KOVELS
Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Hooked Rugs

No one is sure who made the first hooked rugs, but most historians think it was the Vikings. We do know that in the early 19th century, floormats were made in the United States from 9-inch-long pieces of yarn leftover from machines that made rugs.

The first rugs to interest U.S. collectors were made at Grenfell Mission, a philanthropic organization founded in 1892 to help residents of Labrador and Newfoundland, Canada. In the 1920s and '30s, they developed a cottage industry to make and sell handicrafts. Items included knitted goods and hooked rugs from donated dyed silk stockings, and later flannelette, wool and burlap. The rugs had artists' scenes of Labrador and were sold in retail shops in the U.S. and England. Grenfell rugs are now prized by collectors.

By 1940, rug making had become an art form, not just a job for the poor. Artists and amateurs made hooked rugs to use or sell. This hooked rug pictures a map of the United States. On the back it reads, "For Peter Stone on his 5th birthday Nov. 10, 1940, with Carlo's love." Perfect provenance. It sold at a Cowan's auction for $469.

Q I found an old serving tray in a resale shop that caught my eye. It is handpainted with flowers and leaves. There is a lot of gold detail. It looks old. The saleswoman said it was toleware. What is that?

A Toleware is painted tinware, usually with a black varnished background and designs painted on by hand or stenciled. It is correct to call any painted tin-plated sheet metal "painted tin." Tin was painted to protect it from rust as well as to make it attractive. Toleware made before the 19th century was often called japanned ware. The designs were sometimes inspired by Japanese lacquer ware. Toleware prices depend on the design and whether there is rust or paint loss. It is very popular today and a tray can sell for $200 or more. There is also toleware with a red background.

This hooked rug with a picture of the continental United States has the name of the recipient and the date on the back. It brought $469 at Cowan's Auctions.

TIP: Don't shake dirt out of a small rug. The whipping action will break small fibers and loosen the knots. You can put it face down on clean snow. It will remove dust and dirt.

Creamy Potato Salad

This luscious potato salad is a perfect picnic accompaniment and makes a wonderful barbecue side dish.

- 4 pounds medium red potatoes, unpeeled
 - 2-1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/3 cup cider vinegar
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 1 tablespoon spicy brown mustard
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 2 stalks celery, thinly sliced crosswise
1. In 4-quart saucepan, place potatoes, 2 teaspoons salt and enough water to cover; heat to boiling over high heat. Reduce heat to low; cover and simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until potatoes are fork-tender. Drain; cool slightly.
 2. Meanwhile, in large serving bowl, combine vinegar, sugar, mustard, pepper and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt.
 3. When potatoes are cool enough to handle, cut each into quarters or eighths if large. Add warm potatoes to dressing in bowl; gently stir with rubber spatula until well-coated. Let potato mixture stand 30 minutes to absorb dressing, stirring occasionally.
 4. Gently stir mayonnaise and celery into potato mixture until evenly coated. Serve warm or cover and refrigerate up to 1 day to serve cold.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Coffee Grinder

In the 1950s, there were still A&P grocery stores that only sold bags of coffee beans that had to be ground in large iron grinder in the store, even though there were other brands of round beans in bags. The customer chose the type and could grind it or ask a clerk to help. Some health food stores today still sell customers freshly ground coffee.

This strange looking cast-iron tool is a coffee grinder. Beans go in the top, the lid is put in place and the beans are ground and drop into the lower section mounted on a wooden base.

The Enterprise Manufacturing Company founded in Philadelphia in 1864 was one of the leading makers of both large store grinders and small iron grinders to be used at home. They also made juicers, Mrs. Potts sad irons, winks, tobacco cutters and other kitchen tools. The Enterprise store grinder made from 1886 to 1898 was 42 inches high and had two 25-inch-diameter wheels. It was a useful, expensive, status symbol for the grocery store. They were usually painted red or green with added decal decorations.

The 19th-century kitchen coffee grinder could be an iron grinder that mounted into a wooden box and made up to four servings or a wall-mounted grinder that could handle a pound of beans at a time. Collectors today like the cast-iron wall-mounted type with brass trim and a wooden drawer that caught the ground coffee. Most desirable for display if there is space is the large two-wheel grinder with an eagle finial and a cast iron stand.

Pictured is an Enterprise No. 1 cast iron coffee grinder in an unusual shape. It is 12 inches high, mounted on a wooden base. It sold several years ago at a Conestoga auction for $413.

Q: We have a Patent Magneto-Electric Machine for Nervous Diseases. It's in a wooden box. We'd like to know the history and value of this machine.

A: The electromagnetic machine is a quack medical device popular in the late 1800s. The patient held a metal cylinder in each hand while the operator turned a crank to deliver a mild shock to the patient. The flow of electricity was regulated by the speed at which the crank was turned. Some claimed it could cure diabetes, heart disease, cancer, tuberculosis and other diseases. A Davis & Kidder's Patent Magneto-Electric Machine for Nervous Diseases, patented in 1854, sold at auction for $360 in 2018.

Royal Doulton, Bunnykins figurine, Home Run, DB 43, baseball player in batting stance, bat on shoulder, blue pants, ears pop through tan cap, 1986-1993, 4 inches, $25.

Photograph, black and white, B.B. King, posing with hands on knee, autographed, marked RP Record Artist promo, Buffalo Booking Agency, 1950s, 8 x 10 inches, $190.

Toy, magic kit, Mysto Magic Exhibition Set No. 20, props and instructions for 15 tricks, fitted box with magician graphics, A.C. Gilbert Co., c. 1940, 20 x 13 x 6 inches, $490.

Community Pond Program Grant Money Available

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

HELENA – Groups or individuals interested in constructing or improving a community fishing pond have until Feb. 1 to apply for a Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' Community Pond Program grant. The objective of the Community Pond Program is to enhance public fishing opportunities in or near Montana communities by providing funding that may be used to construct or improve a public fishing pond.

Applicants must provide at least 30 percent of the total project cost, which can include contributions such as heavy equipment time, construction materials, labor, engineering services and more. Anyone wishing to sponsor a project may apply. A total of $100,000 in grant funds is available for projects on ponds that offer public fishing opportunities. Past projects include building habitat structures, dock installations, pond dredging, ADA-accessible angling amenities and the purchase of aerators.

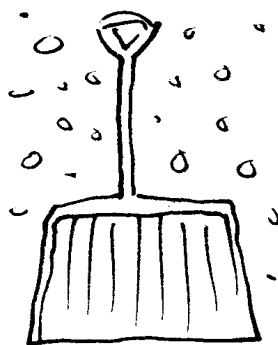

Since 2003, the Community Pond Program has funded projects that benefit young anglers and their families by providing locations where individuals of all ages can learn angling skills. Additional information on the Community Pond Program, including a grant application form, is available on the FWP website at fwp.mt.gov/about-fwp/grant-programs/community-pond.

Applications, which are accepted each year, must be received on or before Feb. 1. Applicants are required to contact their local FWP fisheries biologist to obtain project support. For more information, contact Michelle McGree, FWP program officer, at 406-444-2432 or mmcgree@mt.gov.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Jan. 16, 1547, Ivan IV Vasilyevich (aka "Ivan the Terrible") crowned himself the first czar of Moscow. But was that nickname really deserved? Yes and no: "Terrible" more accurately meant "strong," "menacing" and "impressive" in his day, but there's no denying the ruler had a pretty fierce, and on occasion murderous, temper as well.
- On Jan. 22, 1930, excavation began for the Empire State Building. Completed just a little more than a year after construction started, at 102 stories it held the record for world's tallest building until 1972, when it was succeeded by the city's World Trade Center.
- On Jan. 17, 1949, the first Volkswagen Type 1, or Beetle, in the U.S. arrived from Germany. It was designed by Ferdinand Porsche at the request of Adolf Hitler and sold well because it was not just well built, but reasonably priced, soon becoming "America's budget car."
- On Jan. 19, 1977, citizens of Miami received a jaw-droppingly unexpected gift from the sky – a dusting of snow for the first time in the city's history. To date, it was also the last occurrence. Well, maybe next year ...
- On Jan. 18, 1996, Lisa Marie Presley filed for divorce from Michael Jackson. Speculation as to the cause of the split ran as rampant as the questioning of the rather bizarre coupling in the first place, but Presley herself laid the blame simply on "irreconcilable differences."
- On Jan. 20, 2010, the Chinese government banned the movie "Avatar," claiming its plot mirrored the nation's forced land evictions. Officials feared the fictional indigenous Na'vi race's revolt could prompt a similar uprising among real-life citizens.
- On Jan. 21, 2014, activist Kanstantsin Zhukouski nominated his pet parrot in a local council election in Belarus. Unfortunately, he never found out whether the parrot could have actually won, as he soon withdrew its candidacy, probably to avoid a penalty after proving his aimed-for point on the uselessness of his country's politics.

Grizzly Bear and Livestock Incidents In Panhandle Region Continue To Be A Challenge

— Idaho Fish and Game —

Idaho Fish and Game staff have confirmed three separate incidents of bears attacking and killing livestock in Bonner and Boundary counties in late-June

Idaho Fish and Game staff were recently notified of livestock that were killed in late-June in the Panhandle.

The first incident occurred on June 24 and was reported to Fish and Game on June 27. A pig was killed by a confirmed grizzly bear near Good Grief in Boundary County, just south of the Canadian border. In response to the incident, a Fish and Game Conservation Officer along with USDA Wildlife Services staff investigated the scene, provided the landowner with electric fencing to secure remaining livestock and set traps on the property to try and capture the bear.

The second and third incidents occurred near Elmira in Bonner County. A domestic pig was killed by a confirmed grizzly bear on June 28. On the evening of June 29, four goats were killed by a bear on a nearby property. Further investigation could not confirm the species of the bear responsible for the goats' deaths, but given the close proximity to the previous attack, it is likely the same grizzly bear.

In response to the incidents, Fish and Game Conservation Officers and USDA Wildlife Services staff provided the landowners with electric fencing to secure remaining livestock and set multiple traps in an attempt to capture the bear.

If grizzly bears are successfully trapped at the location of any of the incidents, staff will check for lip tattoos and ear tags to determine whether or not the bears have been encountered before or if they are previously undocumented animals.

In addition, if bears are captured, US Fish and Wildlife staff along with Fish and Game will collect biological data including DNA, measurements, sex and age. If bears are relocated, a GPS collar will be placed on them for future tracking of their movements and behaviors.

We are here to help

Two Fish and Game employees are largely dedicated to grizzly bear management and education in the Panhandle Region. The first is a Grizzly Bear Enforcement and Education Senior Conservation Officer, and the second is a seasonal Grizzly Bear Management and Education Biologist.

The positions exist to respond to grizzly bear-human conflicts, work with landowners to prevent future bear conflicts and provide bear education and outreach. Both positions are based out of Boundary County, and as part of their program, supplies and support can be provided to the public for grizzly bear-human conflicts.

Landowners can request assistance with and a variety of educational materials for "living in bear country" by contacting the Panhandle Regional office at (208) 769-1414. We encourage the public to take advantage of the resources we have available to help. In addition, cost-sharing programs through other entities exist for reducing human-bear conflicts.

Important reminders

We've said it before but it can't be said enough, there are some simple steps homeowners and landowners can take to make their properties less attractive to bears and reduce the likelihood of potential problems.

- Electric fences are the most effective deterrent for grizzly bears. If you have livestock, secure them overnight in a barn, or corral them in an electrified fence.
- Properly dispose of attractants, including trash, animal carcasses, compost, livestock feed and beehives.
- Securely store food, garbage and other attractants in a bear-resistant place.
- Keep pet food secured as you do your own. Bears like pet food as much as your pet does.
- Avoid filling bird feeders until wintertime.
- Do not bury or throw garbage into the nearby woods.
- Make sure to clean your grills and keep them in a building, if possible.

In addition, here are a few tips in the event you do encounter a bear:

- Never approach bears, always stay at least 300 feet away.
- Do not interrupt bear activities.
- Never feed bears.
- Carry bear spray and know how to use it.
- Never run if you encounter a bear.

Know the difference between a defensive encounter and a predatory encounter and how to respond in each situation. Check out this helpful video for details.

For more information or if you have questions, please contact the Panhandle Regional office.

You can also follow the Panhandle Region Facebook page to get regular news and updates.

Bake Swedish Pepparkakor Cookies for the Holidays

It's cookie-baking season, and with so many tempting possibilities online and in magazines this time of year, I'm inspired to try something new, but inevitably fall back on favorites that my family has baked for generations – like pepparkakor, Swedish ginger cookies.

The thin spice cookies are a tradition in Sweden and often made in circle, star and heart shapes, sometimes with a hole at the top for stringing and hanging from a Christmas tree, mantel or kitchen windowsill. They are especially enjoyed during the celebration of Santa Lucia Day on Dec. 13.

There's an abundance of pepparkakor recipes, some using molasses to give the cookie a dense, gingerbreadly flavor. Our family prefers this one that comes from my great-aunt Lil's 1940s recipe collection. Light and crispy, the flavor is so satisfying, no wonder she wrote in the margins: "Varldens Godaste," or "World's Tastiest."

Before you begin, set out your supplies so kids can easily grate, measure, stir and roll as you assist. Let them go through your spice drawer as well, and check expiration dates to ensure that your cinnamon, ginger and cloves are fresh. Then get baking!

PEPPARKAKOR (SWEDISH GINGER COOKIES)

Makes 8-10 dozen 2-inch cookies

- 3-1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon ground ginger
- 1-1/2 teaspoons ground cloves
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 cup (2 sticks) salted butter, room temperature

- 1-1/2 cups sugar
- 1 tablespoon dark corn syrup
- 1 egg
- Juice and grated rind zest of one orange

In a medium bowl, whisk together flour, cinnamon, ginger, cloves and baking soda; set aside.

In the bowl of an electric mixer, cream butter and sugar. Add dark corn syrup, egg, orange juice and zest. Beat well.

Stir in dry ingredients gradually, mixing until blended. Divide the dough in half, shape into flat disks, cover with plastic wrap and chill for at least 1 hour.

Preheat oven to 375° F. Line baking sheets with parchment paper. Remove one dough disk from the refrigerator, roll out thin (about 1/8 inch or less) on a floured pastry cloth or parchment, and cut into shapes with 2- or 3-inch-size cookie cutters. Place the cutouts on prepared baking sheets. (Use a straw to make a hole at the top for hanging, if you wish.) Repeat with second disk.

Bake for 8-10 minutes until set. Remove from oven and let stand for a few minutes. With a thin spatula, transfer to cooling racks, and cool completely before storing.

Tip for young bakers: Collect vintage cookie cutters with small handles on top to make it easier to cut dough.

National Play Outside Day
First Saturday Of Every Month

— National Day Calendar —

If it's the first Saturday of the month, it's National Play Outside Day. So, no matter what month it is, everyone put down their electronic devices and get outside!

#PlayOutsideDay

All year long, we are given numerous opportunities to get outside and play. But sometimes, life, responsibilities, and distractions keep us from spending time in the fresh air as we should. National Play Outside Day is a reminder to stretch our legs and expend some energy in the great outdoors.

Benefits of Outdoor Play

Why is playing outside so good for us? Besides getting us off the sofa or away from the desk, it also gives us an opportunity to explore our neighborhoods. While it's impossible to list all the benefits of outdoor play, we do have a few to share.

- Playing outdoors is a freeing activity. It frees us from routines, enclosed spaces, and frames of mind.
- The outdoors fills us with energy. Whether it's the fresh air, sunshine, or physical activity, we perk up and become motivated to accomplish things.
- It clears the cobwebs from our brains. We sometimes get stuck on a topic, project, or issue and are unable to resolve it. A change of scene often brings clarity we didn't have before.
- Outdoor play provides terrific physical activity for our bodies. Our hearts pump fresh oxygen to our limbs and brains.
- We experience new sights and sounds. Children get to experience the world around them.
- As a social activity, playing outside encourages positive interactions.
- When you play outside every month, it becomes habit-forming – and this is one good habit to have!

- It stimulates the imagination. Outdoor play almost has no boundaries. Your yard can be a kingdom or the playground can be a mountain to scale.

We've only scratched the surface of the benefits of outdoor play. There are so many more! So, be sure to get outside with the family on the first Saturday of every month – or even more often than that!

HOW TO OBSERVE NATIONAL PLAY OUTSIDE DAY

International Choreographers Day

— National Day Calendar —

On January 9th, International Choreographers Day celebrates choreographers past and present. It's also a day to show appreciation to choreographers for keeping dance alive in our hearts.

Have you ever watched a Super Bowl halftime show? What about a music video with dancers in it? If so, then you have witnessed the work of a choreographer. These professionals plan dance routines used in various kinds of performances.

The word choreography means "dance-writing." The word first appeared in the dictionary in the 1950s. Despite not being an actual word until the 1950s, the art of choreography dates back to the 15th century. This is when dance masters taught steps to Italians who belonged to the noble class. The court would then entertain others by participating in performances. Most of these performances incorporated ballet. These choreographed ballet performances became very popular throughout Italy and France.

Modern choreographers in the 20th century did not like ballet, however. These choreographers preferred modern dance instead. Today, choreographers embrace all different kinds of dance, including contemporary, hip-hop, jazz, ballroom, tap, and folk dance.

Along with being involved in every area of dance, today's choreographers plan routines for the following fields:

- Musical theater
- Opera
- Cheerleading
- Gymnastics
- Marching bands
- Synchronized swimming
- Show choir
- Figure skating

Some of the most well-known choreographers in history include George Balanchine, Alvin Ailey, Martha Graham, Bob Fosse, and Katherine Dunham. No list of choreographers would be complete, however, without mentioning Fred Astaire. He gets credit for transforming the way choreography is incorporated into a film's plot. Astaire's impressive choreography career spanned more than 76 years.

HOW TO OBSERVE

#InternationalChoreographersDay

On this day, dancers, dance companies, producers, and others pay tribute to choreographers around the world. To participate:

- Pay careful attention to the choreography when watching a performance of any kind.
- Learn more about the history of choreography and its influence on our culture.
- Read about other famous choreographers, such as Twyla Tharp, Shane Sparks, and Paula Abdul.
- Get together with your friends and choreograph a routine.
- Watch videos of famous choreographed dance routines like Michael Jackson's "Thriller" or Madonna's "Vogue."

Post a video of your choreographed dance routine on social media with #InternationalChoreographers Day.

Serve Up a Caesar Salad for the Whole Family

Romaine hearts sliced in half with stems attached, drizzled with oil and lemon juice, and then tossed on the grill for a couple of minutes is a clever, tasty side dish recipe. I snagged this recipe from my friends on the West Coast years ago, but now this popular idea of serving up romaine halves deserves another family-friendly presentation. So I decided to approach the idea with classic Caesar salad in mind.

I halved the romaine hearts, but instead of firing up the grill, I let the kids arrange the crisp lengths cut-side up on a huge platter. They then artistically topped each half with my fresh, homemade Caesar-salad-like dressing (minus the traditional anchovy fillets and raw egg yolks) and accouterments – capers and bacon bits for a tasty twist. Kids can cut pieces of bacon with kitchen scissors and let them fall as they may across each serving before they toss on the croutons. Success!

As an extra bonus, each portion goes from the serving platter to the plate without serving spoons, as guests “handpick” their salad at the handy stem.

FAMILY-FRIENDLY CAESAR DRESSING

- 1/2 cup mayonnaise

"Airborne Duties"

Developed in the 1800's, dirigibles were used by the military as bombers, aircraft carriers, a means of surveillance, patrolling and lifting. Before and after World Wars I and II, they provided regular passenger service as well. A series of disasters, including the Hindenburg, marked an end to carrying passengers commercially. Now we recognize airships and blimps as a means of advertising, or providing spectacular aerial photos for popular sporting events, parades and more.

Good Housekeeping Nectarine and Cherry Crisp

The topping is actually oatmeal cookie dough! You can prepare it up to a day ahead and store it in the refrigerator.

- 1/2 cup sugar
 - 3 tablespoons cornstarch
 - 3 pounds (about 10 medium) ripe nectarines, each cut into 6 wedges
 - 1-1/2 pounds dark, sweet cherries, pitted
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 2 tablespoons margarine or butter, cold, cut in small pieces
- Oatmeal Cookie-Crisp Topping (below)

1. Preheat oven to 375 F. In small bowl, with wire whisk or fork, mix sugar and cornstarch.
2. In large bowl, toss nectarines, cherries, lemon juice and sugar mixture until fruit is evenly coated.
3. Spoon fruit mixture into 13-by-9-inch glass baking dish; dot with margarine or butter. Cover with foil and bake 40 to 50 minutes until mixture is gently bubbling.
4. Meanwhile, prepare Oatmeal Cookie-Crisp Topping. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use.
5. Drop topping by scant 1/4 cups over hot fruit. Bake, uncovered, 20 to 25 minutes until topping is browned. Cool slightly on wire rack to serve warm. Or, cool completely to serve later. Reheat if desired.

OATMEAL COOKIE CRISP TOPPING:

In large bowl, with mixer at medium-high speed, beat 2/3 cup packed light brown sugar and 6 tablespoons margarine or butter (3/4 stick), softened, until smooth. Add 1 large egg and 2 teaspoons vanilla extract; beat until light and fluffy. With spoon, stir in 1-1/2 cups old-fashioned oats, uncooked, 3/4 cup all-purpose flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon baking soda. Serves 12.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Liqueur Serving Box

Antiques are given many names, often changed to be written in a new language or used in a different way, and there can be confusion. Is a "cave a liqueur" the same as a tantalus? Both have decanter bottles; both have drinking glasses; both can have locks; and both are used to serve liquor to guests, one usually before dinner, the other during and after a meal. In the past, formal service of alcoholic drinks, especially at banquets and special-occasion dinners, was important. The tantalus bottles held liquor, a distilled alcoholic drink like scotch. And it should be easy to remember that a cave a liqueur held — what you would expect — liqueur, an after-dinner fermented sweet drink like brandy, flavored with fruit or spices. The names sound alike but are spelled differently.

The two containers and contents follow formal rules of design. The tantalus has decanters in an open rack with tops that are locked, opening only with a key. The tantalus was named for Greek King Tantalus, who was condemned to stand in a pool of water in Hell and never be able to get a drink. The cave a liqueur holds small decanters and glasses suitable for the small after-dinner drink. Both of the serving boxes were large, often made of wood with added brass or other metal decorations and gold-painted accents. They were very much in style from 1850 to 1900. The 11-inch-high box pictured holds four decanters and 16 liqueur glasses.

There are many jokes about the locked liquor supply, but it seems possible that the locks were meant to keep the household help from taking drinks and leaving empty decanters or adding water or other liquid.

Q: I have several calendar plates in mint condition from the 1960s, '70s and '80s. How can I find out how much they are worth and how to sell them?

A: Calendar plates were popular between about 1906 and 1929. Many were given away by stores and other businesses as advertising. Some list the year in the center surrounded by a wide border picturing a calendar "page" for each month. Others have a scene or attractive picture in the center. There was renewed interest in yearly calendar plates in the 1970s to '90s. Calendar plates are still being made but aren't as popular now. Check websites to see what plates like yours sell for. The year is as important as the picture when determining price. Most sell for $5 to $30.

CBDC= MOB! (Revelation 13:15-17) I always wondered how the 'Mark of the Beast' was going to be enforced on you, the average american individual. Where you cannot buy anything, that goes against Sunday observance. But then recently, the issue of the CBDC has made it possible to enforce every person to comply with the agenda that is in place. Have you never noticed that as soon as Covid 19 pandemic came about, censorship came into play at the very same time? Covid 19 started out as voluntary vaccines, then turned rapidly into mandates. People are easy to control when they are willingly ignorant of the facts. Tim 208-217-8942, text
