly arranged for four guitars from Queen to Toto, from Dire Straits to Eric Clapton, from Astor Piazzolla to the Beatles.

Masterworks 2: Symphonic Graffiti

Saturday, October 7th at 7:30pm and Sunday, October 8th at 3pm at The Fox Theater.

James Lowe, Conductor; Mateusz Wolski, conductor

A vibrant array of works handpicked by the Spokane Symphony musicians, including a contemporary piece based on artwork by Jean-Michel Basquiat, the champion of street art and neo-expressionism. We expand our symphonic color with the sound of the organ for Camille Saint-Saëns' "Organ Symphony."

The Mountain Goats

Monday, October 9th at 7:30pm at The Fox Theater.

The Mountain Goats' latest album Bleed Out, inspired by frontman John Darnielle's pandemic winter spent watching action movies, explores the allure and futility of revenge, delivered with urgency and desperation.

Barrister Winery Chamber Soirée

Wednesday, October 11th at 7:30pm and Thursday, October 12th at 7:30pm at Barrister Winery.

Spokane Symphony musicians curate music in the setting of Barrister Winery in downtown Spokane. Appetizers, wine, coffee and dessert are included with the ticket. Food is provided by Beacon Hill Catering & Events.

The Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra with Wynton Marsalis

Saturday, October 14th, 7:30pm at The Fox Theater.

Wynton Marsalis, music director, trumpet

Featured in all aspects of Jazz at Lincoln Center's programming, this versatile orchestra performs and leads educational events in New York, across the U.S. and around the globe; in concert halls; dance venues; jazz clubs; public parks; and with symphony orchestras; ballet troupes; local students; and an ever-expanding roster of guest artists. Under Music Director Wynton Marsalis, the Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra performs a vast repertoire.

Masterworks 3: Morihiko

Saturday, October 21st at 7:30pm and Sunday, October 22nd at 3pm at The Fox Theater.

Morihiko Nakahara, conductor; Zhu Wang, piano.

Beloved by Spokane, conductor Morihiko Nakahara returns with a program of romantic passions. Amy Beach is the composer of the first published symphony by an American woman, weaving old-world folk songs into symphonic form. Mozart's beautiful 1785 piano concerto is often used in films—you've heard it in Superman Returns, The Spy Who Loved Me, and Elvira Madigan—giving the music its unofficial nickname.

Symphonic-Con

Saturday, October 28th at 7:30pm and Sunday, October 29th at 3pm at The Fox Theater.

Shira Samuels-Shragg, conductor.

Movie, TV, and video game music performed live by the Spokane Symphony. Music from Studio Ghibli, Star Trek, Halo, Lord of the Rings, Harry Potter, and more will be performed. Cosplays are encouraged, music will be enhanced with videos on the big screen, and vendors will be in the lobby. This concert is family friendly.

The Black Jacket Symphony Presents: Eagles' "Hotel California"

Monday, October 30th at 8pm at The Fox Theater.

The Black Jacket Symphony recreates the Eagles' iconic album Hotel California, live in its entirety—note for note, sound for sound—plus a full set of the Eagles' greatest hits. Over the past ten years, the Black Jacket Symphony has performed over 40 classic rock albums, bringing an incredible night of entertainment to over a million music lovers across the US.
