Call All the Fall Flavors With This Dessert

Thank you, summer. It's been a blast, but we're ready for that wonderful feeling when the leaves begin to change, temperatures drop, and the smell of woodsmoke and autumnal bliss fill the air.

As I contemplate the beginning of fall, I think of apple season, which means I have a burning desire to eat apple strudel. Which means I need to make one. Or maybe two. Are you with me?

Apple strudel, or apfelstrudel, is a tender, flakey pastry shell with an apple filling oozing with warm baking spices. It's a traditional Viennese pastry popular in Austria and in many countries in Europe.

To make a truly authentic strudel, you would need to roll strudel dough so thin you can literally read the newspaper through it. But we've got stuff to do, so we're taking a shortcut using frozen puff pastry.

Puff pastry is handy dandy stuff. If you're not familiar, you find it in the frozen dessert section of the grocery store. Puff pastry is a buttery dough that puffs and bakes up perfectly flakey and golden brown.

The secret is to thaw the dough completely in the refrigerator before you use it and have the apple mixture cold or at room temperature before placing on the pastry. If the filling is warm, the pastry softens and becomes difficult to work with.

This recipe makes two — count them, TWO — apple strudels. You can easily halve the recipe and make only one, but why? I think we all know somebody who deserves a surprise strudel.

EASY APPLE STRUDEL

- Total Time: 90 minutes
Yield: 6 servings each
1 (17.3 ounce) package of puff pastry (2 sheets), thawed in the fridge
6 apples, any variety
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon clove
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins — golden, dark or a mix
1 cup chopped nuts — walnuts, almonds, or pecans
1 egg to make egg wash
1/2 cup demerara sugar for coating

www.JasonCoblentz.com

Apple strudel is a perfect fall pastry.

Peel, core and slice about 4 cups apples total. Heat a large saute pan on medium heat. Melt the butter and add the apples. Cook the apples until they begin to soften. Add the cinnamon, clove, nutmeg, sugar, salt and raisins and combine. When the apples are softened but not falling apart (about 15 minutes), remove from heat and let cool completely. This can be done the night before and the apples refrigerated until ready for use. If you're in a hurry, spread the apples on a baking sheet and place in the fridge.

To assemble the strudel: Preheat oven to 375 F. Line a large baking sheet with parchment. Lightly flour a second piece of parchment and roll one sheet of puff pastry into a rectangle approximately 16 inches by 12 inches.

With the short edge facing you, leaving a 2-inch border, place half of the cooled apples on the pastry. Top with half the chopped nuts. Using the parchment to assist, lift the edge of the pastry and carefully roll it like a jelly roll. Pinch the ends so the apples can't escape and lay, seam side down, on the prepared baking sheet. Mix the egg with a splash of water and brush the roll. Sprinkle all over with sugar. Cut several slits in the pastry to allow the steam to escape. Repeat with the second pastry. Bake for 30-35 minutes.

For a variation, try Pear and Cranberry Strudel. Substitute pears and dried cranberries for the apples and raisins in this recipe. Perfect for Thanksgiving!

What a Difference a Few Simple Things Can Make

— Erin A. Olsen, MEd —

Falls Prevention Coalition of Idaho
Idaho Commission on Aging

Every day, we look for ways to optimize our efforts. If we can find activities that accomplish multiple goals at once that is even better. This is especially true when it comes to things that benefit our health. For all of us, but especially those over age 60, a significant cause of accidental injuries and death each year are due to falling. Falls often result in expensive emergency department (ED) visits and hospitalizations. Older adults often end up in costly long-term care facilities. The financial cost can be overwhelming. Beyond the initial injuries, a person's ability to actively engage in life, impacting their physical and emotional health, can be the result. Wouldn't it be nice to be able to prevent falls from happening to begin with?

Yes, there is good news! Most risk factors that increase the likelihood of falling can be minimized or eliminated. A few of the most common risk factors and some solutions include:

• Trip hazards at home and work

Improve lighting, re-route cords across walking paths, remove clutter on the floor, remove or secure loose floor coverings, add non-slip mats to showers/tubs, fix uneven/loose steps and handrails.

• Inappropriate and poorly fitting footwear

Wear shoes that fit well and provide proper support for activities. Loose-fitting shoes, untied laces or those that hang to the ground, and especially "open" shoes like flip-flops and open-back slip-ons can contribute to falling.

• Lower body Strength

Don't be a body builder but ensuring strength and flexibility in our back and legs can mean the difference between a stumble and a fall with injuries.

• Medication

Many common over-the-counter and prescription medications can cause issues with balance, reaction time, dehydration, and other contributors to falls. Work with your healthcare team to reduce or change problematic meds.

• Poor Vision

Wear glasses or contacts that correct your vision as much as possible. (Sometimes we can't fully correct all vision issues.) In addition, be sure to remove reading and computer glasses, and look through the top part of bifocals or remove them before walking.

Every one of these risk factors can be identified and most can be completely resolved at little or no cost. At the same time, we can reduce the very significant medical costs of fall-related injuries in Idaho which is more than $253 million each year ($50 billion nationally).

Throughout September, Idaho Commission on Aging (ICOA) will be presenting free seminars about falls prevention. Learn more about:

• The full impact of falls on individuals, families, and Idaho communities in the Why Falls Matter seminar

• Performing home and office audits for trip hazards in the Identifying and removing Trip hazards at Home seminar

• Simple at-home exercises you can do by watching or following along as a physical therapist demonstrates them during the Simple Steps seminar

• Ensuring healthcare students and professionals include assessing fall risk as part of their practice by participating in the "brown bag" Falls Assessment As a matter of practice seminar

View the entire Falls Prevention seminar schedule and other falls prevention resources at:

<https://aging.idaho.gov/stay-healthy/diseaseprevention-health-promotions/falls/>

Isn't it a good idea to take charge of ensuring we, our families, neighbors, and communities can reduce the incidence and impact of falls? Physical and emotional health, loneliness and isolation, financial stability, and the ability to continue to live independently in our communities of choice depend on it. Together we can learn to reduce and eliminate falls.

Gearing Up For Fall Pheasant Stocking In The Clearwater

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Fall is just around the corner and that means it's time to start preparing for pheasant season! Here in the Clearwater, Fish and Game has four locations participating in the statewide Pheasant Stocking Program. Pheasant season begins with a youth-only hunt on Oct. 1 and continues with weekly pheasant releases until mid-December. To enjoy this local hunting opportunity hunters are required to register for an access permit prior to hunting at each of the release locations and obtain a regional Upland Game Bird Permit.

The Clearwater Region has over 1,100 farm-raised male pheasants that Fish and Game staff will be releasing throughout the fall across the following four locations. Each location is unique, so before putting on your hunting gear and blaze orange please follow the links below to find more information about the properties, directions, access restrictions and area maps.

Palouse Youth-Only Area: This property is a privately-owned, youth and mentor-only area enrolled in Fish and Game's Access Yes! Program. Please visit Palouse River Access Yes! webpage for more property information and how to sign up for access. Note that this property boundary has changed since last season.*

Genesee Release Area: This property is a privately-owned area enrolled in Fish and Game's Access Yes! Program. Please visit Genesee Area Access Yes! webpage for more property information and how to sign up for access. Note that the Genesee Release Area is a subset of the overall Genesee Area in Access Yes!*

Peterson Loop Area: This property is a privately-owned area enrolled in Fish and Game's Access Yes! Program. Please visit Peterson Loop Area Access Yes! webpage for more property information and how to sign up for access.

Craig Mountain WMA – Redbird Parcel: This property is a public accessible area owned and managed by Fish and Game. Please visit the Craig Mountain WMA webpage to view information about the WMA and visit Redbird Parcel webpage for information on how to sign up for access.

For additional questions regarding pheasant releases or the Access Yes! properties in the Clearwater Region, please contact Regional Wildlife Biologist Deborah Monzingo at 208-750-4226 or email at deborah.monzingo@idfg.idaho.gov.

Forestry Shortcourse Offered In Post Falls, Tuesday Evenings, Nov-Dec 2022

— University of Idaho Extension —

Many Idaho forest landowners desire a better understanding of how forests grow and how they can better manage their forest property to meet their goals. Furthermore, forest landowners are often required to demonstrate planned, active forest management to qualify for lower forestry property tax rates and cost-share assistance for management activities such as thinning.

This fall, a 6-session program, titled the Forestry Shortcourse, will help enrich forest landowners' understanding of forest ecology, silviculture, forest health, wildlife habitat, and other forestry topics. In the process, participants are coached by natural resource professionals on how to develop a management plan for their forest.

The Forestry Shortcourse will be held Tuesday evenings, 6:30pm to 9:30pm, November 1st, 8th, 15th, 29th and Dec. 6th, 13th, 2022, in Room 302 at University of Idaho Research Park, 958 S. Lochsa Street, in Post Falls. To ensure an effective learning environment, the program is limited to 25 people. A $38 registration fee includes a large binder of forest stewardship resource materials, including a wooden USB flash drive with over 120 extension publications. Those wishing to participate should pre-register no later than Tuesday, October 25 at the University of Idaho Extension office in Kootenai County (Phone: 208-292-2525).

The program is eligible for 7 Idaho pesticide recertification credits. For $120, teachers can also sign up for two University of Idaho credits for the program.

If you have questions on the program, contact Chris Schnepf at 208-292-2525. The Forestry Shortcourse is an Idaho Forest Stewardship program, co-sponsored by University of Idaho Extension, the Idaho Department of Lands, and many other agencies and organizations. The program will also be held in Sandpoint on Wednesday mornings, June-July 2023.

HOW WE MAKE THE PERFECT PELLET...

The process begins with RECYCLED tree by-products.

Only the highest quality, PREMIUM SELECT wood shavings & sawdust are used

Next, the shavings go through a series of augers which chops them into smaller sawdust...

This allows the sawdust to more efficiently go through THE DRIER

At this stage, MOISTURE is driven from the wood fiber to ensure clean, consistent, hot burning pellets, that far exceed industry standards.

Through heat and pressure, 100% NATURAL wood fiber is formed into a Super Premium Wood Pellet

RESULTING IN...

THE PERFECT PELLET!

BENEFITS:
Less than half the ash of others means less mess!
Low moisture content means much higher BTU output!

My Altar in the Woods

— Vivian E. Bogardus —

“There is pleasure in the pathless woods”
where the sound of silence reigns... where the peace and solitude within my heart and soul remains.

Healing comfort fills my being as I arise to heights unknown...
joy and hope my soul is seeing,
just my Lord and I alone.

“There is pleasure in the pathless woods”
where my Lord and I convene...
His Holy presence blesses with precious jewels, my soul redeems.

(Quote from Lord Byron)

Crawling Through Idaho's Rivers And Streams, Snorkelers Provide Valuable Fisheries Data

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

When most people think of snorkeling, they picture a tropical setting where the water is a comfortable 80 degrees and the weather is always sunny. You're wearing a swimsuit, goggles with a breathing tube, and swim fins as you flutter kick through comfortable water observing fish at the bottom of the sea.

For Idaho Fish and Game's snorkel crews, it's the Idaho way, not the tropical way. Donning wetsuits and head coverings, snorkel gear, and wading boots, no day is the same in some of Idaho's most scenic rivers and streams. Weather and river conditions can change at any time and it's tough work.

In late spring and throughout the summer, crews belly crawl upstream in bone-chilling water against strong currents, over and around rocks to collect important data that help managers make informed decisions about Idaho's salmon and steelhead.

2022 Big Game Hunting Forecast Western Montana

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

White-tailed deer numbers have been on an upward trend in recent years after several hard winters suppressed recruitment between 2017-2019. Fawn production looks good again this summer after our third consecutive mild winter.

Opportunities to hunt mule deer are somewhat limited in western Montana. Many districts require a permit or B license, awarded through the statewide application process earlier this year. For 2022, unlimited permits have been removed and, in some of those districts, have been replaced with a shortened three-week season for bucks. Mule deer hunters should plan to go high in the mountains for the best opportunity at bigger bucks. Pay close attention to the regulations to make sure you are aware of season length and are properly licensed to hunt mule deer.

Three consecutive mild winters have contributed to normal overwinter elk calf survival, which should pay dividends for hunters on public lands this year and in the coming years.

Hunters are encouraged to read the regulations closely as there are multiple changes this year including some hunting district boundary changes in HDs 201/202/240/285 and elimination of HDs 203 and 283. Holders of limited bull permits are now restricted to hunting the district they hold their permit, with the exception of HD 270. Antlerless permits have been removed and replaced in some places with B licenses. There are still some early and late shoulder season opportunities but note that late season rifle opportunities end Jan. 8 this season.

There are only a few pronghorn hunting opportunities in western Montana. Hunting is limited to a few hunters who received a license through a special drawing.

For more information on deer, elk and pronghorn numbers and hunting opportunities in western Montana, check out past editions of the FWP Region 2 Wildlife Quarterly, available online at fwp.mt.gov/r2-wildlife-quarterlies.

Oh, pardon me. Did I cause you to stop and stare? Hi, my name is Vinny! I wondered if you were looking for a new adventure partner. I'm a fun-loving pup who is full of love, a bit of a talker, and ready to take on the world. I'm an 8-month-old Husky and I have been neutered, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Meet Hali! She's an adorable, friendly, affectionate gal who adores attention. Hali is looking for a loving family who will treasure her. If you want to have only one furbaby in your home, you need Hali! She is 1-years-old, spayed, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Public walk-through viewing of the animals is available Tuesday and Thursday from 1-4pm. Adoptions by appointment only. For more information about Kootenai Humane Society becoming Companions Animal Center and me, visit www.companionsanimalcenter.org.

FLASH BACK TRIVIA
POP, ROCK & SOUL
BY MICK HARPER

1. Which duo released "I'd Really Love to See You Tonight"?

2. Name the singer who recorded "Could I Have This Dance."

3. Which group released "Our House"?

4. Who released "Why You Treat Me So Bad"?

5. Name the song that contains the lyrics: "Right to the end, Just like a friend, I tried to warn you somehow, You had your way, Now you must pay."

1. England Dan & John Ford Coley, in 1976 on their "Nights Are Forever" album. It made it to No. 2 on Billboard, bested by "Play That Funky Music" by Wild Cherry.

2. Anne Murray in 1980. The song was used in the "Urban Cowboy" film that year as well as on the soundtrack.

3. Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, in 1970. Songwriter Graham Nash said it was about his very ordinary life with singer Joni Mitchell. The song has been covered by others, including Helen Reddy and Phantom Planet.

4. Club Nouveau, in 1986.

5. "Who's Sorry Now," covered by Connie Francis in 1957 on her first album. The song was originally written in 1923 and released by Isham Jones, and was considered a big band swing song.
