THIS MESSAGE IS FOR all Americans, bible readers. The bible states "prove you all things". Then lean not unto your understanding. If the reader misses the instructions then it is a long road that will give you a headache and no understanding. Once understood it's quite simple. The holy Bible begins with the creation of two worlds. Chapter one is God's word upon the earth. His instruction to the reader is The Tree of Life. Take note of the one that carries death penalty, whosoever sheddeth mans blood he will require their life. It can be defined as striking another with intent to do harm causing blood to flow. Both male and female are considered man in this world, the next world created by the Lord God is in the earth and of spirit. It is here the dead go to be with the Lord who is The son of Man, when seen in the bible it means one who does not follow God's instruction or ways. A follower of man's ways. In this world the Lord is both God and Satan. His world is titled the knowledge of Good and Evil. Both worlds are of technology and are not natural wonders. That is an amazing story in itself. The two worlds have very different Gods. Now, in the garden were two trees. The Tree of Life which is God's instructions. The Tree of the knowledge of good and evil which is the Lord's creation and instruction. Next, follow the instruction to Adam and Eve. They are told by the Lord himself. If they eat of the tree, they will surely die. To eat is to "take in". So, the Lord himself is telling the reader not to take in, believe or follow him in any way or you will surely die. It is for a good reason. Anyone who reads the Bible and cannot define the stories as of a murderer, liar, thief, enslaver, who is a great and terrible, dreadful God with fierce wrath, and follows him is an absolute fool. Thus, God doesn't want those. Since Jesus is the Lord's Christ or better worded The Christ of

NEW RELIGION? CLIMATE change is the worship of the creation (nature worship), while rejecting the creator of the earth (Jesus Christ). And Sunday is the worship day of this new religion (?). Now, the people who are loyal to the creator (Jesus Christ) will observe the 7th day Sabbath (Saturday), so show their loyalty to the creator (Ezekiel 20:12,20) Sunday has always been linked to paganism, which is nature worship. It has never been a day of loyalty to Jesus Christ, because no one, in all the Bible, ever observed Sunday, in honor to Jesus Christ. Tim, 208-217-8942 (text only) a great and terrible God with fierce wrath! He is not to be followed either, I will use an excerpt from the Gospel "Suffer the little children to come to me as such is the Kingdom of God". I believe the opposite. Keep the children far away with clear instruction. Was Jesus a Son of God? No, if true, he would have lived. He was a son of man, and they followed the same God. Again, sons of God do not die by scripture as they follow God's instruction. Those who follow the Son of man who is God of that world and he does have sons, they are dead yet alive in spirit! The Kingdom of God referred to by Jesus is the pit, lake of fire, hell, spirit world. Perhaps the Lord said it best, No man has ever seen his face and lived! Most Bible readers will know the stories Adam and Eve do eat of the word of the Lord. The Lord put a flaming sword around the Tree of Life, lest they eat of it and live. That sword is the Holy Bible. As a child, my mother did take me to church. I was too little and had no concept or understanding. As a young man I gave it a read and found it to be evil, nonsense! About five years ago I picked it up again with the same findings as earlier. It's been plus three years, I haven't picked up a bible. I over time have considered the writings and lean toward the book being evil. I haven't attended church since childhood nor have I been baptised by any church. I am not a fan of anyone using technology for his or her pleasure. There is a underlying truth. If God doesn't want evil in the world, stop creating it. All evil comes from above. The great mystery of the Bible is that you are not to eat from the Lord's tree, which is most all of the Holy Bible. Read and eat of the tree of life only which is God's word. If anyone wishes to respond, please write Box PP, c/o the Exchange, PO Box 11813, Spokane WA 9911. If it's worthy, I will respond. SDJ (Paid Advertisement)

5 Affordable Holiday Gift Ideas With a Personalized Touch

— Statepoint Media —

(StatePoint) Are you struggling to find thoughtful gifts for everyone as you make your holiday shopping list? Well, it's time to get personal! By giving a personalized gift, the recipient will feel special knowing it was created and picked just for them. Here are a few customized gift ideas that they're sure to love that won't break the bank.

1. Make Their Holidays Magical with Video Greetings. Perfect for spreading holiday cheer, SmashUps from American Greetings are highly personalized, smile-inducing, shareable videos. There are options for everyone, like a message from Santa that calls the recipient out by name and location, or a customized winter greeting delivered by a talking penguin. SmashUps can check the box for holiday greetings, or you can include a digital gift card to fulfill your gift giving needs.
2. Photo Finish. Photos are a simple and affordable way to personalize gifts. Start by choosing your favorite pic with the recipient and then determine how you'd like to deliver it. Whether it's in a unique frame, or printed on a personal item, such as a mug, blanket, keychain, phone cover or even an ornament for their tree, the recipient will know how much they mean to you each time they view it.

3. Initial Thoughts. While not everyone wants to be in pictures, adding personalization to a gift item by using your recipient's name, initials or monogram, can be a great alternative. And with a wealth of online sites, from boutique stores like Marley Lilly to major retailers like Amazon offering this service, you'll have endless options—at various price points—to meet your shopping needs.
4. Eat, Drink and Be Merry. They often say the way to the heart is through the stomach. So, whether it's a foodie friend or a family member who has it all, making their favorite meal, treat, drink or dessert can be the ultimate thoughtful gift. Plus, it can provide you quality time together as you deliver the delicious treats to their home or host them at yours -- that is... if they'll share!
5. Write a Message by Hand. In an age where everything is digital, seeing a loved one's handwriting—whether it's scribbled by a child or printed by a grandparent—can be a special memento and unique way to customize a gift. Gift ideas could be handwritten messages and affirmations; a recipe book of your family favorites; or your handwriting could be inscribed onto a gift item like a keychain, picture frame or necklace.

Just remember, it's the thought that counts. And luckily many personalized gifts don't have to be costly to be remembered.

What Will Holiday Shopping Look Like This Year?

— Statepoint Media —

(StatePoint) If it feels like the holiday season is getting longer and more reliant on technology every year, you're not imagining it.

According to the Sensormatic Solutions 2022 U.S. Holiday Consumer Sentiment Survey, 52% of respondents already started or plan to start their holiday shopping before November, and pre-Labor Day holiday shopping more than doubled over 2021. That said, the top busiest shopping days in the United States are all expected between Black Friday and the day after Christmas.

Whether shoppers are making a list and checking it twice as early in the season as possible or waiting until the last minute, they are also likely to be thinking all the ways to shop, including integrating digital options with a traditional brick-and-mortar experience, both which offer key consumer benefits.

"The past couple years have fundamentally changed the way we celebrate the holidays, starting with how we shop," said Kim Melvin, global leader of marketing, Sensormatic Solutions. "This year, shoppers are using the very same tools they once turned to for health and safety reasons to make the experience more convenient and affordable."

Sixty-four percent of respondents cited convenience as their top reason for using buy-online-pickup-in-store (BOPIS) or curbside pickup this holiday season, while 37% are leveraging these options to access online-exclusive deals. Shoppers are also blurring the lines between the digital and physical shopping experiences, using their phones while in stores to read product reviews, access coupons, check on product availability and conduct other research -- 27% use their phones to supplement their shopping experience every time they shop in-store and an additional 31% do so most of the time they shop in-store.

"While the majority of shoppers feel very comfortable making their holiday purchases in-store this year, factors like price, product availability and convenience are at the top of everyone's minds," said Melvin. "A combination of traditional brick-and-mortar visits and alternative shopping methods, such as BOPIS and curbside pickup, are helping consumers take these factors into consideration as they complete their holiday wish lists."

As part of its mission to solve complex retail challenges, Sensormatic Solutions is providing its top strategies to improve your holiday shopping experience:

- If staying within your seasonal budget is a priority for you or you harbor supply chain concerns, consider leveraging shopping holidays such as Black Friday. Doing so can help ensure product availability, and thanks to holiday promotions, help you secure reasonable pricing on needed items.
- One of the most frustrating aspects of holiday shopping is not finding what you need on store shelves. Using alternative shopping methods such as BOPIS and curbside pickup can offer greater convenience and help ensure that when you visit a store, you won't leave empty-handed.

For more holiday shopping tips and insights, visit sensormatic.com.

Though this holiday season may resemble the last few years in many ways, shoppers' motivations for going digital have changed. Having a game plan can help you score great deals and find what you need.

Good Housekeeping

Bulgur Bean Burgers

Satisfy vegetarians and meat-eaters alike with these healthful, Middle Eastern-style Bulgur Bean Burgers. No one will miss the beef when black beans and spices are providing first-class flavor.

- 1 cup water

Salt and ground black pepper

1/2 cup bulgur

1 can (15 to 19 ounces) reduced-sodium black beans, rinsed and drained

1 container (6 ounces) plain low-fat yogurt

1/4 teaspoon ground allspice

1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon ground cumin

1/4 cup (packed) mint leaves, chopped

Nonstick cooking spray

1 small shredded Kirby (pickling) cucumber

4 whole-wheat hamburger buns

4 lettuce leaves

1 medium tomato, sliced
1. In 1-quart saucepan, heat water and 1/2 teaspoon salt to boiling over high heat. Stir in bulgur. Reduce heat to low; cover and simmer 10 to 12 minutes or until water is absorbed.

2. Meanwhile, in large bowl, with potato masher or fork, mash beans with 2 tablespoons yogurt until almost smooth. Stir in bulgur, allspice, cinnamon, cumin and half of mint until combined. With lightly floured hands, shape bean mixture into four 3-inch-round patties. Spray both sides of each patty lightly with nonstick cooking spray.

3. Heat nonstick 12-inch skillet over medium heat until hot. Add burgers and cook 8 minutes or until lightly browned and heated through, turning over once.

4. While burgers are cooking, prepare yogurt sauce: In small bowl, combine cucumber, remaining yogurt and mint, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Makes about 1-1/4 cups.

5. To serve, divide lettuce, tomato and burgers among buns; top with some yogurt sauce. Serve with remaining yogurt sauce. Serves 4.

Gifts for Seniors Who Have Everything

— Matilda Charles —

Seniors have acquired so much “stuff” over the years that we have nearly everything we need ... and more. If you’ve held off buying a gift for a senior in your life because you don’t know what to get someone who already has everything, here are a few gift ideas that would be most welcome.

- Coupons for cab rides or gift certificates for restaurant meals, laundry services, auto detailing, spa day or hair salon services.
- Gift basket created especially for your seniors, such as gourmet food, cheese, jams or chocolate. Or, consider a subscription to a quarterly or monthly gift club. Options range from fruit baskets or flowers to bacon, coffee and cigars.
- Pay for a year of cable TV, the daily newspaper, magazine subscription or Netflix.
- Two tickets to a play or other event where you’ll accompany your senior or a pair of movie passes so your senior can take a friend.
- Pay for a senior’s lifelong learning class, either at the senior center or nearby university, and arrange for transportation.
- Put together a box of useful things, like stamps, note cards, address labels, batteries, razor blades and calendar with large print. Include a list of important phone numbers printed out in a large font that can be taped to the inside of a cupboard door. (Keep the file and make changes whenever your senior needs to update it.)
- Make single serving meals for the freezer.
- Don’t leave out your own participation and that of your children. A small coupon book full of services you can do year-round, such as cleaning, painting a room, weeding the garden, raking leaves and checking expiration dates on food in the cupboard — all will be appreciated.

What do seniors really want most? The gift of your time.

GIVE A CHRISTMAS present of art and history. A Browning Superposed Lightening 12 gauge, exceptional condition. This gun was made in 1969, SN:17413 S69, barrels are full choke and modified with length at 28". Price is $2600 due to it's excellent condition. Production of the Superposed began in 1931 and ended in 1986, available afterwards only via the custom shop at Browning. Said of this gun designed by John Browning: "His greatest satisfaction was found conceiving a new shotgun. It wasn't a tool, like his pump-action guns or the A5 auto loader, but an instrument for an expert, in design and function an expression of art produced in steel and wood." Email me if you would like pictures, price is firm and not interested in trades, jeff@perfution.com

The difference between "garden" mums and "florist" mums is their hardiness. "Florist" mums are sold from grocery stores and flower shops, useful only as indoor potted plants for seasonal decor and won't survive a winter if you plant them outdoors. "Garden" versions are sold from nurseries as tough perennials meant for outdoor landscapes year round. - Brenda Weaver

5 Screen-Free Holiday Gift Ideas for Families

— Statepoint Media —

(StatePoint) Holiday shopping for families with children? Check out these five totally screen-free gift ideas that are sure brighten the season by getting families to spend some much-needed quality time together.

1. Upgraded outdoor games: Give outdoor play an upgrade with KidiGo NexTag from VTech, designed for ages 5 and up. Way more than just tag, it's a high-tech spin on 20 different backyard games including capture the flag, freeze tag and hide-and-seek. To play, all you need are the four included electronic units and adjustable arm bands. A friendly voice explains the quick and easy-to-learn rules and no referee is required -- the game lets you know who got tagged, who's safe and who's it. With single- and multi-player options, the whole family can get in on the fun, especially when you combine two systems. Play indoors or out with a 135-foot range between units. All you have to do is press the big button and tag, you're it!
2. Kitchen assistance: Introduce adults and kids alike to the fundamentals of baking with a family-friendly baking kit subscription. Each month, a new kit is mailed to your recipients' home with recipes, activity booklets and all the ingredients needed to create something delicious.
3. Swim time: The weather may be frightful, but that's no reason why families can't enjoy a delightful day at the pool. Consider gifting your favorite family with a day pass to an indoor aquatic center or water park. For families with young children, look for a facility that offers splash pads and swim lessons. For those with older kids who are already proficient swimmers, check for amenities like water slides and wave pools. Want to take it a step further? Sign your recipients up for an indoor pool membership until summer returns.
4. Inspiration: Give families all the ideas and inspiration they need to beat boredom, create new traditions and make memories with "The Adventure Challenge: Family Edition." This journal offers 50 adventures in different categories, along with space to share thoughts and photos about each experience.
5. Board--not bored: Encourage some good old fashioned family fun with board games. From chess and checkers to modern classics to the latest trendy games, this is a gift option that's sure to engage family members of all ages.

Cutting back perennials

When it comes to perennials, don't cut them back until after several hard frosts. The roots are still reclaiming energy for healthy growth in the spring, and the decomposing leaves insulate the plant during freezes and thaws and provide fertilizer for spring growth. Leave seed-heads standing to feed the birds in cold weather. However, you should remove dead foliage containing pests or disease.

How to Create the Perfect Charcuterie Board for Your Holiday Party

— Satepoint Media —

(StatePoint) Are you hosting a holiday party and looking for a simple way to impress your guests?

The Texas Roadhouse Butcher Shop is sharing steps for building an eye-catching and mouth-watering charcuterie board that will add color, flavor and variety to your holiday table.

1. Grab a platter or surface to display your charcuterie. Anything will work, even a simple cutting board. Just be sure to choose a size that you can fill completely.
2. Use dishes or ramekins of mismatched sizes, shapes and colors to hold dressings, toppings and sauces. This will keep your board clean and add fun visual details to the display.
3. Include two to four cheeses of contrasting flavors and textures to please all palates, and to complement other elements of the board. The varieties you select should represent these basic categories: hard cheese, (such as Chardonnay Bellavitano) soft cheese, (such as brie) and blue cheese (such as French Roquefort).
4. While a traditional charcuterie board typically sticks with cured meats, the holiday season is the perfect occasion for adding depth and richness to your feast with grilled meats, such as filet, sliced into strips. Those from Texas Roadhouse Butcher Shop are lean, flavorful, and melt in your mouth, making them a natural choice for a hearty holiday spread. Whether you are firing up the grill or preparing on a cooktop, allow any cooked meats to rest well before adding them to your board.
5. No charcuterie board is complete without some crunch. Add two to three options like pita crackers, crusty breads or toasted baguettes that will stand up to the weight of your meats and cheeses.
6. Now, add some brightness and sweetness to your board. Fresh fruits like blueberries, strawberries and green grapes, and preserves such as peach pepper jam, will add contrast to rich, salty meats and cheeses. Don't forget seasonal sweets and treats like soft peppermints, peanut brittle, chocolate dipped pretzels and candied nuts.
7. You'll want your charcuterie board to look as if it's overflowing. So, as you're building it out, start with the largest elements like the cheeses and meats first, followed by smaller items like crackers, fresh produce and sweets. Fill in any holes with sprigs of aromatic rosemary for trimming, along with additional portions of the smaller items. The various elements of the board should pair well together, so it's okay if they touch.

To wow your guests and their tastebuds, take your charcuterie board to the next level with seasonal treats, grilled meats and a cornucopia of sweet and savory flavors.

Spiced Pork Tenderloins with Mango Salsa

Pair this tangy mango salsa with spicy grilled pork.

Mango Salsa:

- 2 medium ripe mangos, peeled and coarsely chopped
- 2 medium kiwifruit, peeled and coarsely chopped
- 2 tablespoons seasoned rice vinegar
- 1 tablespoon grated, peeled fresh ginger
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh cilantro leaves

Spiced Pork Tenderloins:

- 2 (about 1 pound each) whole pork tenderloins
  - 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon ground cumin
  - 1 teaspoon ground coriander
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
  - 1/2 teaspoon(s) ground ginger
1. Prepare Mango Salsa: In medium bowl, combine mangoes, kiwifruit, vinegar, fresh ginger, and cilantro. If not serving right away, cover and refrigerate up to 4 hours. Makes about 4 cups.
  2. Prepare charcoal fire or preheat gas grill for covered direct grilling over medium heat.
  3. Meanwhile, cut each pork tenderloin lengthwise almost in half, being careful not to cut all the way through. Open and spread flat. Place each tenderloin between 2 sheets of plastic wrap; with meat mallet or rolling pin, pound to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut each tenderloin into 4 pieces.
  4. On waxed paper, mix flour, salt, cumin, coriander, cinnamon and ground ginger. Add pork to spice mixture and turn to coat evenly.
  5. Place pork on hot grill rack. Cover grill and cook pork 5 to 6 minutes or until lightly browned on both sides and pork just loses its pink color throughout, turning pork over once. Spoon Mango Salsa over pork to serve.

- “During the holidays, our schedules change so much, it’s hard to keep track. I used to write and re-write our family calendar, but now I just make a grid for the days/weeks, and I use Post-it notes to enter parties, school obligations and anything that is a ‘maybe.’ It’s much easier to move around, and to add or delete events as needed.” – via email
- “Fasten all buttons, snaps, fasteners and zippers on your clothes before washing and drying. It will help them keep their shape. Turn socks inside out, too. It will help prevent them from getting fuzzballs.” – M.W. from Saskatchewan, Canada
- “I pick up extra coffee mugs from second-hand stores, then clean and fill them with hot chocolate packets, small coffees and wrapped tea bags and a few little chocolate bars. These make nice little gifts for friends and service people. I am on a fixed budget, but I find that I can be generous this way.” – T.L. in North Carolina
- When mailing packages, keep in mind that secure cargo is tightly packed. You don’t have to buy expensive packing peanuts or bubble wrap; you can use what’s around. For instance, plastic grocery bags are always in abundance. They can be tucked into any spare room and they barely weigh a thing. Same with newspaper; fill all the available space so that nothing bounces around in transit. Save your bubble wrap for the following tip.
- “When mailing cookies, make sure they are packed well. Use an appropriate size container, and give layers some space by separating them with small sheets of bubble wrap. My cookies arrive intact every time.” – J.J. in Florida
- “I use a black permanent marker to ‘erase’ scuff marks on my black heels. I only wear them a couple of times a year, so I have to make them last. It works.” – R.E. in Minnesota

Crunchy Microwave Peanut Brittle

Classic recipes sometimes scare me off. Too many steps, too many risks for failure and too many pans to clean. No wonder I was thrilled years ago when my mom shared her easy technique for making peanut brittle. It all comes together in the microwave.

Reduced to these simple steps without a need for a candy thermometer, your family will enjoy the salty-sweet confection in no time at all. Just be sure to spread out the hot mixture thinly on a warm pan to ensure the "brittleness" once it cools.

MICROWAVE PEANUT BRITTLE

- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1 cup roasted, salted peanuts
- 1 teaspoon unsalted butter
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 1 teaspoon baking soda

Butter or spray a baking sheet with cooking spray. Warm in an oven just before you pour the mixture onto it.

In a 1-1/2 quart size microwave-safe glass bowl, stir together the sugar, corn syrup and salt until smooth. Microwave on the high setting for 4 minutes.

Stir in peanuts. Microwave on high for about 3 minutes, or until light brown.

Stir in butter and vanilla. Microwave on high for 2 minutes more, or until peanuts are lightly browned and mixture is golden in color. Microwaves vary, so keep an eye on it at all times to ensure the peanuts do not burn. Remove carefully, as syrup will be very hot.

Add baking soda and gently stir thoroughly. Immediately pour mixture onto the warm baking sheet. Spread evenly with a greased spatula.

Cool and let stand until hardened, about 30 minutes. Break into serving-size pieces.

Store extra candy between sheets of wax paper in an airtight container.

Note: You may substitute roasted cashews or almonds for the peanuts.

Three Helpful Tips To Remember When Interacting With Your Local Conservation Officers

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Conservation officers and sportsmen are playing for the same team

With most hunting seasons being open or opening within the next few weeks, Idaho's hunting, fishing and trapping culture will soon be enjoyed by many.

Amidst the hustle and bustle this time of year, Idaho Fish and Game's conservation officers are also hitting the woods to help keep people safe and to ensure Idaho's wildlife resources are enjoyed safely, ethically and sustainably.

If you've spent much time hunting, fishing, trapping or otherwise recreating in Idaho's great outdoors, you've probably bumped into a conservation officer. Hopefully for most, the visit was pleasant, productive and ended with a handshake!

A recent interview with Conservation Officer Jacob Berl in the Panhandle Region provided three helpful tips for interacting with officers.

Question: What do you hope for when interacting with folks while on the clock?

Answer: "My guess is that most folks have had the opportunity to chat with a conservation officer at some point in their outdoor career. Although these interactions are usually friendly and benign, folks often report feeling uneasy during interactions with law enforcement. Interactions with conservation officers don't need to be stressful. In fact, they should be quite the opposite! After all, most people we connect with are law-abiding sportsmen enjoying the great outdoors."

Question: What tips would you give folks for interacting with their local conservation officer?

Answer: "I have three practical tips to offer, and these tips should make interactions more pleasant and productive for both sportsmen and officers.

Tip 1: Be kind and patient

When making a contact, we usually don't know who we are dealing with—a license check could simply be a grandparent taking kids fishing, or it could be a felon on the run who decided to get off the grid. This uncertainty adds to the challenge and danger of our jobs. The best approach during a contact is simply to be kind, patient and understanding - all qualities you can expect from your local conservation officer, as well. Our goal is to treat all citizens fairly. All good relationships are built on honesty and trust, and your relationship with your local game warden should be no different.

Tip 2: Ask questions

I'm sure most folks have heard the age-old adage, "there is no such thing as a dumb question". Well in the world of wildlife and law enforcement, those words might as well be scripture. Our job is to assist sportsmen in their understanding of Fish and Game rules and regulations. In a perfect world, everyone would know, understand and properly follow regulations, and I'd be out of a job! However, regulations can be complex and confusing, despite our best efforts to simplify them whenever possible. Sometimes mistakes are made and if you don't ask questions, you'll never get an answer. What better time to ask questions than when you have a conservation officer standing right in front of you? We aren't encyclopedias of knowledge, but chances are, we can answer most of your questions about the do's and don'ts and perhaps even share a tidbit about the next fishing hole around the corner. You just have to ask!

Tip 3: Help by reporting violations

Most ethical hunters, anglers and trappers will tell you that nothing upsets them more than seeing others abuse the wildlife and natural resources that we all collectively love. I couldn't agree more. It's no secret that we can't be everywhere at the same time, and wildlife can't speak for themselves. So we need you to be the eyes and ears, do what's right and report wildlife crimes. It's that simple. Reports of wildlife crimes can be made anonymously through our Citizens Against Poaching hotline (1-800-632-5999) or online."

Question: Any parting words for people?

Answer: "Research shows that those who know, trust and have developed a relationship with their local conservation officer are more likely to report wildlife crimes when they see them. A great time to foster that relationship is the next time you're contacted by a conservation officer. If you know of or suspect wildlife crimes, please consider sharing your information with an officer the next time you see them. I can guarantee they will appreciate what you have to share, and more importantly, so will the wildlife."

Interactions with an Idaho conservation officer should be positive and improve your outdoor experience. Hopefully by keeping these three simple tips in mind, you'll be more at ease and better prepared for the next time you see an officer in the field.

Please call the your local Fish and Game Regional Office with any questions.

Pets of the Week: Dotty and Devonte

— Companions Animal Center —
formerly Kootenai Humane Society

Let's face it, I'm just plain good company! My name is Dotty, and I'm a beautiful 4-yr-old lady. I'm sweet and friendly, and I adore affection and cuddle time. Unfortunately, other animals are not my thing. So, if you're looking for just one fabulous furbaby, we should meet. I'm spayed, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Besides my handsome good looks, did you know I also have a beautiful singing voice? My name is Devonte, and I will be happy to sing you a song. I'm looking for an owner who appreciates Huskies and wants an adventure partner, who loves to laugh and have fun, and who has lots of time to spend with me. I get along with other friendly dogs. I'm 6-yr-old, neutered, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Public walk-through viewing of the animals is available Tuesday and Thursday from 1-4pm. Adoptions by appointment only. For more information about Kootenai Humane Society becoming Companions Animal Center, visit www.companionsanimalcenter.org.

Thanksgiving Fails and Easy Fixes

Making the Thanksgiving meal can be stressful because there are many things that can go wrong. So here are fixes to the most common fails.

But first, we're going to make an emergency kit like an insurance policy in case of disaster. You'll want a meat thermometer, lots of chicken broth, a packet of instant turkey gravy mix, a spray can of whipped topping and a frozen pizza.

There are few kitchen disasters that can't be fixed. But if everything goes to heck in a cornucopia, relax. You can always serve the pizza.

Now, I'll anticipate your calls for help.

Help! My turkey is ...

Frozen! No big deal! You can cook it from frozen.

Remove plastic wrapping and place turkey on a rack in a baking pan. Cook frozen turkey at 325 F for 23 minutes per pound. For example, an 18-pound turkey would take approximately 7 hours from frozen. After 2 hours, remove the partially cooked turkey to remove the bag of giblets from the cavity. Now, brush the turkey with butter, season with salt and pepper and return to the oven. When it's done, use the thermometer to check for a temperature of 175 F at the thigh and 165 F at the breast. Let it rest, covered, before slicing.

Raw! It's still pink inside? Well, stick it back in the oven and use that thermometer! If you're running out of wine and the biggest issue is time, cut the bird into pieces (whole breasts, legs and thighs) and pop them on a sheet pan and stick 'em back in the oven to quickly continue cooking.

Dry! Thickly slice the dry turkey and place into a baking dish. Add chicken broth to cover and stick it in the oven for about 10 minutes. And make extra gravy.

Help! My potatoes are ...

Lumpy! They're probably undercooked. Stop mashing and find a lump and smooch it, if it feels solid, put the pan back on low heat, cook until softened and mash again.

Gluey! Oh no! You over mashed the potatoes, releasing starch, resulting in wallpaper paste. So, never use your food processor or mixer to mash potatoes. A good old-fashioned potato masher does the trick.

www.JasonCoblentz.com

Correct any Thanksgiving meal fails with these easy fixes.

If it's too late and you've got gluey potatoes, mix in a bunch of cheese and butter and season liberally. Put the potato mixture in a shallow casserole dish and top with buttered breadcrumbs. Bake until your "potato casserole" is lightly browned on top. And make extra gravy.

Help! My gravy is ...

Lumpy! Easy fix. Pour your gravy through a fine mesh strainer and reheat.

Thin! Mix 3 to 4 tablespoons cornstarch with enough cold water to make a smooth paste. Whisk this into the gravy a bit at a time, letting the gravy simmer until thickened to your liking. Or add some of that instant gravy packet from your insurance policy.

Bland! Most likely, it needs more salt. Add some chicken or vegetable bouillon. Or add that emergency gravy packet and some broth.

Help! My stuffing is ...

Dry! Melt a tablespoon of butter into a cup of warm chicken stock. Add to the stuffing and mix well. Cover and put it back in the oven for about 5 minutes to reheat. And make extra gravy.

Soggy! Spread your stuffing out on a rimmed baking sheet and put it in the oven to dry out a bit.

Help! My dessert has ...

Burnt crust! Carefully remove the crust and either add a crumb topping. (Mix flour, oats, brown sugar, butter and cinnamon. Sprinkle it over the filling and bake until golden.) Or use the whipped topping in your emergency kit to pipe a pretty boarder.

Cracked! If your cheesecake or pumpkin pie has a cracked top, use the whipped topping to make a pretty design over the top.
