Mule Deer Taken In Hunting Unit 32a Tests Positive For Chronic Wasting Disease

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

This the first CWD outside Unit 14 and the first of the fall 2023 hunting season

Idaho Fish and Game recently received test results confirming a positive case of chronic wasting disease in a mule deer buck harvested roughly 7 miles south of New Meadows in Game Management Unit 32A. This is the first known case of CWD outside of Unit 14 north of Riggins, where the disease was first detected in Idaho in the fall of 2021.

Fish and Game would like to get as many samples as possible from animals in Unit 32A and adjacent units to try and determine the extent of the disease in that area. Fish and Game is asking that all hunters participating in deer or elk hunts that are still open in Units 32A, 22, 23, 24, and 32 have their harvested animal tested for the disease. Hunters can take heads of harvested deer and elk to any regional Fish and Game office for sampling or get directions at idfg.idaho.gov/cwd on how to remove lymph nodes themselves and submit them for sampling.

This is the first positive case of CWD from the 2023 fall hunting season, but more samples are currently at the lab and those test results will arrive throughout November and December.

"This is an unfortunate situation, but it's why we test throughout the state for this disease," Fish and Game Director Jim Fredericks said. "If it's on the landscape, we want to know where, and we rely on hunters to provide samples so we can test for it and continue to manage to limit the spread of this disease."

Fish and Game is also asking people to report any road killed deer and elk in the Highway 95 corridor between Riggins and Weiser and any deer or elk that appear sick. People can call the Nampa regional office at (208) 465-8465, or the McCall regional office at (208) 634-8137 to report. People can also use the roadkill reporting webpage.

Chronic wasting disease is a contagious, fatal neurological disease that affects deer, elk and moose. There is no cure for CWD, no reliable live test for wild animals, and no vaccine for CWD. It is found in 31 states and four Canadian provinces, including all neighboring states east of Idaho. The disease affects the brain of infected animals, and symptoms include excessive salivation, drooping head/ears, tremors, extremely low body weight, and unusual behavior, such as showing no fear of humans and lack of coordination.

The disease detection in Unit 32A will likely be managed differently than the 2021 CWD detection in Unit 14 because most mule deer migrate out of Unit 32A in early November and disperse into lower-elevation winter ranges in the surrounding units.

"This situation is considerably different than Unit 14 for that reason," Fredericks said. "In the Slate Creek area north of Riggins, most animals remain nearby year-round, but migration patterns and winter ranges of deer where this particular animal was harvested are more complex. Most animals have already moved out of the northern part of unit 32A and will not return until spring."

The Fish and Game Commission has a regularly scheduled meeting Nov. 15-16 in Lewiston where they will hear an update on the situation.

National Espresso Day November 23rd

— National Day Calendar —

Get the pure coffee essence on National Espresso Day! Whether you sip one cup or keep buzzing all day long, November 23rd is the day.

The word espresso in Italian means 'quick in time.' Before the advent of the espresso machine, espresso was simply a coffee expressly made for the person ordering it. It was also made with recently roasted and freshly ground beans. The cup was brewed shortly before serving. In the late 1800s, this practice was commonplace in cafés and restaurants.

While today's espresso maintains the freshness quality, it has undergone a transition in meaning. We've come to know espresso as a highly concentrated brew served in smaller quantities. We may also use espresso as a base for other delicious coffee creations.

We can thank the espresso machine for this modern view of espresso. In 1901, Italian Luigi Bezzera invented the first successful espresso machine. The newer technologies produced a smaller, more concentrated cup more quickly than traditional coffee brewing methods. Additionally, this thicker, more intense brew created a creamy foam on top called the crema. The richer flavors and aromas of an espresso create delicious lattes, mochas, cappuccinos, macchiatos, and many café creations.

Beyond the range of beverages, the intense flavor of espresso lends itself to baking. Where coffee may become lost when blended with other flavors, espresso remains vibrant. Blend it with cream cheese, sugar and flour for a cheesecake. Add it to ladyfingers and make tiramisu. Many desserts call for espressos such as ice cream and crème brûlée.

How To Observe #NationalEspressoDay

This holiday calls for the perfect cup. Whether you brew it at home or visit a local cafe, you know how you like it. Will you enjoy your espresso one of these ways?

- Order through the local drive-through and pay it forward (backward?) by also paying for the customer behind you in line.
- Pick up extra espressos for everyone in the office.
- Have espressos delivered to front-line workers at the hospital, fire station, police station, or ambulance bay near you.
- Send a gift card to your favorite teachers for National Espresso Day, letting them know just how much you appreciate them.
- Step out of your comfort zone and try your espresso in a new flavorful latte or cappuccino.
- Realize you've never tried baking with espresso and break out the mixer you got for your birthday.
- You're a traditionalist when it comes to espresso. You only drink espresso. You don't add flavors. It's espresso. Don't mess with the espresso.

Enjoy a cup of espresso and use #NationalEspressoDay to post on social media.

Be sure to order our Celebrate Every Day® coffee beans to help you celebrate every coffee holiday. We offer 4 roasts, including decaf.

Espresso FAQ

Q. How do you say "espresso"?

A. The word "espresso" is pronounced like this: ess-press-oh.

Q. Can I make espresso at home?

A. Yes. There are a few ways to make espresso at home, including using an espresso machine. If you do not have an espresso machine, you can use a French press. There are a few things to keep in mind when making espresso with a French press:

1. Pre-warm your press with hot water.
2. Coarsely grind your beans, about 2 tablespoons.
3. Use hot, not boiling water to your coffee grounds. Heat the water to just below 212F.
4. Add a small amount of hot water to the grounds to allow them to bloom before adding about a full cup of water. You will see a few bubbles.
5. Allow the coffee to steep. Four minutes should be sufficient.
6. Be a patient plunger. Press it down slowly with equal pressure.

Make An Impact And Apply For The Citizens Shooting Range Advisory Committee By Dec. 1

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Committee recommends grant awards for shooting ranges

Idaho Fish and Game is seeking members of the public who want to have an impact on shooting range decisions by volunteering to serve on a Citizens Shooting Range Advisory Committee, which will be responsible for providing annual input about public shooting range grant applications.

We are seeking to fill the representative position for the Panhandle Region.

Members of the public who actively use shooting ranges, have experience managing or volunteering at a range and are familiar with the elements for safe public shooting ranges in their community are encouraged to apply for the committee. Fish and Game's intent is that the committee will represent a wide range of shooting opportunities that includes hunters and recreational and competitive shooters.

"The program is an important process that keeps our public ranges accessible and safe for Idaho's citizenry to learn and practice their shooting skills," Fish and Game Communications Bureau Chief Adam Park said.

The committee will be most active February through March, consistent with the shooting range grant cycle. Fish and Game will provide facilitation and logistical support to the committee, which will be administered with Idaho's Open Meeting procedures.

People interested in applying for a position on the Citizens Shooting Advisory Committee must fill out and submit an application by Dec. 1, 2023.

Information is available on Fish and Game's Citizen Shooting Range Advisory Committee webpage at idfg.idaho.gov/shoot/advisory-committee.

Download the application at idfg.idaho.gov/sites/default/files/2022_citizen_shooting_range_application.deadline_october_21.pdf

The committee has seven members, one from each Fish and Game region. Representatives can serve up to two 2-year terms, with reappointment at the discretion of the Fish and Game director.

The Citizens Shooting Range Advisory Committee was created as a part of Idaho House Bill 396, which passed in 2020. The law created a new Public Shooting Range Fund, which is administered by the Fish and Game Commission. The Public Shooting Range Fund incorporates the financial resources previously used by Fish and Game for shooting range grants. The committee was created to advise Fish and Game about applications the agency solicits each year for these grants.

Idaho Fish and Game has partnered with nonprofit shooting organizations and state and local governments that own or manage shooting ranges, including archery ranges, since 1978. The funds come from federal manufacturer excise taxes collected on the sales of firearms, ammunition and archery equipment and from state fine and forfeiture monies remitted for wildlife crimes.

Pack River Delta Habitat Restoration Project Beginning November In North Idaho

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Construction work for the Pack River Delta habitat restoration project will soon be in full swing for the 2023 work season

Idaho Fish and Game will soon begin a second phase of wildlife habitat restoration on the Pack River Delta in North Idaho.

An initial restoration project occurred on the Pack River Delta during winter 2009. The upcoming project will rebuild some of the landforms created during the 2009 project and build eight new islands and ten borrow areas to improve wildlife habitat on the delta.

Construction for the new project will primarily be in the central and southern portion of the Pack River Delta, north of the Burlington Northern Railroad line. A temporary bridge will be installed to span a main channel of the Pack River and provide access to the construction zone.

Contractors will begin staging material Nov. 13, and there may be some minor traffic delays along Highway 200 for a few weeks while contractors are building access from the highway down to the delta floor.

The Pack River delta is comanaged by the Corps of Engineers and Fish and Game as part of the Pend Oreille Wildlife Management Area. While sportsman can still hunt in the Pack River Delta during construction, hunters are encouraged to be mindful and respectful of workers and heavy equipment in the area. Construction work is anticipated to occur Monday through Friday during daylight hours through the winter and into early spring.

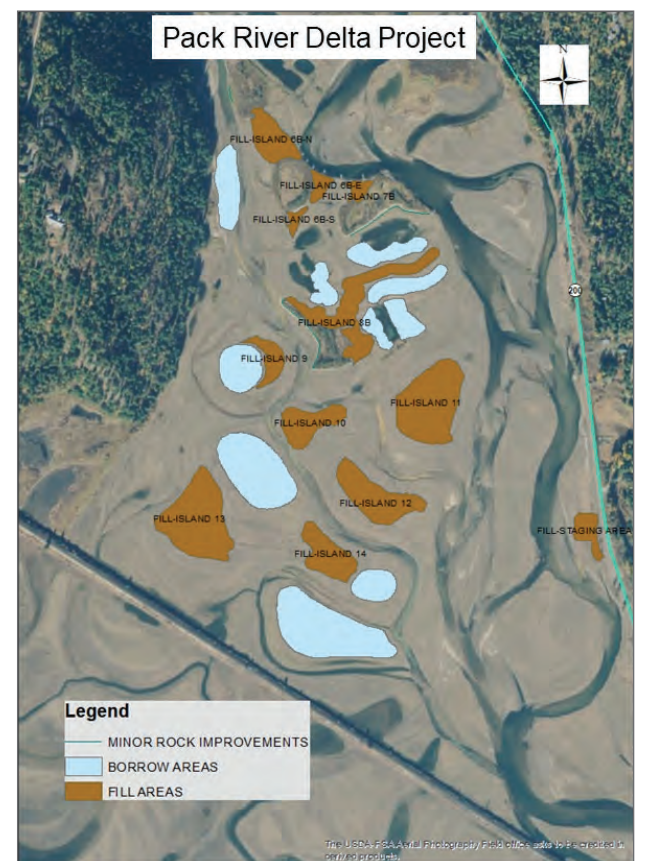

If you choose to hunt in the delta, please anticipate workers and heavy equipment to be present and active while you are there. To provide added safety to the workers on the project, yellow "Safety Zone" signs will be installed. Please do not shoot toward or within the safety zones.

Here are a few simple precautions to follow while hunting the delta:

- Abide by all yellow "Safety Zone" signs, and don't hunt behind or shoot toward them
- Always know your surroundings and what is beyond your shot direction to avoid unintentionally shooting toward workers or heavy equipment
- Stay clear of the bridge crossing
- Consider hunting in some of your other spots, or perhaps explore a new area

We recognize the timing of construction overlaps with waterfowl and trapping seasons; however, the project will restore and improve delta habitat by stabilizing banks, creating emergent benches and islands and planting vegetation aimed at protecting and improving wildlife habitat, hunting and fishing opportunities into the future.

Planning your trip

North Idaho is full of incredibly diverse hunting and fishing opportunities. If the Pack River Delta construction impacts your plans, check out the Idaho Fishing Planner (idfg.idaho.gov/ifwis/fishingplanner) and Idaho Hunt Planner (fishandgame.idaho.gov/ifwis/huntplanner) to get ideas for and plan your next outing. Both planners are great tools for sportsmen.

A guide to Fish and Game's fishing and boating access sites is available online at idfg.idaho.gov/access.

Fish And Game Is Running Check Stations In November To Monitor For Chronic Wasting Disease In The Panhandle

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Hunters can collect and submit their own lymph node samples at drop off locations throughout the region

Idaho Fish and Game staff will be collecting samples from deer at hunter check stations across the Panhandle over two weekends in November as part of a statewide surveillance program for chronic wasting disease. Staff are asking for help from hunters in providing samples from their harvested deer.

Chronic wasting disease was detected for the first time in Idaho in 2021 after more than 20 years of proactive surveillance and testing. The first detections were in Unit 14, which is located south of Grangeville. Another detection recently occurred in Unit 32A near New Meadows. Chronic wasting disease is a contagious and fatal neurological disease that affects deer, elk and moose, and there is no cure.

Although CWD has not been detected in the Panhandle, Libby, Montana, which is a short 22-mile jaunt east of the Idaho Panhandle border, has confirmed white-tailed deer, moose and mule deer with CWD in recent years.

Check stations will be operated Nov. 11, 12, 18 and 19 from 10 a.m. to sunset. Check stations will be located:

- Priest River: along State Highway 57
- St. Maries: south on State Highway 3
- Bonnors Ferry: Idaho Department of Lands (6327 Main Street)

Fish and Game also has freezers across the region where hunters can deposit their own lymph node samples or deer heads. Each freezer has instructions attached to it and information tags are to be filled out for each head and sample. All samples should be kept cool or frozen until transferred to a freezer. Panhandle freezers are located:

- Bonnors Ferry: Far North Outfitters, 6791 S Main Street
- Sagle: WaterLife Discovery Center, 1591 Lakeshore Drive
- Plummer: Heyburn State Park, 57 Chatcolet Road
- Kingston: Kwikstop Gas Station, 123 Stemm Loop

Hunters can also bring their own lymph node samples or deer heads into the Regional Office at 2885 W Kathleen Avenue, Coeur d'Alene from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

For more information on sampling locations or to learn how to collect your own sample, use the websites below.

- CWD Sampling Locations: idfg.idaho.gov/cwd/sampling/locations
- Learn how to collect a sample for CWD testing: idfg.idaho.gov/cwd/sampling/how-to Testing takes approximately four to six weeks after samples are submitted. For deer sampled at check stations or the Regional Office, hunters will be given a business card with a unique barcode number on it. The number can be entered into the IDFG sample results website at idfg.idaho.gov/cwd/lookup, where status updates and final testing results will be posted. Hunters that submit samples at freezers locations throughout the region will only be contacted if a sample is positive.

For more information regarding CWD sampling in the Panhandle, please contact the Regional Office at (208) 769-1414 or visit the IDFG CWD website at idfg.idaho.gov/cwd.

Helpful Tips To Remember When Interacting With Fish And Game Conservation Officers

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Conservation officers and sportsmen are playing for the same team

With most hunting seasons already open, Idaho's hunting, fishing and trapping culture is being enjoyed by many.

Amidst the hustle and bustle this time of year, Idaho Fish and Game's conservation officers are also hitting the woods to help keep people safe and to ensure Idaho's wildlife resources are enjoyed safely, ethically and sustainably.

If you've spent much time hunting, fishing, trapping or otherwise recreating in Idaho's great outdoors, you've probably bumped into a conservation officer. Hopefully for most, the visit was pleasant, productive and ended with a handshake!

A recent interview with Conservation Officer Jacob Berl in the Panhandle Region provided three helpful tips for interacting with officers.

Conservation Officer Jacob Berl with a confiscated elk rack

Question: What do you hope for when interacting with folks while on the clock?

Answer: "My guess is that most folks have had the opportunity to chat with a conservation officer at some point in their outdoor career. Although these interactions are usually friendly and benign, folks often report feeling uneasy during interactions with law enforcement. Interactions with conservation officers don't need to be stressful. In fact, they should be quite the opposite! After all, most people we connect with are law-abiding sportsmen enjoying the great outdoors."

Question: What tips would you give folks for interacting with their local conservation officer?

Answer: "I have three practical tips to offer, and these tips should make interactions more pleasant and productive for both sportsmen and officers.

Tip 1: Be kind and patient

When making a contact, we usually don't know who we are dealing with—a license check could simply be a grandparent taking kids fishing, or it could be a felon on the run who decided to get off the grid. This uncertainty adds to the challenge and danger of our jobs. The best approach during a contact is simply to be kind, patient and understanding - all qualities you can expect from your local conservation officer, as well. Our goal is to treat all citizens fairly. All good relationships are built on honesty and trust, and your relationship with your local game warden should be no different.

Tip 2: Ask questions

I'm sure most folks have heard the age-old adage, "there is no such thing as a dumb question". Well in the world of wildlife and law enforcement, those words might as well be scripture. Our job is to assist sportsmen in their understanding of Fish and Game rules and regulations. In a perfect world, everyone would know, understand and properly follow regulations, and I'd be out of a job! However, regulations can be complex and confusing, despite our best efforts to simplify them whenever possible. Sometimes mistakes are made and if you don't ask questions, you'll never get an answer. What better time to ask questions than when you have a conservation officer standing right in front of you? We aren't encyclopedias of knowledge, but chances are, we can answer most of your questions about the do's and don'ts and perhaps even share a tidbit about the next fishing hole around the corner. You just have to ask!

Tip 3: Help by reporting violations

Most ethical hunters, anglers and trappers will tell you that nothing upsets them more than seeing others abuse the wildlife and natural resources that we all collectively love. I couldn't agree more. It's no secret that we can't be everywhere at the same time, and wildlife can't speak for themselves. So we need you to be the eyes and ears, do what's right and report wildlife crimes. It's that simple. Reports of wildlife crimes can be made anonymously through our Citizens Against Poaching hotline (1-800-632-5999) or online."

Conservation officer contacting sportsmen

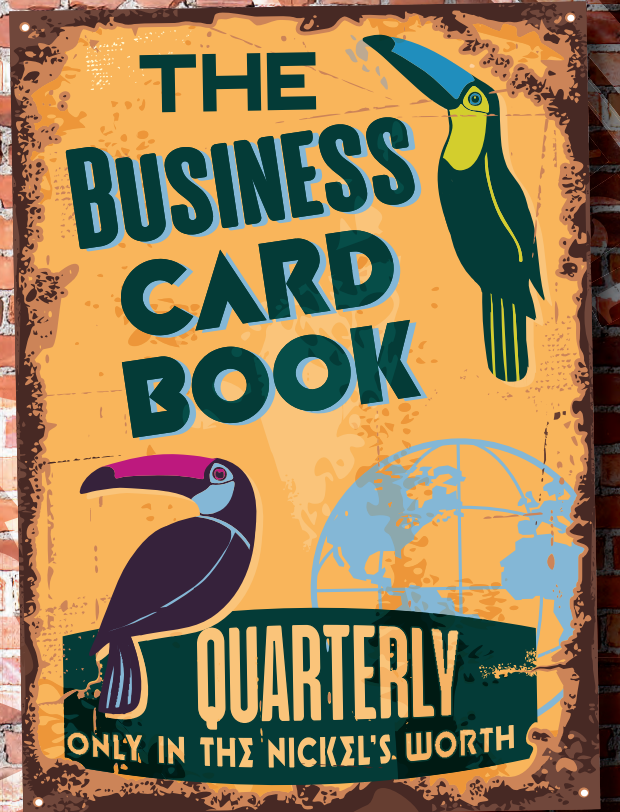

Question: Any parting words for people?

Answer: "Research shows that those who know, trust and have developed a relationship with their local conservation officer are more likely to report wildlife crimes when they see them. A great time to foster that relationship is the next time you're contacted by a conservation officer. If you know of or suspect wildlife crimes, please consider sharing your information with an officer the next time you see them. I can guarantee they will appreciate what you have to share, and more importantly, so will the wildlife."

Interactions with an Idaho conservation officer should be positive and improve your outdoor experience. Hopefully by keeping these three simple tips in mind, you'll be more at ease and better prepared for the next time you see an officer in the field.

Please call the your local Fish and Game Regional Office with any questions.

Make Pavlova, a Luscious Meringue Dessert

It was autumn when Lisa and Gareth Hedges and their two children moved to America from New Zealand. Sure, they had heard about Thanksgiving through movies and books, but they hadn't experienced it firsthand until they were invited by new American friends to celebrate together. Now the gathering has become a meaningful tradition for both families.

Thankful to be included around the table, Lisa recalled the first year that she offered to contribute something to the menu, although she humbly admitted that she didn't know how to make the green bean and mushroom soup vegetable dish or how to bake a pecan, apple or pumpkin pie.

"But I could make a dessert from New Zealand," she said to the hosts. "It's called Pavlova, a favorite for special events and holidays. It begins as a big blob of meringue -- crunchy on the outside and soft and smooth in the middle. When slathered with whipped cream and garnished with berries and fruit, such as kiwi slices or passion fruit, it's transformed into something beautiful and delicious."

When Lisa recently shared her Pavlova with me, I immediately understood why it's a hit at their Thanksgiving dessert table. It would be a great addition to festivities during any time of year.

PAVLOVA Serves 6

Ingredients for meringue:

- 4 large egg whites, at room temperature
- Pinch of salt
- 1 1/4 cups sugar, preferably superfine or ultrafine pure cane baker's sugar, such as C&H Baker's Sugar

- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
 - 1 teaspoon white wine vinegar
 - 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- Ingredients for topping:
- 2 cups whipped cream
 - Kiwi slices and fresh berries (such as strawberries and raspberries) or other fruit of your choice

To prepare oven and baking sheet: Heat oven to 300 F. Draw a 9-inch circle on a sheet of parchment paper, cut to fit a sheet pan. Turn paper over and lay on pan.

To make meringue: Using an electric mixer, beat egg whites and salt on high speed until firm, about 1 minute. With mixer still on high, slowly add sugar and beat until stiff, glossy peaks form, about 4 minutes. With a spatula, gently fold in cornstarch, vinegar and vanilla to combine.

Mound the meringue in the center of the 9-inch circle. Using a spatula, spread out evenly to form a disk. Bake 1 hour. Turn off oven and let meringue cool completely before removing from the oven, about 1 hour.

To serve, set meringue on a plate, and top with whipped cream and desired fruit.

The advertised loan is a conventional 30-year fixed loan with a 30-year fully amortizing term with 2-1 seller, builder, or lender paid buy down. A portion of each monthly payment for the first 24 months will be prepaid by the seller and held by the lender to supplement the buyer's required monthly payment. The buyer required monthly payment is calculated using an interest rate 2% below the note rate for the first 12 months and 1% below the note rate the subsequent 12 months. Savings are calculated as the difference between the Note Rate Principal & Interest Payment and the Reduced Principal & Interest Payment for the first 24 months. Based on an example loan amount of $689,200 the initial monthly principal and interest payment will be $3,320.22 for the first 12 months, and $3,708.44 the subsequent 12 months. After the initial 24-month period, the payment will be calculated using the full note rate of 6.99% resulting in a monthly principal and interest payment of $4,315.40 for the remaining 28-year term. The example is based on an 80% loan-to-value (LTV). The Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is 7.052%. There is no prepayment penalty. The actual interest rate, APR and payment may vary based on the specific terms of the loan selected, verification of information, your credit history, the location and type of property, and other factors as determined by Lender. Payments shown do not include taxes and insurance, actual payment obligations will be greater. Conditions and restrictions apply. Not all applicants will qualify. Not available in all states. Rates and terms effective 10/23/2023 and are subject to change. Corp NMLS #3113 | Equal Housing Lender | MAC HERE

Fibonacci Day November 23rd

— National Day Calendar —

Every November 23rd, Fibonacci Day honors Leonardo Bonacci, one of the most influential mathematicians of the Middle Ages. The date corresponds to the first numbers of the Fibonacci sequence - 1 1 2 3.

Fibonacci is an Italian mathematician who is also known as Leonardo of Pisa and Leonardo Fibonacci. Some say Fibonacci invented the Fibonacci sequence. This pattern of counting means that each number is the sum of the previous two. (0,1,1,2,3,5,8,13, etc.) Computer data storage and processing uses this number sequence today. The sequence is also useful in the trading of stocks and architecture. Another unexpected place we find the sequence is in nature. DNA patterns and hurricanes contain patterns showing this sequence. Math and science classes refer to the Fibonacci sequence as "nature's secret code" or "nature's universal rule." Additionally, the number sequence is tied to the golden ratio and the golden triangle.

The Fibonacci numbers were published in his book, Liber Abaci in the year 1202. Fibonacci's book introduced the Western World to the Hindu-Arabic numeral system we use today. This numeral system writes numbers as 1,2,3, etc. instead of Roman numerals I, II, III, etc.

Fibonacci was born in 1170. As a young boy, he traveled with his father, an Italian merchant named Guglielmo. During his travels, he learned about the Hindu-Arabic numeral system. As he traveled around the Mediterranean Coast, Fibonacci met with merchants and learned their arithmetic systems. In the 19th century, the city of Pisa erected a statue of Fibonacci. Today it stands in the western gallery of the Camposanto.

How To Observe #FibonacciDay

Math and science classes around the world hold a variety of fun activities utilizing the Fibonacci sequence. To participate:

- Watch a video showing the Fibonacci sequence in nature or a video discussing the magic of Fibonacci numbers.
- Look for items in your home or nature containing the Fibonacci sequence.
- Learn more about Fibonacci or other famous mathematicians, including Archimedes, Newton, and Gauss.
- Learn about other math holidays like Pi Day, Pythagorean Theorem Day, Math 2.0 Day, and Mole Day.
- Bake Fibonacci spiral cookies, a perfect dessert for the upcoming holidays.
- Do some fun Fibonacci exercises.

Make your friends think you're a math genius by sharing this day on social media with #FibonacciDay

Small Business Saturday Saturday After Thanksgiving

— National Day Calendar —

Small Business Saturday reminds us of the prime shopping opportunities right in our own communities. Not only do the small businesses where we work, live, and play offer numerous gift-giving possibilities, they are hands-on and ready to complete your shopping list with quality, thoughtful gifts.

Every year on the Saturday after Thanksgiving, the Shop Small movement energizes small business owners to prepare for customers in every way possible. That includes the traditional brick-and-mortar customer and the online shopper. The single-day event continues to grow each year. That means business owners are ready for you to shop their stores!

Small businesses feed our communities. They keep our main streets thriving and employ nearly half of the American workforce. Supporting small businesses means you're supporting your local economy, local business, tax base, schools, and infrastructure. Your holiday shopping will put food on the tables of people you know.

You will be doing your community some good, and you will also be finding quality gifts. Small businesses take pride in their work. They've worked hard for their dream, and it shows in their craftsmanship.

How To Observe #SmallBusinessSaturday

Keep these tips in mind when shopping this holiday:

- Check your holiday shopping list for those who would like handcrafted items and buy locally.
- Handcrafted means a lot of things. For example, woodworking to sewing, pottery to quilting, welding to jewelry, baked goods to preserves and so much more!
- Small businesses may specialize in one area or they may offer a variety of services. Don't hesitate to walk in and explore the store. You may be surprised to find what they offer, and discover the one thing you've been looking for.
- Who has a hard-to-shop-for family member? We all do, right? Ask the shop owner for help. They often have ideas you've never considered that will fill your empty stocking.

Explore your community while supporting small businesses. While finding your amazing gifts, give a shout-out to your favorite small business, too! Be sure to use #SmallBusinessSaturday to post on social media.

Small Business Saturday History

American Express founded Small Business Saturday in 2010 to get more customers into small businesses the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

Small Business FAQ

Q. What kinds of small businesses can I shop locally?

A. Small businesses come in every shape and form, and you might be surprised by the selections available. Nearly every community has a diverse collection of businesses though some are more common than others.

Small Businesses Near You

- Food and Drink - gift certificates, swag, specialty gifts
- Tattoo artist - gift certificates, t-shirts, hats, and local art
- Pet care - grooming, training, supplies, books, toys
- Book stores - books, book bags, bookmarks, games, comic books, art
- Photographers - portraits, frames, classes, art
- Butcher - meat packages, gift certificates, smoked meats
- Fitness centers - gift certificates, spa packages, training sessions, swag
- Music stores - music, instruments, gear, classes, art
- Hobby store - kits, crafts, tools, projects, supply, art, decor
- Sporting goods - equipment, clothing, games, caps
- Floral shops - gifts, gift cards, candy, gift baskets
- Clothing stores - wearables, jewelry, shoes, hats
- Technology centers - unique gifts, services, classes
- Salons - gift certificates, spa treatments, manicure, pedicure

Q. Is it too late to request a custom piece for the holiday season?

A. If you want to give a custom gift, it's important to contact the craftsperson as soon as possible. Many businesses that create custom gifts start booking orders well before Halloween. They often know how many orders they can fill in a set time frame.

Q. What kinds of gifts are custom made?

A. Custom gifts come in a variety of forms, and they are often offered by small businesses. Craftspeople often customize gifts with names, colors, or styles. They design large pieces to fit the decor, personal needs, or preferences. If you have an idea for a custom piece, contact someone local to work out the details.

Advertising Icons

Some advertising icons have obvious connections to their brands, like Planters Peanuts' Mr. Peanut or the RCA Victor dog with his head tilted as he listens to a phonograph. Others, less so, like the Clydesdale horses and Dalmatian dogs featured in Budweiser advertising items such as this hanging lamp with "The World Champion Clydesdale Team." The lamp sold for $625 at a Potter & Potter auction.

What do horses and dogs have to do with beer? The Anheuser-Busch brewing company, owner of the Budweiser brand, turned to making non-alcoholic products during Prohibition. Its repeal in 1933 was still a cause for celebration. August A. Busch, Jr., gave his father, the CEO of Anheuser-Busch, a gift of a hitch of Clydesdale horses pulling a beer cart. The hitch delivered the first post-Prohibition Budweiser beer.

A horse-drawn beer wagon proved to be an effective marketing tool, and the company got another hitch to make promotional tours. Dalmatians joined the tours in the 1950s, referencing the old practice of breweries having dogs to protect their horses and wagons during deliveries. In 1986, the Budweiser Clydesdales made their first appearance in a Super Bowl commercial. The company still has Clydesdale teams going on tours to this day.

Q During a recent thrifting excursion, I saw something I'd never seen before: A Blue Willow CorningWare warming tray with cord. The tray, working and with its cord, was only $5.99. I passed it up and I've been kicking myself about it. What do you think?

A I think you should have bought it. That CorningWare tray is worth at least $25 elsewhere. It isn't rare, but CorningWare is undergoing a resurgence of popularity. Prices for vintage pieces are going up. Blue Willow is one of the most recognizable patterns. Corning Glass Works developed the glass for Thomas Edison's light bulb. In July

Beyond the Bun: The Irresistible Hamburger Salad

In the realm of delicious salads, here is a dish that marries the worlds of fast-food indulgence and garden-fresh goodness. Welcome to the Hamburger Salad — a creation that tantalizes taste buds, ignites nostalgia and brings even the most devoted salad skeptics to the table.

Imagine the blend of flavors and textures; the crispy lettuce, loads of tangy dill pickles, the gentle bite of red onions, juicy tomatoes and the perfectly seasoned, pan-fried hamburger. This salad is the perfect homage to the beloved fast-food burger.

The secret ingredient that gives this salad the fast-food burger vibe is dehydrated minced onion. For this recipe you'll need 2 tablespoons of dehydrated onion, divided between the hamburger and dressing. You can rehydrate both together in 2 tablespoons of hot water at the same time and divide when called for in the recipe. Or you can use fresh onions, or a combination if you'd prefer.

Here's another reason to love this recipe. With just 1 pound of ground meat, the Hamburger Salad is a generous feast. This is frugal cooking that doesn't compromise on quality.

If you're really pinched for time, you can skip the croutons and use bottled thousand island dressing in place of the dressing recipe below.

HAMBURGER SALAD

Yield: 4 servings

Total Time: 30 minutes

Special Sauce Dressing, optional

- 1/3 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons ketchup
- 2 tablespoons yellow mustard
- 2 tablespoons dill pickle, finely minced
- 1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onion, rehydrated
- 1/4 teaspoon onion powder
- 1 tablespoon dill pickle juice
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar

Mix all dressing ingredients in a small bowl. Refrigerate for at least 20 minutes.

Sesame Croutons, optional

- 2 sesame seed hamburger buns, optional
- Cooking spray
- Garlic powder

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Cut each bun into 1/2-inch slices or cubes. Lightly spray with cooking spray and sprinkle with a little bit of garlic powder. Place the croutons on a baking sheet and bake for 5 minutes or until crisp.

www.JasonCoblentz.com

A salad tribute to fast food burgers.

The Burger

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 pound ground beef (85/15)
- 1 teaspoon onion powder
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onion, rehydrated
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper

Heat a large skillet over medium-high heat and add the olive oil. Once it's hot, add the ground beef, garlic powder, onion powder and dehydrated onion. Break the mixture into crumbles and cook until browned, about 7 minutes. Drain fat and season with salt and pepper. Remove from heat and set aside.

You can serve this salad with the beef hot or at room temperature, so you can make this ahead of time.

The Salad

- 1 head (8 cups) iceberg lettuce or romaine lettuce, chopped
- 1 cup dill pickles, chopped
- 1/2 cup red onion, thinly sliced
- 1 cup tomatoes, chopped
- 1 cup cheddar cheese, shredded

Place the lettuce on a cutting board and run your knife through it to chop it into pieces. Decide if you're going to plate this in individual servings or make one giant salad and serve family style. Either way, start with the lettuce (2 cups per serving) and drizzle lightly with salad dressing. Toss it well. Depending on how artsy you wish to be, compose the salad as desired. Place lettuce in each bowl. Top with beef, pickles, onions, tomatoes, cheese and croutons. Drizzle with the dressing and serve.

So, this summer, as the warm breezes come to an end (we hope!), the Hamburger Salad bridges the gap between classic comfort and feel-good freshness and is perfect for those last laidback alfresco dinners. It's the embodiment of simplicity — hearty, yet refreshing; substantial, yet light. Enjoy!

THE PCB CHALLENGE

PCBs CAN BE FOUND IN EVERYDAY PRODUCTS

How Do PCBs Enter the Wastewater System?

- Atmospheric deposition
 - RESIDUE RINSED OFF IN SHOWERS AND THROUGH HUMAN WASTE
- Consumer products used in our homes
 - DYES WASHED FROM CLOTHING AND FIRE RETARDANT MATERIALS
- Stormwater runoff
 - PIGMENTS FROM RECYCLED NEWSPRINT

THE "PCB Regulatory Paradox".

While EPA allows PCB levels up to 50 ppm in products, Federal PCB water quality regulations allow only 0.000000064 ppm for any wastewater discharge

PCB Regulatory Relationships (in parts-per-million)
Federal Allowance in Products	50 ppm
Federal Allowance in Drinking Water	0.0005 ppm
ID State Human Health Water Quality Criteria (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.00000019 ppm
Federal Human Health Water Quality Criteria (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.000000064 ppm
Spokane Tribe Water Quality Standard (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.000000007 ppm

THIS IS OFTEN REFERRED TO AS "PCB-FREE".

IMAGINE...
1 part-per-million =
1 inch in 16 miles
1 minute in two years
1 ounce in 32 tons
$0.01 in $10,000

What can I do?

THE PCB SOURCE INFORMATION IS BEING DISCOVERED ALL THE TIME, SO STAY TUNED.

Be a consumer advocate for plain packaging that uses less ink since a lot of common packaging contains PCBs due to inks and dyes.

Don't rinse chemicals, solvents, oil, paints, etc. down your home drains.

Thanksgiving Day 4th Thursday in November

— National Day Calendar —

Thanksgiving Day is observed each year in the United States on the fourth Thursday in November. The observance is a time when families and friends gather and give thanks for many reasons, each often as different as each person who gathers around the table.

In 1621, the Plymouth colonists and Wampanoag Indians shared an autumn harvest feast that many acknowledge today as one of the first Thanksgiving celebrations in the colonies. For more than two centuries, days of thanksgiving were celebrated by individual colonies and states. However, it wasn't until 1863, amid the Civil War, that President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed a national Thanksgiving Day to be held each November.

How To Observe #ThanksgivingDay

In many American households, the Thanksgiving celebration has lost much of its original religious significance; instead, it now centers on cooking and sharing a bountiful meal with family and friends. The pilgrims may not have even served turkey that fateful day in 1621. Today, however, the bird is so ubiquitous, it has become synonymous with the holiday. In fact, nearly 90 percent of Americans eat the bird—whether roasted, baked or deep-fried—on Thanksgiving, according to the National Turkey Federation. Other traditional foods include stuffing, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie. Another common Thanksgiving tradition is volunteering to ensure everyone has a meal on the big day. Some communities often host food drives and free dinners for the less fortunate.

Parades are also an integral part of the holiday. Presented by Macy's department store since 1924, New York City's Thanksgiving Day parade is the largest and most famous, attracting some 2 to 3 million spectators along its 2.5-mile route and drawing an enormous television audience. It typically features marching bands, performers, elaborate floats conveying various celebrities and giant balloons shaped like cartoon characters.

Beginning in the mid-20th century and perhaps even earlier, the President of the United States has "pardoned" one or two Thanksgiving turkeys each year, sparing the birds from slaughter and sending them to a farm for retirement. Several U.S. governors also perform the annual turkey pardoning ritual, too.

Share your Thanksgiving traditions by using #ThanksgivingDay to post on social media.

Do you need some tricks to help make Thanksgiving run more smoothly? Well, these 7 Thanksgiving Tips (www.nationaldaycalendar.com/lists/7-thanks-giving-tips-to-get-the-meal-to-the-table-on-time) will help get everything ready, right on time!

THANKSGIVING DAY HISTORY

Plymouth

In September 1620, a small ship called the Mayflower left Plymouth, England. The ship carried 102 passengers—an assortment of religious separatists seeking a new home where they could freely practice their faith and other individuals lured by the promise of prosperity and land ownership in the New World. After a treacherous and uncomfortable crossing that lasted 66 days, they dropped anchor near the tip of Cape Cod, far north of their intended destination at the mouth of the Hudson River. One month later, the Mayflower crossed Massachusetts Bay. Here, the Pilgrims, as they are now commonly known, began the work of establishing a village at Plymouth.

Throughout that first brutal winter, most of the colonists remained on board the ship. They suffered from exposure, scurvy, and outbreaks of contagious disease. Only half of the Mayflower's original passengers and crew lived. When the remaining settlers moved ashore in March, they received an astonishing visit. An Abenaki Indian greeted them in English. Several days later, he returned with another Native American named Squanto.

Squanto, a member of the Pawtuxet tribe, had been kidnapped by an English sea captain and sold into slavery before escaping to London and returning to his homeland on an exploratory expedition. Squanto taught the Pilgrims, weakened by malnutrition and illness, how to cultivate corn, extract sap from maple trees, catch fish in the rivers and avoid poisonous plants. He also helped the settlers forge an alliance with the Wampanoag, a local tribe. The alliance would endure for more than 50 years. Tragically, it remains one of the sole examples of harmony between European colonists and Native Americans.

First Thanksgiving

In November 1621, after the first successful corn harvest, Governor William Bradford organized a celebratory feast. He invited a group of the fledgling colony's Native American allies, including the Wampanoag chief Massasoit. The event is remembered as America's "first Thanksgiving. However, the Pilgrims likely never used the term to describe the day. The festival lasted three days.

While no record exists of the historic banquet's menu, the Pilgrim chronicler Edward Winslow wrote in his journal that Governor Bradford sent four men on a "fowling" mission in preparation for the event and that the Wampanoag guests arrived bearing five deer. Historians suggest that many of the dishes likely used traditional Native American spices and cooking methods. Because the Pilgrims had no oven and the Mayflower's sugar supply had dwindled by the fall of 1621, the meal did not feature sweets. In other words, no pies, cakes or other desserts graced the table, even though they have become a hallmark of contemporary celebrations.

The Next Thanksgivings

Pilgrims held their second Thanksgiving celebration in 1623 to mark the end of a long drought that had threatened the year's harvest and prompted Governor Bradford to call for a religious fast. Days of fasting and thanksgiving on an annual or occasional basis became common practice in other New England settlements as well. During the American Revolution, the Continental Congress designated one or more days of thanksgiving a year. In 1789, George Washington issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation by the national government of the United States; in it, he called upon Americans to express their gratitude for the happy conclusion to the country's war of independence and the successful ratification of the U.S. Constitution. His successors John Adams and James Madison also designated days of thanks during their presidencies.

In 1817, New York became the first of several states to adopt an annual Thanksgiving holiday officially; each celebrated it on a different day, however, and the American South remained largely unfamiliar with the tradition.

National Observance

In 1827, the noted magazine editor and prolific writer Sarah Josepha Hale—author, among countless other things, of the nursery rhyme "Mary Had a Little Lamb"—launched a campaign to establish Thanksgiving as a national holiday. For 36 years, she published numerous editorials. The editor sent scores of letters to governors, senators, presidents, and other politicians.

At the height of the Civil War in 1863, Abraham Lincoln finally heeded her request. In a proclamation, he entreated all Americans to ask God to "commend to his tender care all those who have become widows, orphans, mourners or sufferers in the lamentable civil strife" and to "heal the wounds of the nation." President Lincoln scheduled Thanksgiving for the final Thursday in November. It was celebrated on that day every year until 1939 when Franklin D. Roosevelt moved the holiday up a week in an attempt to spur retail sales during the Great Depression. Roosevelt's plan, known derisively as Franksgiving, was met with passionate opposition. In 1941, the president reluctantly signed a bill making Thanksgiving the fourth Thursday in November.

Luau Ambrosia Salad

If you have the apples, I have the recipe! I love autumn for many reasons, but one of my "first loves" of the season has to be apples! One bite of this salad, and you'll taste why!

- 2 cups cored, unpeeled and chopped Red
Delicious apples
- 1 (8-ounce) can pineapple tidbits, packed in fruit juice, drained and 2 tablespoons liquid reserved
- 3 tablespoons chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup miniature marshmallows
- 3/4 cup reduced-calorie whipped topping
- 2 tablespoons no-fat sour cream
- 1 teaspoon coconut extract
- 2 tablespoons flaked coconut

1. In a large bowl, combine apples, pineapple and reserved pineapple liquid. Stir in pecans and marshmallows. In a small bowl, combine whipped topping, sour cream and coconut extract. Add mixture to apple mixture. Mix well to combine.

2. Cover and refrigerate for at least 30 minutes.
Gently stir again just before serving. When serving, sprinkle 1 teaspoon coconut over each serving. Makes 6 (1/2 cup) servings.

Hi there, I'm George, you may have read my stories, I had been running loose for awhile! Once animal control caught me everyone realized, I am a great guy! I am a 5-year-old Shepherd mix. I always keep my kennel super clean and go potty outside. I walk well on a leash and I know some basic commands. I seem to enjoy the company of other dogs, but need a home with a fence, no small animals or children. I'm neutered, vaccinated, microchipped and ready to be your buddy!

Adoptions by appointment. Companions Animal Center is located at 10275 N Atlas Rd, Hayden, ID. We are open to the public Tuesday-Saturday noon-6pm, Sunday noon-4pm, and closed Mondays. Visit www.companionsanimalcenter.org or call 208-772-4019 for more information.

Hello, I'm Chibbi. I am a 6-year-old domestic short hair girl. I am sweet and I sure love attention. My purr will make your day. I'm spayed, vaccinated, microchipped and ready to be your girl!
