'Hip Hold' Is No Way to Stretch Your Dog

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My wife likes to pick up our dog's hind legs to help him stretch; that is, she holds Cheerio by the hips so his hind legs are up off the ground while he stands on his front legs. I thought I read once that this is not good and strains the dog's joints or back or something. Your advice would be appreciated. -- Zina J.

DEAR ZINA: The "hip hold" is a safety grip to pull your dog away from a fight with another dog. It's not a hold that should be forced or held for long periods.

OVER 20 BOXES OF BOOKS and magazines. Mystery, romance, excitement, boredom, love, eros, pathos, education and fantasy. It's time to downsize, and I've been packing up my collection and will sell them by the grocery store fruit box full! Prices start at $7 box and go to $20 box. A few are copyrighted in the late 1800s, many in the first quarter of the 1900s, most pre-date 1975. I will negotiate price for any purchase of 5 or more boxes. Text David, 509-216-8589

Stretching should be performed by owners when the dog's joints are not weighted -- meaning the dog should not be standing or leaning on the leg being stretched. Holding Cheerio up by his hindquarters and forcing him to brace on his front legs puts him at greater risk for injury. It can cause great pain in older dogs with arthritis.

If your wife would truly like to keep Cheerio's joints healthy and improve his overall circulation and well-being, there are some great safe stretching methods, and safe massage techniques as well. Here's a YouTube video of safe dog stretching exercises by a veterinary therapist: tinyurl.com/4ay7sfjc. Notice that at no point does the therapist stretch a joint that the dog is standing on -- they are all unweighted stretches.

Dogs also stretch themselves frequently, especially when getting up after a long nap. Don't try to assist their natural stretching -- dogs stretch in a way that's comfortable for them. Therapeutic stretching and massage are designed to help facilitate a dog's natural movement without placing stress on the joints.

If you have more questions about your dog's mobility, talk with the vet at his next checkup.

Hunter Recipes: Fried Rabbit

— Randy King
Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

If you like fried chicken, you'll love fried rabbit

The 20 gauge looks huge next to my oldest boy. The single shot is his now, a gift from grandpa, and he is trying to harvest his first rabbit. Or hare. Or, whatever. The goal is for something that hops, has big ears, and eats well.

My son and I are not silent walking through the waste-high sagebrush. We are deliberately trying to spook the cottontails into running, or at least moving. It is almost impossible to sneak up on rabbits; those ears are highly tuned to locate predators. Unless you are a ninja the rabbit will probably hear you approaching before you see it. However, the nice thing about cottontails is that they typically only run short distances when they are not being pursued. That said, a running shot is common, and is why I prefer hunting rabbits with a shotgun.

The boy finally lands a shot on a rabbit stopped under a tall bush. There is always an emotional reckoning with any harvest – especially the first, but the proud glow in his eyes as he hoists his first rabbit lets me know he is ok with hunting for his own food.

Butchering:

When breaking down a rabbit I get four separate cuts of meat. Two front legs, two hind legs, two loins and bones for stock. First, I disarticulate the back legs by first “popping” out the ball joint on the hind legs then sliding my knife above the ball. The leg should come cleanly off with one cut. The front legs are easy as well; they are not even attached with bone. I simply slide my blade into the armpit of the bunny and make a quick cut. The leg should come cleanly off.

To get the loins off I run my knife on either side of the backbone from the base of the neck to the tail. The blade should stop on the ribs of the hare. Then press the meat away from the bone and slide the knife under the loin. It should come off in one large section. Think of it as a tiny little backstrap. The remaining bones and stomach flaps make great stocks and flavoring for soup.

On a rabbit I will fry all the separate pieces like chicken. The meat is white and tender. They all take different amounts of time to cook. Fry the thicker back legs longer than the loins or the front legs!

Ingredients:

Chicken Fried Rabbit

- ½ cup milk
- ½ cup ranch dressing
- ½ cup flour
- ½ cup corn starch
- 1 cup crushed fine cracker crumbs
- 1 tablespoon Ms. Dash Original Seasoning
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon cumin
- Salt
- Black pepper
- ½ cup canola oil
- 1 lime, juice and zest
- 2 gallon Ziploc freezer bags

Recipe:

In one bag pour in the milk and the ranch, mix together thoroughly. In the other bag add the flour, cornstarch, cracker crumbs, Ms. Dash, paprika, salt, pepper, and cumin. Mix well.

Rinse the rabbit sections under the tap and shake off excess water. Add them to the cracker and seasoning mix. Remove to a dry plate. Then add them to the ranch dressing mix.

Remove to dry plate and then add back to the cracker crumb mix making sure to press some of the dry coating onto the flesh. When coated completely remove the rabbit sections. The coating will last for up to three hours. So breading them ahead of time is ok.

In a medium sauté pan add about ¼ inch of oil. Heat the pan for five minutes on medium low heat. Add one section of the coated bunny, if the pan does not sizzle considerably than remove the section and turn the heat up a little.

Brown the bunny sections, about 3-5 minutes, then flip. Most pans will have lost a considerable amount of heat by now so I make sure to turn the heat up to medium when I flip the sections. This will allow even browning.

When brown on both sides turn the heat down to low and pour off the remaining oil. Grab the largest section of rabbit and cut to the center to check doneness. Keep cooking if the meat is pink. The internal temperature needs to reach 150 + degrees to make sure that all foodborne illnesses are destroyed.

Right before serving the rabbit sprinkle on the zest of the lime and then juice the lime over the top of the bunny. This will give the fried rabbit a little extra kick.

Randy King is a recipe contributor to Idaho Fish & Game and lives in Nampa, Idaho. He is a trained chef, passionate hunter and angler; author of the cookbook “Chef in the Wild,” and has written food articles in numerous national publications.

THINKING OF NEW FLOORING?

FAQ's about LVP Flooring

Can I install LVP over my existing floor?

Depends on the flooring. In some cases, yes. Must be a hard flooring surface & if the height of the subfloor allows, then yes.

Will it withstand pet activity & moisture?

LVP/T is incredibly water resistant & has a wear rating of 12 MIL which exceeds the residential standard.

Does it take a professional to install this type of floor?

No it does not. It is a click-in floating floor & can be installed by any DIY'er.

How does it compare with the cost of carpeting?

Comparable, but carpeting needs to be cleaned & eventually replaced.

National Get Up Day

— National Day Calendar —

National Get Up Day on February 1st offers an opportunity to share inspiring stories of perseverance. The day reminds us to pick ourselves up when we've fallen and giving it (whatever it may be) another go!

February 1st marks the official end of National Skating Month (January) when rinks across the country bring communities together to experience skating's joys and benefits. One of the first lessons every figure skater learns is how to fall and to get back up. This day is not just about skating, though. It is about celebrating that Get Up spirit that applies to every aspect of life. The day inspires others through stories, pictures, videos, and social media.

More importantly, February 1st reminds all of us to Get Up when we stumble. We never know when our efforts to seek a goal or overcome an obstacle will encourage another to do the same. Whether you find inspiration on or off the ice, in a classroom, through a co-worker, or in your own neighborhood, share your Get Up story on National Get Up Day!

HOW TO OBSERVE #GETUPDAY

- Get Up! Get up in the morning, when you fail, when you struggle. Every single time, get up again!

- Share stories about the times you kept getting up and trying again. How did that change you?
- Give a shout-out to someone who perseveres because they Get Up!
- Encourage someone to Get Up. Remind them it's part of the learning process and the path to success.
- Create an inspirational post as a reminder to Get Up when we fall.
- Share what makes you Get Up and keep trying.
- Visit the National Day Calendar Classroom for projects and ideas to help you Celebrate Every Day!
- Share your inspiration by using #GetUpDay on social media.

NATIONAL GET UP DAY HISTORY

U.S. Figure Skating founded National Get Up Day on February 1, 2017, to provide a platform to celebrate Get Up stories in communities around the country and urge others to Get Up. As part of the inaugural celebration, the world was encouraged to share Get Up stories one week before the Opening Ceremony of the 2018 Olympic Winter Games in PyeongChang, South Korea.

In 2017, the Registrar at National Day Calendar® proclaimed the observance to be celebrated on February 1st, annually.

Get Up FAQ

Q. Is National Get Up Day only for athletes?

A. No. Everyone needs encouragement to "get up" when we fail. The day serves as a reminder to keep trying, keep learning, practicing, and to try again. We only fail when stop trying.

Q. How can I motivate myself to Get Up when I fail?

A. Give yourself permission to learn from your mistakes. No matter what you're trying to achieve, there's always something to learn from the previous attempt.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Coal Scuttles

A fireplace takes a lot of watching and “feeding” if it is going to keep a room warm. Today’s wood-burning fireplaces use logs cut to the right size to fit into the fireplace. A metal basket holds the logs behind andirons, and a fire screen blocks the ashes and cinders from spilling out into the room. The poker is a tool used to turn or move burning logs. The shovel removes the ashes when the fire is put out. But what is the use of the big box with a lid that is on the floor next to the fireplace?

The box is called a coal scuttle. They were first used in the 18th century to hold lumps of coal for the fire. By 1850, coal had been replaced by logs, but the box is still called a coal scuttle. The box could also be used to collect ashes when the fire was out.

This coal scuttle is made of oak with brass trim. It was made about 1900 in the shape of an earlier example with four round feet and a metal lining. It sold for $125 at a DuMouchelles auction in Detroit.

Q When I was little, before I had my ears pierced, my mother let me play dress-up with vintage clip-on earrings that originally belonged to her mother and aunt. Were clip-on earrings more popular than pierced? When did ear piercing become more common?

A Clip-on earrings were a 20th century invention. The first earrings were for pierced ears. Post and stud earrings appeared in the mid-1800s, but by the end of the century, people saw piercings as barbaric. Earrings with screw backs were invented in 1894 as an alternative to piercing. Clip-on earrings were patented in the 1930s. Pierced ears became fashionable again in the 1960s. As the styles changed, new owners sometimes put new backings on older style earrings, changing from clip-on to pierced and vice versa.

National Seed Swap Day

— National Day Calendar —

National Seed Swap Day on the last Saturday in January serves as a reminder to gardeners that spring is on its way. It is also an ideal time for gardeners to gather and swap seeds in preparation for starting seeds indoors.

The seed swap is a fundamental part of human history. Seeds were one of the first commodities valued and traded. Today, modern gardeners collect and exchange seeds for many reasons ranging from cultivating rare, heirloom varieties to basic thrift. The exchange of seeds perpetuates biodiversity, too. It is an act of giving and the ultimate form of recycling.

HOW TO OBSERVE #SeedSwapDay

- Exchange seeds with friends, attend a local seed swap, or help organize one.
- Post your events online so they are easily found using #SeedSwapDay
- Experienced gardeners offer seed collection, labeling, and preservation tips.
- Generate interest in your seed swaps. Plan urban gardens or community gardens. Not only do they improve the look of your community but they also provide nutritious food, too.
- Offer classes for starting seeds indoors and successful transplanting.

- Be sure to include children. They love to garden!
- Attend local events and show your support by volunteering.
- Share your seed swap events and use #Seed-SwapDay to post on social media.

NATIONAL SEED SWAP DAY HISTORY

The first annual Washington Gardener Magazine Seed Exchange was held in Washington, DC, on January 26, 2006. Kathy Jentz, the editor/publisher of the magazine had the last Saturday of January named an official holiday and National Seed Swap Day was born. After that event's success, seed swaps in other cities across the nation have joined in celebrating the day each year on (or around) the last Saturday in January.

Seed Swap FAQ

- Q. How do I harvest seeds for a seed swap?
- A. Collect fully ripe seeds of an individual plant lay them out to dry on a plate and expose them to the air for several days. The length of time will vary depending on the seed, but 2-3 days should be sufficient for most seeds. Place them in a labeled jar or envelope so you can easily identify the seeds. When you're ready to swap, place seeds in individually labeled envelopes.
- Q. Should I provide planting and growing information with the seeds?
- A. Information such as when to plant, types of soil that worked best for you, sun vs. shade plant, and germination info are helpful to others. If you can provide these details, please do. However, not every gardener keeps track of this information.
- Q. Are seed swaps a good way to start gardening?
- A. Yes. While most people swap seeds to add variety to their gardens, gardeners also enjoy spreading their love of flowers and vegetables to new gardeners.

HOW WE MAKE THE PERFECT PELLET...

The process begins with RECYCLED tree by-products.

Only the highest quality, PREMIUM SELECT wood shavings & sawdust are used

Next, the shavings go through a series of augers which chops them into smaller sawdust...

This allows the sawdust to more efficiently go through THE DRIER

At this stage, MOISTURE is driven from the wood fiber to ensure clean, consistent, hot burning pellets, that far exceed industry standards.

Through heat and pressure, 100% NATURAL wood fiber is formed into a Super Premium Wood Pellet

Annual RMEF Panhandle Chapter Banquet

— Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation —

The Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation Panhandle Chapter Banquet is planned for Saturday, March 18, 2023 at the Kootenai County Fairgrounds Jacklin Building in Coeur d'Alene, ID. Doors open at 4:30pm. Join us for a night of fun- including dinner, raffles, silent and live auctions, games and more. For ticket information and to purchase tables, visit rmef.org or contact Allan Main at cdarmef@gmail.com or 509-218-1626.

History

Four men from northwest Montana recognized there were a handful of organizations that looked after ducks, turkeys and other wildlife species but none dedicated to ensuring the future of elk. On May 14, 1984, they pooled their time, talents and resources and officially established the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation.

A Humble Beginning

RMEF set up shop in a double wide trailer in a vacant field just outside tiny Troy, Montana. The four founders—a pastor, realtor, logger and drive-in owner—pinched their pennies, borrowed funds and drained bank accounts to create an organization to benefit elk and other wildlife by putting money to work on the ground.

The team mailed 43,000 brochures soliciting members, promising a magazine subscription about elk and elk hunting, as well as an annual convention. Only 233 people, or less than one half of one percent of those targeted, responded. Still, RMEF felt a duty to carry out its commitments so it borrowed additional funds and printed 32,000 copies of the premier issue of Bugle Magazine. Staff mailed out the issues and hand-delivered others to grocery stores and gas stations across the West. But by the end of 1984, membership grew to nearly 2,500.

Initial Milestones

In April 1985, RMEF hosted its first convention in Spokane, Washington. Later that same year, RMEF helped raise funding for its first habitat project—a prescribed burn in a place fittingly named Elk Creek on the Kootenai National Forest near Libby, Montana.

A Year Of Conservation Accomplishment

RMEF marked a series of successes in 1988. It facilitated its first land acquisition—the 16,440-acre Robb Creek property in Montana. The organization also received its first major endorsement from the corporate community when Ray Goff, former RMEF board member and vice president of Anheuser-Busch, announced a $500,000 gift from the company. RMEF staff had grown to 12 in offices spread across three different buildings. With a growing membership of 32,000, including 2,000 passionate volunteers and 70 chapters, plus more than 110,000 acres of protected or enhanced elk country, the organization packed its bags and headed 175 miles south and east to its current home of Missoula.

A Conservation Movement

Since its humble beginnings in the mid-1980s, the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation now has more than 225,000 members whose support helped complete more than 13,000 conservation and hunting heritage outreach projects that protected or enhanced more than 8.5 million acres of wildlife habitat and opened or improved public access to more than 1.4 million acres, much of which was completely off-limits to the public. RMEF boasts more than 12,000 volunteers working through more than 500 chapters.

Today, RMEF is one of the most effective and efficient conservation organizations in the United States. Working together with members, volunteers and conservation partners, it is a strong voice for elk, elk country, hunters and public access as well as wildlife management and conservation issues.

Top Uses for Pasta Sauce Besides Pasta

You know those inexpensive pasta sauces? While they're indispensable for making quick spaghetti dinners, these sauces are useful for so much more than pasta. Here are several ideas that think outside the pasta box. Not a noodle in sight.

Easy Creamy Tomato Soup — In a saucepan, lightly saute 1/2 cup fresh basil (minced) in 1 tablespoon butter or olive oil. Add one (24-ounce) can of pasta sauce, 2 cups water and heat through. Remove from heat and stir in 1/2 cup heavy cream. Yields 4 servings. This soup told me it's lonely without its best friend. So please make a grilled cheese sandwich, too.

Sloppy Joes — Brown 1 1/2 pounds ground beef with one (16-ounce) bag frozen pepper and onion blend. Add 2 cups pasta sauce, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 1 1/2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and 1 tablespoon brown sugar. Divide the mixture between 4 to 6 hamburger buns.

Tomato Butter — In a food processor or mixing bowl with a hand mixer, blend 1 stick (1/2 cup) softened butter, 1/4 cup pasta sauce and 1/4 cup chopped parsley or basil. Use plastic wrap to roll the compound butter into a log; refrigerate. Slather on fresh baked breads, fish, chicken, cooked vegetables or rice.

ITALIAN POT ROAST
Yield: 4 to 8 servings
Total Time: 2 to 3 hours, 15 minutes
Here's a great recipe for those times when you can linger in the kitchen and enjoy your home leisurely filling with the aroma of a slow-cooked roast.
What You'll Need:
3 to 5 pounds chuck roast
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon each: salt, pepper, garlic powder
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 onion, sliced (about 1 1/2 cups)
3 carrots, peeled and chopped (about 1 cup)
3 celery ribs, chopped (about 1 cup)
4 - 6 cloves of garlic, minced
1 cup red wine
1 (24 ounce) can pasta sauce
1 (14.5 ounce) can Italian style diced tomatoes
Mashed potatoes or polenta for serving, optional
Chopped parsley, optional garnish

www.JasonCoblentz.com

Try this slow-cooked roast over mashed potatoes or polenta.

Here's How:
In a small bowl, mix flour, salt, pepper and garlic powder. Sprinkle the flour mixture evenly over the roast. In a Dutch oven, heat the olive oil over medium-high heat. Add the meat and brown well on all sides. Remove to a plate and set aside.

Reduce heat to medium-low. Add the onions, carrots and celery and cook until softened, about 5 minutes. Add the garlic and continue cooking for another 2 minutes. Then add the wine, scraping all the lovely, browned bits off the bottom of the pan, and cook until it reduces a little, about 5 minutes. Add the pasta sauce and canned tomato and stir to combine. Then return the roast to the pot and cover. Turn the heat down to low and let it simmer gently for 2 to 3 hours, until fork tender.
When finished cooking, transfer the meat to a chopping board and let rest for about 10 minutes before slicing. If the sauce isn't thick enough for your liking, you can continue boiling over medium-high heat, uncovered, until it reduces enough to reach your desired thickness. Taste and adjust seasoning. Cut the roast into gorgeous big chunks and return to the sauce to serve.

Some of these recipes don't use the entire can of sauce. You can easily freeze extra sauce for future fun recipes by placing the sauce in ice cube trays or muffin tins, then freeze and store in plastic freezer bags.

So next time you're feeling a little saucy, remember life is about exploring all the pasta-bilities, even those beyond pasta.

Pets of the Week: Norma and Arya

— Companions Animal Center —
formerly Kootenai Humane Society

Her little pink nose! The BOOP button! Meet Norma. This 2-year-old lady is sweet and has a gentle disposition. She would be a terrific companion kitty for a calm-environment home. Norma prefers to be your only furbaby. She is spayed, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Public walk-through viewing is available Tuesday and Thursday from 1-4 pm. Adoptions by appointment. Visit www.companionsanimalcenter.org for more information.

Oh hi! My name is Arya, and I'm a social butterfly, wiggle-butt extraordinaire. I'm a fun-loving, happy-all-the-time gal who adores people. I have a positive history with other animals and with children. I'm looking for a family who loves to laugh, have fun, and spend lots of time with me. I'm 6-years-old, spayed, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Feb. 10, 1535, notwithstanding the winter chill and in a form of protest that was, unsurprisingly, ridiculed by both Protestants and Catholics, a small group of Anabaptists ran stark naked through the streets of Amsterdam, shouting that they "had been sent from God to communicate the naked truth to the godless."
- On Feb. 9, 1861, Jefferson Davis and Alexander Stephens were respectively elected to six-year terms as the Provisional President and Provisional Vice President of the Confederate States of America, after running without opposition.
- On Feb. 11, 1916, American feminist and anarchist Emma Goldman was arrested and imprisoned for violating the Comstock Act just before she was scheduled to deliver a public lecture on birth control, which she argued was essential to women's social, economic and sexual freedom.
- On Feb. 6, 1952, England's King George VI passed away, making his daughter, Princess Elizabeth, Queen Elizabeth II. The sovereign received the news from her husband, Prince Philip, while on a trip to Kenya, which was immediately cut short as she prepared to assume her new role.
- On Feb. 7, 1964, the music world would never be quite the same after the Beatles arrived in New York for their first visit to the U.S., where thousands of near-hysterical fans waited to greet them at Kennedy Airport. During their appearance on "The Ed Sullivan Show," they whipped up an even greater frenzy, with 73 million viewers watching on their TVs at home.
- On Feb. 8, 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the electric chair, which was the only execution method used in that state, represented a violation of human dignity and was consequently unconstitutional, adding that electrocution "has proven itself to be a dinosaur more befitting the laboratory of Baron Frankenstein than the death chamber."
- On Feb. 12, 2014, in Bowling Green, Kentucky, a sinkhole estimated at about 30 feet deep and 40 feet wide opened under the National Corvette Museum, swallowing eight of the rare sports cars. The building suffered no structural damage and remained open, and though damaged, the vehicles were returned to display and remain a popular attraction.

Kootenai River Angler Science Program: A Win For Burbot And Anglers

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

If you missed it last year, get in on the action this year. Fish for burbot in the Kootenai River and enter a free raffle to win some great prizes!

For some, winter is a time to hibernate in the comfort of a warm home, enjoying a hot drink by a crackling fire. For others, winter offers a unique opportunity to try their hand at landing the native and once rare burbot in the Kootenai River.

Referred to by some as the Kootenai leopard or ling cod, burbot in the Kootenai River are once again being pursued by anglers. This is in large part due to extensive restoration efforts by the Kootenai Tribe of Idaho, Idaho Fish and Game and other partners.

Fishing for burbot in the Kootenai River closed in 1992 because of a declining population. The population has since increased and the fishery reopened in Jan. 2019. As the fishery is relatively new, Fish and Game staff are closely monitoring how the fishery and the burbot population are doing. Although we run an extensive annual monitoring program on the river from Dec. through March, we need your help to collect additional information!

For the second year in a row, Fish and Game is inviting burbot fishermen to participate in the Kootenai River Angler Science Program to gather information that will help us make the burbot fishing even better. The best part? Simply for participating, anglers will receive free swag and be entered into a free raffle for a chance to win some great prizes! Now we're talking!

What you can win

By simply participating in the program, you will receive a customized hat and sticker. In addition, you will be entered into a free raffle for the following prizes:

- 1 Yeti Tundra 45 cooler
- 1 big Buddy Heater

- 1 portable Buddy Heater
- 4 engraved Yeti mugs
- Cooler prize pack

But that's not all (no, this isn't an infomercial). Anglers can choose to enter an additional prize-winning opportunity - a photo contest. The owner of the best photo will receive a little Buddy Heater and an engraved Yeti mug!

How you can participate

- Complete and return a creel packet – Anglers must pick-up, complete and return a creel packet by May 1, 2023 to receive free swag and be entered into the free raffle. Whether you catch any burbot or not, you are eligible for the swag and raffle prizes. Just make sure to fill out your contact card and logbook and turn in your creel packet by the deadline. Check out this flyer for full details including where you can pick-up and return creel packets, and give the video below a quick watch to learn what is involved with completing a creel packet.
- Submit photos of you with your burbot catch – If you catch a burbot and snap a picture of you with it, you can enter a photo contest. To enter the contest, submit pictures via email to aaron.black@idfg.idaho.gov by May 1, 2023.
- Report tagged burbot – whether you participate in the angler science program or not, please keep your eye out for tags located in the backs of burbot.

By reporting tags, you are helping us better understand burbot catch rates, harvest rates and survival rates, which helps us improve the fishery.

Select tags carry a reward value of $100, so maybe this winter will be your lucky year! If you see a tag, please report the tag number and location of where you caught the fish to Fish and Game. Reporting can be done over the phone (1-866-258-0338), online or as part of the of the Angler Science Program creel packet.

Please contact the Panhandle Regional office at (208) 769-1414 if you have any questions or would like to learn more about the Kootenai River Angler Science Program.

Follow us on the Panhandle Region Facebook page for regular updates and news.

The Great Backyard Bird Count is February 17-20: Watch, Count, Share!

— Great Backyard Bird Count —

Join the Count: Good For You, Good For Birds

Positive vibes go both ways when people connect with birds

The 26th annual Great Backyard Bird Count (GBBC) takes place Friday, February 17, through Monday, February 20. Bird and nature lovers everywhere unite in the effort to tally as many of the world's bird species as possible over these four days. Combined with other bird counts, GBBC results help create a clearer picture of how birds are faring—whether individual species are declining, increasing, or holding steady in the face of habitat loss, climate change, and other threats.

“Based on the recently released State of the Birds report, we know that half the bird species in the United States and Canada are decreasing,” said David Bonter, co-director of the Center for Engagement in Science and Nature at the Cornell Lab. “We absolutely need the eyes and ears of birdwatchers to give us the big picture when it comes to shifting bird populations.”

Each participant or group counts birds for any length of time (but for at least 15 minutes) and enters the birds they could identify at each site they visited, whether that be from home, at a local park, or in a wilderness area. Those new to the event should read the How to Participate instructions at www.birdcount.org/participate. People of all ages and skill levels are welcome. And there's another reason to count the birds: It's good for you.

“Take a moment over this long weekend to observe, listen to, and count birds and improve your health, too. Birdwatching and being in nature can reduce stress and improve your mood,” said Chad Wilsey, chief scientist and vice president at National Audubon Society.

An estimated 385,000 people participated during the 2022 GBBC. They reported more than 7,000 species from 192 countries. Many GBBC participants discover a new fascination with birds and enjoy exploring (and comparing) results from around the world.

“The Great Backyard Bird Count is a stepping stone towards bird conservation,” said Patrick Nadeau, president of Birds Canada. “Taking this step in February launches a journey of discovery whether you're just beginning to learn about the birds around you or an experienced birder watching out for new feathered friends!”

The GBBC website has tools and information to help birdwatching newbies and veterans participate in the count. You're also invited to tune in to a special webinar about how to participate in the GBBC being held Wednesday, February 15 at 1:00 p.m Eastern Time (10:00 a.m. Pacific, 11:00 a.m. Mountain). It's free. Just register to attend this live-streamed event at dl.allaboutbirds.org/gbbc23-yl-livestream-0?hs_preview=AQUNQSnT-99187446297.

The Great Backyard Bird Count is a joint project of the Cornell Lab of Ornithology, National Audubon Society, and Birds Canada and is made possible in part by founding sponsor Wild Birds Unlimited.
