The CdA City Park Concert Series Continues

— Handshake Productions —

The Coeur d'Alene City Park Concert Series continues this Sunday, August 21st, 1pm-4pm with a performance by Tuxedo Junction Big Band, performing their special blend of Big Band Orchestra music.

The performance will take place at Coeur d'Alene City Park in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, rain or shine. There is no indoor backup this year. Families are welcome. Seating is limited so be sure to bring your lawn chair. And there is a food concession, so leave your picnic at home. For more information, contact Handshake Productions at www.HandshakeProductions.net or 208-667-3162.

The Coeur d'Alene City Park Concert Series is presented by Atchley Financial Group, Garden Plaza Retirement of Post Falls, TDS Telecom.com, Mike White Ford of North Idaho, and Northwest Specialty Hospital, and sponsored in part by The Nickel's Worth and many local businesses and families. These concerts will be provided free on Sundays, 1pm-4pm, now through August 28th.

C.I.A. IS CHRISTIANS in action. They are the true people of God/ Jesus Christ, as they are the ones who attend worship services on Saturday, the 4th Commandment (Exodus 20:8-11 and Ezekiel 20:12-20), which God/ Jesus Christ set up as the sign of loyalty between Himself and His true people. They carry the true gospel message of Revelation 14:6-12. They also know that the judgment day of Jesus Christ/ God is based on the 10 Commandments of which every person on earth will be judged by. God/ Jesus Christ says that the whole duty of men and women is to keep all 10 commandments, just as the Bible says. Tim, 208-217-8942, text only

Exposed Pipeline Creates Hazard, Leads to Closures on Portion of Stillwater River

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

BILLINGS – Fish, Wildlife & Parks has closed the Stillwater River to all watercraft between Absaroka Fishing Access Site (FAS) and the confluence of the Rosebud River, which is just upstream of Jeffreys Landing FAS.

Working closely with Stillwater County commissioners, FWP is providing an emergency closure of the area until further notice. The closure will begin at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 9. The closure is for watercraft on the river, not other river access.

An exposed natural gas pipeline has created a dangerous obstacle in the river and is impeding floaters' ability to safely negotiate around it. Low water levels have reduced the width of the river and is now forcing floaters to go over the pipeline twice and into a debris pile on the lower portion that could potentially cause injury or drowning.

The pipeline company is working on a solution.

New Shoes

— Vivian E. Bogardus—

Every year she
Bought me a new pair of shoes,
Till she died
One cold October day in 1990.
For many years
I wore those last pair of shoes.
Finally I admitted
They were wore out real good.
When I got new ones,
All the joy of the past flooded
In on me. My stride,
It was lighter, and my smiles,
They could not stay
In single file. There's nothing
Like new shoes!
And I know, beyond the shadow of
A doubt, that she
Would have wanted it to be that Way.

Pets of the Week: Ezra and Laura

— Companions Animal Center —
formerly Kootenai Humane Society

Ezra is a mixture of sweet and shy. He loves to sit on your lap and play with his mouse toys. However, he can get overzealous in the play department, so an adult-only home is best. Ezra is 2-years-old and would love to be your one fabulous feline furbaby. He is neutered, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Hi, I'm Laura! I wouldn't blame you if you had to stop and stare! I'm a sweet and well-mannered 7-year-old Shepherd lady looking for a fun-loving, forever home. I ADORE attention, going for walks, hanging out with the family, and cuddling on the couch. Will you help me find my forever home? I'm spayed, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Public walk-through viewing of the animals is available Tuesday and Thursday from 1-4pm. Adoptions by appointment only. For more information about Kootenai Humane Society becoming Companions Animal Center and me, visit www.companionsanimalcenter.org.

Construction of the Roosevelt Elementary School, located at First and Wallace, began in the summer of 1905, but was not completed in time for the opening of school in September. Students that were expected to attend the new school had to stay at home until the building was ready for use and that did not occur until the 24th of September. In addition to a late start, the chairs and desks for the school did not arrive until the middle of October. When classes finally got underway there were 162 students enrolled at the school with only three teachers. EDU-1-10.

The Museum of North Idaho is open daily through Labor Day weekend from 11 am – 5 pm. # Fire Prevention Top Priority for IDL and DEQ

Idaho Department of Lands and
Idaho Department of Environmental Quality

As the temperatures have risen over the past couple of weeks, so has the fire danger, with all of Idaho currently under a High or Very High fire danger. The Idaho Department of Lands (IDL) and the Idaho Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) are reminding the public that state burn permit restrictions are in effect to help reduce the threat of wildfire and smoke impacts.

State Burn Permits are issued between May 10 and October 20 through IDL and are required for those living outside city limits who wish to use burn barrels, burn yard waste or piles of debris from a timber harvest known as slash. The permitting process considers fire danger conditions, weather, as well as smoke and air quality.

Due to current weather and fire conditions, IDL Fire Wardens are restricting burn permits across Idaho, with most not allowing anything except burning crop residue. DEQ and IDL coordinate closely to ensure that crop residue burning is allowed when fire safety and air quality is protected.

Growers wishing to burn crop residue, outside tribal reservation boundaries, receive both the IDL fire safety burn permit and DEQ air quality permit from a single location: www.deq.idaho.gov/air-quality/smoke-and-burning/crop-residue-burning/.

Although DEQ is responsible for approving crop residue burning permits, IDL has the authority to temporarily prohibit crop residue burning when safety is a concern. DEQ will only approve crop residue burning when IDL is allowing such permits to be issued.

"This cooperation between DEQ and IDL ensures the permitting process is streamlined for all citizens, the public is protected, and impacts on property owners are kept to a minimum," said Governor Brad Little.

To register for a crop residue burn permit use the online tool at www.deq.idaho.gov/air-quality/smoke-and-burning/crop-residue-burning/ or call the toll-free grower hotline at (866) 224-2456.

Idaho Unveils New
Communication Card to Help
Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing
Individuals Communicate with Law Enforcement

— Council of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing —

(Boise, Idaho)—The Idaho Council for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (ICDHH), Northwest ADA Center of Idaho and law enforcement partners have developed a new communication card to help individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing exchange information with law enforcement.

The new card, which can be stored inside a vehicle, includes various pictures that deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals can point to help them more easily communicate during interactions with law enforcement.

“Removing barriers for Deaf and Hard of Hearing Idahoans is crucial for helping them live self-determined, independent lives,” said Governor Brad Little. “This new communication tool will improve safety for the deaf and hard-of-hearing community as well as law enforcement officers across the state.”

The communication card also displays icons of common violations and provides tips for law enforcement to help officers effectively communicate with those who are hard of hearing or deaf.

“Approximately 240,000 Idahoans are deaf or hard of hearing,” said Steven Snow, ICDHH Executive Director. “We appreciate our partners from the law enforcement agencies, Northwest ADA Center of Idaho, and the Disability Action Center NW, Inc. for collaborating on this practical solution to help bridge communication gaps and improve understanding.”

To receive a copy of the communication card, please contact the ICDHH at info@cdhh.idaho.gov or call 208-334-0879.

Health Advisory Issued For Fernan Lake

— Panhandle Health District —

Panhandle Health District (PHD) in collaboration with the Idaho Department of Health & Welfare (IDHW) and Idaho Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) have issued a public health advisory for Fernan Lake. Recent water sampling by DEQ indicates the presence of cyanobacteria, also known as a harmful algae bloom (HAB) or blue-green algae in Fernan Lake. The public is urged to use caution when recreating in or near the water, especially where ingestion is a risk.

Cyanobacteria are a natural part of Idaho's water bodies. When temperatures rise, their populations can bloom and toxic chemical compounds, or cyanotoxins, can be released into the water. Caution should be taken anywhere where the water appears discolored or murky as HABs can spread or move with wind and water currents. HABs have the potential to produce dangerous toxins especially when accumulated in high concentrations. The physical appearance of these blooms can be unsightly, often presenting as discolored water, streaks or globs of scum and causing thick green mats along lake shorelines. Pets, children, the elderly, and people with compromised immune systems are most at-risk of harmful exposure.

Anyone recreating in Fernan Lake is advised to take precautions to avoid exposure to lake water appearing to contain a HAB. Private domestic water system owners utilizing the lake as a drinking water source are cautioned that potentially present toxins cannot be removed by boiling or filtering the water. If contact (swimming, bathing, or showering) has been made with water containing a HAB, it is recommended to wash off with fresh water.

If people choose to eat fish from the lake, it is recommended that they remove all fat, skin and organs before cooking, since toxins are more likely to collect in those tissues.

Symptoms of exposure to algal toxins vary according to exposure. Symptoms include rashes, hives, diarrhea, vomiting, coughing, and/or wheezing. More severe symptoms affecting the liver and nervous system may result from ingestion of water. If symptoms persist, consult with your health care provider.

For more information about harmful algal blooms, visit DEQ's website at <https://www.deq.idaho.gov/water-quality/surface-water/cyanobacteria-harmful-algal-blooms/> or IDHW's website at <https://www.getthealthydhw.idaho.gov/recreational-water-health-advisories>.

Shepherd Man Sentenced For Poaching Four Deer, Leaving Parts To Waste

— Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks —

BILLINGS – A Shepherd man lost his hunting privileges for 16 years and will pay fines and restitution exceeding $6,000 after pleading guilty to 16 state and federal charges of poaching mule deer and leaving some parts at a federal recreation area.

Brayden Reed, 19, pleaded guilty in Yellowstone County Justice Court to four counts of unlawful possession of deer, two counts of wasting game, three counts of hunting during a closed season, two counts of unlawful use of equipment, two counts of hunting without a license and one count of killing more than a limit of deer. He also pleaded guilty in federal court to the crimes of littering and resource damage.

In state court he was fined $4,405 and ordered to pay the state $2,000 in restitution. He also lost his privilege to hunt in Montana for 16 years. Because of reciprocal agreements between states, he will not be able to hunt legally anywhere in most of the country. In addition, he will pay $400 on the federal charges. Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks game warden Connor Langel, who investigated the crimes, also confiscated the rifle Reed used to kill the deer.

Reed was convicted of spotlighting and shooting two mule deer bucks on Oct. 2 and taking them to the federal Bureau of Land Management's Ah-Nei Recreation Area, where he removed antlers and backstraps, then left the rest of the animals to waste. Also that evening, a live tree was cut down and burned and numerous beverage cans were scattered in the recreation area. Damage to the recreation area was investigated by Bureau of Land Management ranger Jeff Herriford.

He is also convicted of spotlighting and shooting a third deer on private property, where he did not have permission to trespass on Oct. 8 and taking it to the Ah-Nei Recreation Area, where the backstraps were removed and the rest was left to waste.

Reed did not have a Montana deer license at the time of the poaching incidents, which occurred before the general deer season opened on Oct. 23.

Langel later found a fourth deer that Reed had killed illegally.

The case originated with information called in to 1-800-TIP-MONT, the FWP call-in line to report crimes involving fish, wildlife, parks and other natural resources. Anyone with possible information about such crimes is encouraged to visit <https://myfwp.mt.gov/fwpPub/tipmont> to provide details or call the FWP violation reporting hot line at 1-800-TIP-MONT. They may be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000.

Reminder: Grizzly Bears Can Frequent Any Game Management Unit in Panhandle

— Fish and Game —

Recent grizzly bear activity in game management units 4A and 4 are a reminder that grizzlies can occupy any GMU in the Panhandle

Spring brings lots back to life after a cold, dark winter, including grizzly bears. Idaho Fish and Game Staff in the Panhandle Region have confirmed the presence of a grizzly sow and cub in the area of Johnson Saddle in Game Management Units 4A/4.

Although grizzly bears are most commonly observed in the Cabinet and Selkirk mountain ranges in GMU 1, they have also been infrequently observed in units 2, 3, 4, 4A, 6, 7 and 9. Black bears, on the other hand, are common throughout all GMUs in the Panhandle.

Spring 2022 has been busy on the grizzly bear front, with livestock-grizzly encounters in the Panhandle and recent human-grizzly interactions in the Upper Snake Region.

All of this activity serves as a timely reminder of the need to be bear aware – both while recreating in the woods and while living in close proximity to wildlife. Read on for some helpful tips on both fronts.

Tips for safely recreating in bear country

Carry bear spray and keep it accessible and within reach

Hunt with partners and make each other aware of plans

Look for grizzly bear sign, including fresh tracks, scats, digs and carcasses or gut piles

Be sure of your target before shooting a bear

Retrieve game meat as quickly as possible and approach the carcass carefully and loudly

Hang meat, food and garbage at least 200 yards from camp, 10 feet off the ground and 4 feet from the vertical support

When not hunting, make noise, especially around creeks and thick vegetation. Most attacks occur by inadvertently surprising a bear at close range

Tips for safely living near wildlife

Properly dispose of attractants, including trash, animal carcasses, compost, livestock feed and beehives.

Securely store food, garbage and other attractants in a bear-resistant place.

Keep pet food secured as you do your own. Bears like pet food as much as your pet does.

Avoid filling bird feeders until wintertime.

Do not bury or throw garbage into the nearby woods.

Make sure to clean your grills and keep them in a building, if possible.

Know your bears

With spring bear hunting season well underway, hunters are encouraged to review their bear identification skills to avoid mistaken identity.

Size and color of the animal are not reliable indicators of species. It's best to look at multiple features in order to make the right call. Grizzlies typically have short, rounded ears, a dishd facial profile, a prominent shoulder hump and 2-4 inch long claws.

If you'd like to freshen up you bear identification skills, you can do so through our quick online training.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Lucie Winborne

- Only 2% of the world's population have green eyes, but they weren't born with them. The hue takes from six months to three years to show up in children.
- Donnie Dunagan, who as a child actor supplied the voice of Disney's Bambi, went on to become a highly decorated major in the U.S. Marines – and kept his movie role a secret for his entire 25-year military career.
- An Australian ground bird known as the lyrebird can mimic just about anything, from a crying baby to machinery.
- About 6,000 years ago, the barren Sahara Desert was actually a lush green forest.
- “Loganamnesia” is a word to describe an obsession with recalling a specific word that has been forgotten.
- Legend has it that Tate's Hell State Park, a 202,000-acre forest/swamp in Florida, got its curious name from a man who was lost in its wilderness and after finally emerging told a passerby, “My name is Cebe Tate, and I just came from hell” before collapsing.
- In 2016, the NFL returned more than $700,000 of taxpayer money it had been paid by the U.S. Defense Department to honor the military at games.
- A Colombian man died after a parasitic worm that had invaded his gut developed cancer, which in turn spread through the man's body.

- To clean out the drawers of my husband's tool cabinet without disturbing the tools, I tucked a knee-high panty hose leg over my vacuum cleaner wand. Most things stayed put, but the one or two small pieces of hardware that got sucked up were easily retrieved. I also did this on his workbench. I picked up all the dust and shavings along with the stray pieces of hardware. I pulled them out of the hose leg, and they were in a tidy pile for him to put away. -- U.L. in Kansas
- Ripen a green tomato by wrapping it in a sheet of newspaper or placing it in a plain, small paper bag. Leave it on the counter and check it daily until ripe.
- You can keep ice cream from dripping out of the bottom of a cone. All you have to do is just place a small marshmallow or a piece of marshmallow in the bottom of the cone before you fill it with ice cream.
- Our family loves to make our own pizza, and we purchase dough from a pizzeria. On pizza nights, I pick up the dough first thing on the way home from work. I get it close to my work and let it sit in a bowl in the car while I pick up the kids and drive home. It takes about 45 minutes, so it's risen nicely while we've been on the go. -- E.F. in New York
- If you've just purchased an expensive electronic item, take the packaging to a recycling center rather than advertise your purchase by putting the box at the curb. If you aren't able to take it somewhere, cut the box into uniform pieces and bind them together, nonprinted side facing out.

Trash Can Lids Make Awkward Necklaces For Deer

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Late last week, Fish and Game's McCall office received a flurry of calls about a mule deer doe with a trash can lid stuck on her neck. Sure enough, when staff went to check things out, she was wearing a large, metal lid.

The lid did not appear to be on tightly, and was not affecting her ability to move or eat, so staff waited overnight to give her a chance to pull the lid off on her own. Unfortunately, she was unable to do so, and the calls started again the next morning.

Staff headed out to the scene, near the frisbee golf course in the middle of town. With some assistance from a couple of local residents, Fish and Game staff were able to use a dart gun to sedate the deer. The trash can lid came off easily, and the deer woke up looking no worse for the wear.

With a large town deer herd, Fish and Game staff regularly get calls about deer tangled in various "town things." Staff have removed Christmas lights, hammocks, metal plumbing fixtures, rodent traps, hammocks, and even plastic cups from town deer.

"We know that many Idaho residents who live in close proximity to wildlife value that opportunity, but it comes with some additional responsibilities to keep wildlife wild and out of trouble," said Regional Communications Manager Brian Pearson. "This serves as a good reminder for the public to occasionally check their yards and remove anything that could entangle or attract wildlife."
