WHO IS IT THAT DOESN'T want you to study the Bible? Christ or Satan? The Bible says that it is 'Satan who deceives the whole world' (Revelation 12:9). Christ says that the only way to be saved, is through Bible study. 90% of modern day church leaders will only give you what they want you to see. They will never tell you to study the Bible for yourselves. The Bible says that the truth will set you free, and the truth can only be found in complete Bible study, both Old Testament and New Testament. And so Satan will give you every excuse possible to prevent you from Bible study. Tim, 208-217-8942 text only, scriptures

October 9th Exhibit Openings at the MAC

— Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture —

American Impressionism: Treasures from the Daywood Collection

Oct. 9, 2022 - Jan. 8, 2023

This exhibition features 41 extraordinary paintings from the acclaimed Daywood Collection of the Huntington Museum of Art. The art was originally from the private collection of Arthur Dayton and Ruth Woods-Dayton (whose family names combine to form "Daywood"). They were prominent art patrons in the early 20th century who wanted to preserve and share art that captured the essence of American life.

This exhibit showcases work from a transitional time in American art--the late 19th and early 20th centuries-- when artists abandoned the rigors of academic styles and subjects to embrace the creative freedoms and innovations of their European counterparts.

The painters in this exhibit, including John Twachtman, J. Alden Weir, Willard Metcalf, and Gari Melchers, inspired by their training abroad, adopted the shimmering light, warm colors and expressive brushwork of French impressionism. Many of them turned their gaze away from the industrialism and urbanization of the U.S. in favor of intimate portraits, quiet scenes of domestic life, and poetic views of the American landscape.

Fun Fact: Many of the paintings in this exhibition have been sponsored by a local art enthusiast! People made a donation to the MAC to show their support. Their names will be on wall labels beside their paintings.

Gift of a Moment: Lila Girvin

October 9, 2022 - Feb. 12, 2023

Lila Girvin is one of Spokane's most important artists. Now in her 90s, the MAC is delighted and honored to present this exhibition of her work. Living and working in Spokane since 1958, Girvin has used vibrant color, form and unassuming techniques with oil paint to explore new dimensions of feeling--a process largely guided by intuition and informed by the expansiveness of nature. Through ethereal, abstract paintings blending inner and outer worlds, this retrospective exhibit illuminates the artist's deeply personal encounters with art making over nearly six decades.

The Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture (the "MAC") is open Tuesday through Sunday, 10am to 5pm. Closed on Monday. The address is 2316 W. First Avenue, Browne's Addition in Spokane.

Please note: The MAC is open on Labor Day, Monday, September 5th, and the current blockbuster show, DreamWorks Animation The Exhibition - Journey from Sketch to Screen runs through September 11th.

Fall admission ticket prices for the new exhibits are:

- Adults (18+): $12
- Seniors (65+) and College Students with ID: $10
- Children/Youth (6-17): $7
- Members and children 5 and under: Free

The Garden Bug

Japanese climbing fern

BY BRENDA WEAVER

This native of Asia and Australia was first introduced to North America as an ornamental in the early 1900s. It is considered invasive in the southeastern U.S., and smothers native vegetation by blocking sunlight. It increases fire risk by allowing fire to spread up trees along its vines and leaves.

Plan the Ultimate Patio Party With This Checklist

— StatePoint Media —

(StatePoint) If you're like many people, you're more than ready to gather friends together. Whether you're planning the bash of the century or just want to turn a run-of-the-mill afternoon into a bonified party, use these tips to make your outside gathering pop:

Great Food

Barbecues are always popular, but you don't need a huge grill set-up to entertain guests outdoors. In warmer weather, you may prefer to keep guests cool and well-fed with light bites like Vietnamese summer rolls, charcuterie, fresh dips, seasonal veggies, cold pasta and fruit salad.

Fun Games

Keep spirits high with fun activities. Lawn games like cornhole, Spikeball and oversized Jenga are perennial favorites. For those that prefer to take it easy, be sure to include games that can be played at the table, like Cards Against Humanity and all of its various iterations. Do you and your friends have a competitive streak? Set up a bracket system and host a knockout tournament. Winner gets bragging rights until the next party.

Surprising Libations

Hard teas are trending, hard. They make for a delicious daytime sipper on their own, but can also serve as the perfect base for warm weather cocktails -- especially when they're made from authentic ingredients. Lagunitas' Disorderly TeaHouse, a 100-calorie, gluten-free, premium spiked, sparkling tea is brewed using guayusa leaves, an Amazonian botanical herb, and features natural fruit flavors, like yuzu lemon, raspberry and blackberry. Try it alone or make this simple slushie recipe your party's signature cocktail: lagunitas.com/story/disorderly-teahouse-slushie. You can pick up the main ingredient, Disorderly TeaHouse, at Sprouts, Meijer, Whole Foods, Trader Joe's, and Safeway. Or you can have it delivered. For $5 off on Drizly, use the promo code "DTHCincodeMayo" between April 28th and May 8th, code "DTHMemorialDay" between May 15th and May 31st, and "DTHFirstTasteofSummer" between June 1st and June 22nd. (Courtesy of Drizly. 21+. New users only. Void where prohibited).

Great Jams

The right music can make a good party great. Be the perfect host (and DJ) by just hitting play on this already carefully-curated "Steep Cuts" playlist from Lagunitas. Featuring artists like Kurt Vile, The Linda Lindas and Jack White, it celebrates all things disorderly like mosh pits, sound blasting out of garages, and dancing with wild abandon: open.spotify.com/playlist/2E2GGB9TYIeOvvwjRY6VzX.

Be sure to make the most of your playlist with high-quality, durable speakers designed to deliver great sound in outdoor spaces over the revelry. Those that link to other Bluetooth speakers are a good choice for creating surround sound -- perfect for that impromptu dance party.

Take the Party into Night

Should your party extend into the evening, you'll want to be prepared. Remember that at dusk, the bugs come out in full force, so consider citronella candles to ward them off. For cool nights, consider having a heat lamp or smokeless portable fire pit on hand to keep guests nice and toasty. For ambiance and to illuminate the fun, hang string lighting or paper lanterns.

With this patio party checklist, you can give every party you throw this season something a little extra.

Tips for Teaching Kids Empathy

— StatePoint Media —

One of the most important skills kids can learn is empathy -- the ability to understand how others are feeling. A valuable social skill that's often the mark of a good leader, empathy aids in communication and helps people build connections with others. Here are some ways you can teach your child empathy:

Read Together

Read to your child when they are young, and encourage them to keep up with the habit when they are older by stocking your shelves with books and by making regular visits to the library. Requiring a leap of imagination as readers put themselves in the shoes of characters, it's no surprise that a love of fiction can actually help build empathy, according to research. After you read together, talk to your child about the stories and ask them what they think each character was thinking or feeling, and why. You can also do this after watching movies and shows together too.

Introduce Interactive Toys

Interactive toys can foster your child's nurturing skills. New, fun ones to consider include Hope the Healing Husky, a robotic dog that tells you how she's feeling, and makes different sounds to show if she's hungry, has a cold or fever, has a hurt leg or feels itchy. Kids can check her temperature, give a healing shot, bandage her ouchie and put on her recovery collar to help her heal. The robotic Glitter Me Kitten will also tell kids how she feels. When she's happy or when you press her head, she'll move her paw and place a glitter stamp on your hand to show she loves you. Kids can also watch her stripes change colors to show how she's feeling, and respond to her needs by scratching her head, patting her on the back or feeding her.

Finally, kids can tuck Ivy the Bloom Bright Unicorn's legs under her and boop her nose when it's time to rest, blow her a kiss to see the flower in her mane bloom and light up, accessorize her tail, and sing-along with her to eight different tunes. More information can be found at vtechkids.com.

Play Pretend

Whether playing house or playing superheroes, role-play is not only a chance to build worlds and be creative, but also to consider the feelings of someone else and act them out. You can encourage your child to play pretend by suggesting the activity and letting them invent the game. Keep kids inspired with a fun costume trunk full of hats, wigs and other accessories.

Empathy may be a social skill, but it's as valuable as the ABCs. The good news is that interactive toys, games and literature can all help to cultivate your child's empathy.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Sept. 12, 1846, Elizabeth Barrett elopes with Robert Browning. Despite her father's dislike of Browning, calling him an unreliable fortune hunter, Elizabeth and Robert conducted a secret courtship. After a secret wedding at St. Marylebone Parish Church, the two moved to Italy, where Elizabeth's former weak health improved dramatically.
- On Sept. 14, 1901, U.S. President William McKinley dies after being shot in Buffalo, New York. When McKinley was operated on, doctors had failed to find the bullet, and gangrene soon spread throughout his body.
- On Sept. 15, 1935, German Jews are stripped of their citizenship, reducing them to "subjects" of the state. German Jews were excluded from high-profile vocations, from public office to journalism and teaching, even farming. Jews found it difficult even to buy food.
- On Sept. 16, 1940, the first peacetime draft in the history of the United States is imposed on men between the ages of 21 and 36. There were 20 million eligible young men; 50% were rejected the very first year for health reasons or illiteracy.
- On Sept. 13, 1963, Texas-born entrepreneur Mary Kay Ash launches a cosmetic company in Dallas. Mary Kay Inc. would become a cosmetic empire with revenue of more than $3.5 billion and salespeople in dozens of countries. Mary Kay became renowned for an award system designed for women, including mink coats, diamond rings and pink Cadillacs.
- On Sept. 17, 1976, NASA publicly unveils its first space shuttle, the Enterprise, during a ceremony in California. In 1977, the Enterprise became the first space shuttle to fly freely when it was lifted to a height of 25,000 feet by a Boeing 747 airplane and then released, gliding back to Edwards Air Force Base on its own accord.
- On Sept. 18, 1981, the 20,000-car parking lot at Canada's West Edmonton Mall makes the Guinness World Records as the largest parking lot in the world. However, Dubai was said at the time to be building a 40,000-space parking lot at their mall, but it only has 14,500 slots today.

Dancing with Life: Mexican Masks Opens September 3rd

— Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture —

Visitors are sure to be surprised and delighted by many colorful Mexican masks from the MAC's permanent collection when Dancing with Life: Mexican Masks opens on Saturday, September 3.

With a regional focus on Michoacan, Mexico ("mee-cho-ah-CON"), this exhibition presents a selection of more than 50 dance masks from the MAC's collection and contemporary Mexican artists, as well as dance costumes and videos featuring the artists and dancers.

Across Mexico, mask-making is a vibrant and playful art form with roots in the celebration of religious holidays. Worn by dancers in creative performances known as "danzas," the masks depict everything from animals, devils and holy figures to celebrities from contemporary culture and politics.

Wes Jessup, Executive Director of the Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture, said:

"We have a historic collection of Mexican masks at the MAC that have been made by artists over the past 50 years. They're riveting! They're grotesque, saintly, colorful and humorous. We've wanted to share them with the public for a long time.

The masks are a wonderful window into Mexican culture. We were thrilled to discover that Gonzaga Professor Pavel Shlossberg has worked for nearly 20 years with Mexican mask artists in Michoacan. Pavel came to the MAC and researched and interpreted what we have. He traveled to Mexico to interview artists, record festival dances on video, and purchase some new masks for us. His knowledge was the key for interpreting this work and organizing this wonderful exhibition," said Jessup.

Pavel Shlossberg, Ph.D., the guest curator for the exhibit, is Associate Professor in Communication and Leadership Studies at Gonzaga University and Associate Dean in the School of Leadership Studies.

"The masks teach us about the power of community--people coming together during festivals to dance and celebrate. I learned a lot about hospitality from my Mexican hosts. Studying this art form and attending fiestas in their community, I was warmly welcomed and invited to dance! Visitors to the MAC will learn about a regional, vibrant, thriving aspect of local Mexican culture--the humor, the richness, the history," said Pavel Shlossberg, Ph.D.

The media preview of Dancing with Life: Mexican Masks is on Thursday, September 1st from 11:00 am to 1:00 pm at the MAC, 2316 W. First Avenue in Browne's Addition. Please RSVP to Alison at (509) 842-2943 to attend, or just stop by that day to see and photograph the exhibit. Both Wesley Jessup, Executive Director of the MAC and Dr. Pavel Shlossberg will be available for interviews.

The Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture (the "MAC") is open Tuesday through Sunday, 10 am to 5 pm. Closed on Monday. The address is 2316 W. First Avenue, Browne's Addition in Spokane.

Please note: The MAC is open on Labor Day--Monday, September 5--and the current blockbuster show, DreamWorks Animation The Exhibition -- Journey from Sketch to Screen runs through September 11th.

Fall admission ticket prices for the new exhibits are:

- Adults (18+): $12
- Seniors (65+) and College Students with ID: $10
- Children/Youth (6-17): $7
- Members and children 5 and under: Free

Donna's Day Creative family fun

by Donna Erickson

"Go to the Moon" Word Fun Travel Game

Kristina Zajic, speech pathologist and mom of eight-year-old Aisha and 10-year-old Elizabeth, loves bins. She has sand-toy bins, Barbie bins, ball bins, pretend-toy bins, office-supply bins and even nail-polish bins. "When I walk into Target and see a new color, I'm inspired to have the fresh look for the season," she said. "That's why I snapped up two bright travel-size bins for my daughters before our three-hour car trip to stay in their grandparents' fifth-wheel RV at a campsite in the Redwoods."

For no-tech car-trip entertainment, she filled the bins with new sunglasses, treats and plenty of challenging card games, activity books and art supplies. "My oldest daughter does get carsick," she confessed. "That's when the girls put reading and card games on hold for a while, and we play brain games together. The miles and twisty curves fly by."

Here's a word game that's fun for kids and adults to play together in the car, or however you travel this summer. My daughter taught it to us on a winter car trip. "Go to the Moon" got us through snowstorms, slippery mountain roads and being asked one too many times, "Are we there yet?"

The person who is "it" thinks of three things that have something in common, such as a mango, pineapple and papaya (all tropical fruits). "It" then says to the other players, "I'm going to the moon and taking along a mango, a pineapple and a papaya. Who wants to come with me?" Given the clues, the first player tries to figure out what the items have in common, then names a fourth item that fits the category, such as "banana." Another, more complex example might be, "I'm going to the moon and taking along the Twins, the White Sox and the Tigers" (all professional baseball teams). A fourth item that would fit could be the Royals.

If the item fits, "it" responds, "You may come with me." The next player names an item. If the player names an item that doesn't fit, he or she may try again on the next turn. When everyone finally learns the common element, the round is over. Topics can be as simple or as complicated as you choose. Try to accommodate even the youngest in the family when playing.

Be Sure Before You Shoot: 5 Tips For Archery Hunting Success

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

Montana's archery hunting season for deer and elk begins Sept. 4, and just like in every other form of hunting, being successful while hunting with a bow requires careful planning and preparation.

If you plan to hunt during the archery season, here are five tips for being safe, responsible and successful:

- Practice, practice, practice. Being proficient in archery takes patience and repetition. Practice shooting your bow in the same manner in which you'll be hunting. Begin practicing well before the hunting season. Know and respect your personal limitations and effective range while hunting.
- Know the rules. Purchase a bow and arrow license, and know what, where and when your license allows you to hunt. Be sure your archery equipment meets state requirements for hunting. Questions? Check the current hunting regulations or contact FWP.
- Plan an efficient harvest. Because archery hunting season occurs earlier in the year, temperatures can still be warm, day and night. Be prepared to remove and process your harvested animal quickly so the meat does not spoil.
- Be sure before you shoot. Only take a shot if it is safe and ethical to do so. Ensure that there are no unsafe shooting conditions, obstructions or significant wind; and that the animal is within your effective range and is in a position for you to make an ethical shot. Be sure that the animal you intend to harvest meets your license's requirements for species, sex and antler/horn class.
- Be bear aware. Bear attacks are rare. However, occupied grizzly bear habitat is expanding in Montana. So, watch for bear sign. Hunt with a partner and carry bear spray. Pack out your harvested animal as quickly as possible.

To purchase a Montana bow and arrow license, a hunter must provide a certificate of completing the National Bowhunter Education Foundation course, or provide any prior year's bowhunting/archery stamp, tag, permit, or license from any state or province. To become certified, please visit fwp.mt.gov/education/hunter.
