Bridging Communities Is Back!

Local Non-Profit hosts Disability Pride Event in Riverfront Park

— Disability Action Center NW —

Our 4th annual Bridging Communities event celebrating the 36th anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act will be held on July 25th, 11am-3pm in Riverfront Park, Spokane. It will be located around the fountain, and is free and open to the public.

“Disability is present in every culture and every economic background,” said Mark Leeper, Executive Director of the Disability Action Center NW. “We want to celebrate the many cultures in our area and how they intersect with disability.”

The event kicks off with an ADA Proclamation and speech from Mayor Lisa Brown.

Multi-cultural music presentations by River Street Latin Band and dance by local Native American tribes will be featured on the stage. There will also be the presentation of the Tom McTevia Award which will be to Sara Bryant from Spokane's Therapeutic Recreation Services. This award is given each year to community organizations for removing barriers for people with disabilities in memory of community activist and outdoor recreation aficionado, Tom McTevia.

FREE food tickets are available for middle eastern and Mexican food, kettle corn, shaved ice, and ice cream, plus free t-shirts while supplies last. A vendor/ resource fair will have over 30 displays and includes a World Market, located on the orange bridge. And there will be a Kid's Area with games, crafts, face painting, sidewalk chalk. Free raffle prizes and a trivia contest about the Americans with Disabilities Act round out this educational event.

NEW this year will be the Wheelchair Obstacle Course, where visitors can experience the barriers people with wheelchairs face everyday. This course was designed by mechanical engineering students from Washington State University. It allows visitors to experience common barriers found in a community like opening a door on a slope, objects in the path of travel, overhanging shrubs, pot holes and cracks in sidewalks.

“Disability rights are under threat right now,” said Executive Director Mark Leeper. “We want to celebrate how far we’ve come and inspire the public to continue to fight for disability rights.”

- Spokane City Proclamation by Mayor Lisa Brown

National Merry-Go-Round Day July 25th

— National Day Calendar —

National Merry-Go-Round Day on July 25th recognizes the amusement ride associated with carnival music. Invite a friend. Pick your horse or tiger take one for a spin!

Along with the roller coaster, the merry-go-round is one of the oldest amusement rides. Also known as the carousel, the merry-go-round rotates on a circular platform around a pole. The platform holds seats for riders. A motor spins the platform around the large central pole. Between rows of seats, passengers ride wooden horses and other animals. Poles anchor the animals in place. Once in a while, the colorful animals move up and down. The movement simulates galloping. Meanwhile, calliope music plays, adding a light-hearted atmosphere.

Often, carousels name their horses. The names add personality to the horses and bring them to life. Undeniably, names like Galloper, Jumper, and Roundabout became favorites among riders. While horses dominate the carousel world, lions, tigers, and many other exotic animals fill the platforms, too.

Not only are carousels fun to ride, but each one is unique. Artists carve each animal, bench, or car passenger ride. Ornately detailed elements decorate the poles and canopy of every carousel. What's more, there was no limit to their imaginations! Ferocious tigers and docile lambs carry riders around. All the while the music plays its lilting tune. Undoubtedly, no two carousels are alike.

Besides carousels, any rotating platform may also be called a merry-go-round. By comparison, children power the playground merry-go-round. They push off using the bars or handles. The riders cling to the same bars as the platform spins. Since the riders determine the speed, the harder they push, the faster they go. Not surprisingly, one of the thrills of riding the merry-go-round included becoming dizzy.

Carousel Facts

- The earliest known depiction of the merry-go-round is in 500 A.D. The Byzantine Empire's ride depicts baskets carrying riders suspended from a central pole.
- In the 1840s, Franz Wiesenoffer created the first merry-go-round in the United States in Hessville, Ohio.
- July 25, 1871 – The first carousel patent.

HOW TO OBSERVE NATIONAL MERRY GO ROUND DAY

Go find a merry-go-round and have fun. Visit your favorite carousel and take a spin; there's one in CdA and another in Spokane! Of course, you can always introduce the next generation to carousels, too.

NATIONAL MERRY GO ROUND DAY HISTORY

In 2014, Bette Largent, President of the National Carousel Association, and carousel historian, Ronald Hopkins founded National Merry-Go-Round Day. They created the day to shine a spotlight on these beautiful, historical creations. The date commemorates the first U.S. patent issued in 1871 to William Schneider of Davenport, Iowa for the modern carousel.

National Korean War Veterans Armistice Day July 27th

— National Day Calendar —

On June 25, 1950, the first war of the Cold War-era erupted when North Korean forces crossed the border into South Korea. The war would last three years, involving troops from around the globe, and costing millions of lives. National Korean War Veterans Armistice Day commemorates the end of the Korean War on July 27, 1953, and those who served during this often forgotten war.

Pre-War History

Unlike World War I, World War II, the Vietnam War, and The War on Terror, the Korean War's complexity, setting, and timing cause history to gloss over the war. For centuries, Japan and China laid claim on Korea. In more modern history, Japan annexed Korea, and following World War II, the Allied forces liberated Korea, dividing it into separate occupied zones. The dividing line was named the 38th parallel, creating a Communist North Korea and a South Korean republic.

How It Was Different

The United States, the United Kingdom, France, Australia, Germany, Japan, Russia, and over 40 other countries contributed troops, supplies, and other support during the three-year war. The war claimed approximately 3 million casualties, and civilians suffered the greatest loss of the war. The forgotten war is one of the deadliest of the Cold War-era.

Since the war started as a state conflict, the media and civilians showed less initial interest in the Korean War. There was no great mobilization at home, no massive build-up of war machinery, no shortages of gas, food, or products – no direct impact on the daily lives of Americans at home. President Harry S. Truman never issued a declaration of war. And when the veterans came home, most were silent. Many served in World War II, and some would go on to serve in the Vietnam War. After World War II, victories – multiple victories were declared. However, the Korean War ended in a stalemate.

Regardless of the war's status as the Forgotten War, those who served should be remembered. They endured the brutalities of war, a harsh climate and battled against Communism. During the war, 33,665 U.S. service members gave their lives in that pursuit. They are not forgotten.

HOW TO OBSERVE NATIONAL KOREAN WAR VETERANS ARMISTICE DAY

On July 27th, military organizations and communities across the country host memorials and events dedicated to the service members of the Korean War. The day offers an excellent opportunity to learn the history of the war and about those who served.

- Read about the Korean War. We recommend:
 - In Mortal Combat by John Toland
 - The Coldest Winter by David Halberstam
 - About Face: The Odyssey of an American Warrior by Colonel David H. Hackworth
- Watch a documentary such as This Korea directed by John Ford.
- Visit the Korean War Memorial.
- Visit with a Korean War veteran.
- Share your experiences and stories about the Korean War.
- Show your support to all veterans.

Join the conversation by using #KoreanWarVeteransArmisticeDay on social media.

NATIONAL KOREAN WAR VETERANS ARMISTICE DAY

In 1992, President George H. W. Bush and Korean War veteran Marine General Raymond Davis broke ground on the Korean War Memorial in Washington D.C. Three years later, President Bill Clinton proclaimed National Korean War Veterans Armistice Day and, along with South Korean President Kim Young-sam, dedicated the memorial to all the Korean Veterans.

IDFG Commission Modifies Daily Bag Limit for Fall Chinook Salmon Seasons

— Idaho Fish and Game —

The forecasted number of wild fall Chinook for 2026 is lower than recent years.

During its July 16 meeting in Jerome, the Idaho Fish and Game Commission approved the recommended modifications to the 2026 fall Chinook salmon fishing season in the following fisheries: Snake River, Lower Salmon River, Salmon River, Mainstem Clearwater River, Middle Fork Clearwater River, North Fork Clearwater River, and South Fork Clearwater River.

The total daily bag limit remains at three (3) adult fall Chinook. However, the number of unclipped adult fall Chinook salmon that may be kept (as part of the daily bag limit) was changed to allow one (1) unclipped adult fall Chinook salmon to be kept per day.

"The bag limit modification was necessary because the forecasted number of wild fall Chinook for 2026 is lower than we have seen in recent years," said Anadromous Fisheries Coordinator Chris Sullivan. "The bag limit modification will still allow anglers to keep an unclipped adult fall Chinook, but should not result in harvest that exceeds the limits set by the Endangered Species Act, which could close the fisheries entirely."

Fall Chinook salmon seasons open on Aug. 18. Please check our website for updates as the season approaches. For more information, check out the Chinook Salmon Fishing webpage at: idfg.idaho.gov/fish/chinook.

Folks can rewatch the full July 16th Commission meeting on our YouTube channel: www.youtube.com/@idahofishgame. Only interested in certain presentations? Simply hit each agenda item's timestamp down in the description for a quick and easy recap.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

On July 27, 1981, 6-year-old Adam Walsh was abducted from a shopping mall in Hollywood, Florida, and later found murdered. Afterward, his father, John Walsh, became an impassioned victims' rights activist and host of the television show "America's Most Wanted." In 2008, the Hollywood police announced that the case against confessed killer Ottis Elwood Toole was strong enough to close the investigation into Adam's death. Toole had died 12 years earlier.

On July 28, 1942, Soviet Union premier Josef Stalin issued Order No. 227, aka the "Not one step backward" order, following German advances into Russian territory. The order stipulated that "panic makers and cowards must be liquidated on the spot. Not one step backward without orders from higher headquarters! Commanders ... who abandon a position without an order from higher headquarters are traitors to the Motherland."

On July 29, 1862, Marie Isabella "Belle" Boyd was arrested for the first time by Union troops and held at the Old Capitol Prison in Washington, D.C. A skilled though teenage spy who provided vital information to the Confederate army during the Civil War, she eventually parlayed her experiences into a book and acting career.

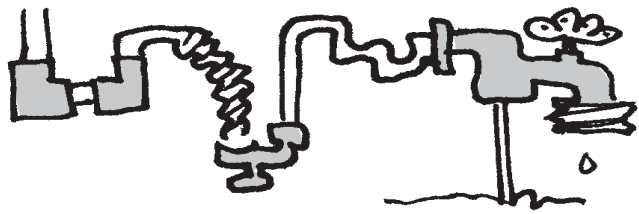

On July 30, 1956, two years after urging insertion of the phrase "under God" into the Pledge of Allegiance, President Dwight Eisenhower signed a law officially declaring "In God We Trust" to be America's official motto.

On July 31, 1964, the unmanned U.S. lunar probe Ranger 7 took 4,308 close-up images of the moon before impacting with its surface northwest of the Sea of Clouds. The pictures were 1,000 times as clear as anything previously viewed through telescopes on Earth.

On Aug. 1, 1782, Caroline Herschel discovered a comet after viewing it through a telescope -- the first such discovery credited to a woman. Her brother, astronomer William Herschel, had discovered Uranus the year before. The first professional female astronomer, she would go on to discover seven more comets in 11 years.

On Aug. 2, 1992, Jackie Joyner-Kersey became the first woman ever to win two consecutive Olympic gold medals in the heptathlon.

Young Angler Lands a New State Record Chiselmouth

Also, what is a chiselmouth?

— Idaho Fish and Game —

What is a chiselmouth, you may ask? And better yet, what does it take to get one in the record books?

Before our Sportfishing Program Coordinator could close Idaho's record books during what's turned into a wallop of a record fish season, Carmen, Idaho angler Akeley Fahnholz tossed her hat into the ring.

While fishing on June 8 along the Salmon River up near the town that shares the same name, Akeley hooked a fish that might've been considered small by even stocked rainbow trout standards. But the fish on the end of her line was no trout — in fact, this fish was a native Idaho species, the chiselmouth.

Chiselmouth come from the minnow family and are the only species in their taxonomic order in Idaho. Akeley's chiselmouth stretched the tape at a whopping 11.25 inches, which is a trophy size for this species which rarely exceed 12 inches.

Sure, that might get a few chuckles from the record lake and brown trouts we've seen so far this year, but remember this: Chiselmouths, as their name implies, literally chisel their dinner off river rocks. Focusing primarily on algae and small insects, it's no wonder the term minnow garners such a diminutive reputation when held up next to their cousins in the char, trout, and catfish families.

So, imagine how much chiseling it might take a chiselmouth to reach 11 inches and change. Akeley's new state record species isn't one that dogears the state record book's pages all that often. But, native non-game fish like the chiselmouth are pretty fun to add to your day's catch, and this fish will surely get talked about for the rest of her life.

Congratulations, Akeley, on your new Idaho state catch-and-release record chiselmouth!

More About Idaho's State Record Fish

Thinking about chasing a state record fish? Check out the state record fish page for more information.

How to Apply for a Catch-and-Release Record

All applicants must submit a complete Record Fish Application Form, with accompanying photographs. This form can be completed online or downloaded from our website, idfg.idaho.gov .

- Fish must be released alive. (See tips on safely releasing fish in the Fishing Rules booklet.)
- Steelhead, ocean-run salmon, bull trout, and white sturgeon submitted for records must be measured and photographed in the water.
- Catch-and-release records are based only on the total length (snout to tip of tail) for fish released alive.
- Fish must be photographed directly next to a ruler/tape or an object of known verifiable length.
- New catch-and-release white sturgeon records must be broken by a minimum of 2 inches.
- Catch-and-release records for all other species must be broken by a minimum of ½ inch.
- Fish within ¼ inch of the current record will be recognized as a tied record.
- All applications must be submitted within 30 days of the catch date.

How to Apply for Certified Weight Records

Records will be awarded for either fish caught by angling (rod/reel) or by archery/spearfish for legal unprotected nongame species. Archery/spear fishing records will be listed separately and identified by the angler on the application form. No records will be awarded for fish caught during salvage seasons or at private pay-to-fish facilities.

NOTE: Idaho Fish and Game now provides certified scales for weighing potential records at the Panhandle, Clearwater, Nampa, Headquarters (Boise), Jerome, and Pocatello regional offices.

- It's better to be a butterfly. Did you know, the more social you are, the better your health, researchers say.
- Plastic grocery bags always come in handy. Try storing them in empty tissue boxes for the car or bathroom, or use an empty 12-pack soda box for more under your kitchen sink or in the garage.
- "For foot cramps at bedtime, eat a banana in the evening. I think it is the potassium in the bananas, but it has had a good effect for me. And it can't hurt to get another serving of fruit per day, right?" -- L.I. in Missouri
- "Another great use for baby powder (or corn starch): If you have a deck of cards that are stuck together, simply place them in a baggie and add a tablespoon of powder. Seal and shake, getting the dust in between the cards. When you remove the cards, shuffle them over a kitchen towel and they will be like brand new." -- R.D. in Texas
- You can fill a mop bucket with a dustpan? Yes! Use the large end of the dustpan as a funnel from the faucet over the side of the sink, where your mop bucket is waiting to catch the waterfall. The handle acts as a spout.
- You can substitute black bean puree for flour when making brownies, and it tastes so good! It's an even swap. Just make sure you rinse the canned beans well to remove added sodium, and run them through a food processor to puree.

THE WASTEWATER PLANTS DO NOT CREATE PCB's. PCB's COME FROM HOMES AND BUSINESSES. WASTEWATER PLANTS REMOVE PCB's WHILE TREATING WASTEWATER. BUT WE NEED YOUR HELP.

THE PCB CHALLENGE

PCBs CAN BE FOUND IN EVERYDAY PRODUCTS

How Do PCBs Enter the Wastewater System?

- Atmospheric deposition RESIDUE RINSED OFF IN SHOWERS AND THROUGH HUMAN WASTE
- Consumer products used in our homes DYES WASHED FROM CLOTHING AND FIRE RETARDANT MATERIALS
- Stormwater runoff PIGMENTS FROM RECYCLED NEWSPRINT

DID YOU KNOW? YELLOW DYES HAVE HIGHER CONCENTRATIONS OF PCBs!

The "PCB Regulatory Paradox".

While EPA allows PCB levels up to 50 ppm in products, Federal PCB water quality regulations allow only 0.000000064 ppm for any wastewater discharge

PCB Regulatory Relationships (in parts-per-million)

Federal Allowance in Products	50 ppm
Federal Allowance in Drinking Water	0.0005 ppm
ID State Human Health Water Quality Criteria (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.00000019 ppm
Federal Human Health Water Quality Criteria (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.000000064 ppm
Spokane Tribe Water Quality Standard (allowable in lakes and streams)	0.000000007 ppm

THIS IS OFTEN REFERRED TO AS "PCB-FREE".

IMAGINE...

1 part-per-million =
1 inch in 16 miles
1 minute in two years
1 ounce in 32 tons
$0.01 in $10,000

What can I do?

THE PCB SOURCE INFORMATION IS BEING DISCOVERED ALL THE TIME, SO STAY TUNED.

Be a consumer advocate for plain packaging that uses less ink since a lot of common packaging contains PCBs due to inks and dyes.

Don't rinse chemicals, solvents, oil, paints, etc. down your home drains.

Biologists Cautiously Optimistic That Late Spring Moisture Will Help Boost Mule Deer Numbers In North-Central Montana

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

Three years of extreme drought conditions have resulted in lower-than-average mule deer numbers across much of north-central Montana. But in trend area surveys conducted earlier this year, biologists saw good over-winter survival of fawns born in the spring of 2025 and are hopeful that significant rainfall in May and June will translate to better habitat conditions and lead to an increase in mule deer populations across the region in coming years.

“Right now, the country is as lush and green as we have seen in a long time, which is important since the physical condition and health of the doe is the single biggest factor driving fawn production, survival and recruitment into the adult population. said Cory Loecker, FWP wildlife manager in Great Falls. “So, with the favorable conditions we are enjoying now, we are hopeful that our deer numbers will begin to rebound. But it took several years of poor conditions to get us to this point, so we expect it will take a few consecutive good years to see significant recovery.”

Wildlife biologists conduct aerial post-season and/or spring mule deer trend area surveys in portions of 18 of the 34 deer hunting districts in Region 4. Although they are not a direct count of all the deer in the district, the trend surveys represent habitat typically found in that area and provide a “snapshot” and good estimate of the deer population, which can be extended to the broader area surrounding the area surveyed.

Hunters should note that in response to low deer numbers they will find extremely limited opportunities to harvest antlerless deer, and very few or no B licenses available across most hunting districts in Region 4.

Great Falls area summary

In the hunting districts around Great Falls, deer numbers have generally been below long-term averages (LTA), especially in the foothill and mountainous areas. In the agricultural areas closer to Great Falls, deer numbers were better and remain fairly strong at or above LTA.

Fairfield area summary

The southern Rocky Mountain Front has experienced severe drought over the past several years, and the poor fawn production seen in recent springs reflects those conditions. A bright spot has been that winter conditions in the area have been mild for several years, so although fawn production has been low, the fawns produced had good survival rates, resulting in populations that have remained low, but stable.

Lewistown area summary

Mule deer numbers in the Judith River and Arrow Creek breaks have been slowly increasing for the past few years but remain well below LTA. Habitat conditions in the Missouri River Breaks have also benefited from two years of more favorable weather, and deer numbers continue to slowly improve, although they are still low.

White Sulphur Springs area summary

Weather and habitat conditions around White Sulphur Springs have been better than much of the region, and higher mule deer numbers reported in harvest data reflect those favorable conditions. Buck harvest has been strong, at nearly a 30-year high in recent years, with more than 50 percent of the bucks with at least 4 points per antler.

Stanford area summary

Judith Basin County has been largely insulated from the drought conditions experienced elsewhere in the region and the state, and coupled with moderate to mild winter weather, have deer numbers above LTA. In addition, high fawn production and recruitment have resulted in growing numbers of yearling and young adult bucks, which is a good sign for the future.

Conrad area summary

The northern Rocky Mountain Front experienced some of the most severe drought conditions found anywhere in the state, resulting in deer numbers well below LTA, although biologists remain hopeful that the heavy precipitation events of late May and June will provide a boost to vegetation and provide better habitat conditions for the upcoming year. Moving eastward into the hunting districts more dominated by agriculture, the deer levels are better and show stable to moderately increasing populations.

Fish Lake Pend Oreille and earn cash through the Angler Incentive Program

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

Anglers and spearfishers can earn cash rewards by turning in lake trout and walleye heads

For most anglers and spearfishers, getting paid to fish sounds too good to be true. On Lake Pend Oreille, it can be a reality through the Angler Incentive Program.

Walleye in Lake Pend Oreille with a lure in its mouth.

The scoop

Anglers and spearfishers who catch and turn in the heads of any walleye or lake trout from the lake are eligible to win cash prizes, but the process is different for each species.

At any given time, roughly 60 walleye in Lake Pend Oreille carry tiny tags placed by Idaho Fish and Game biologists. Each tagged fish is worth $1,000 to the individual who catches it, representing a total of $60,000 in potential rewards swimming in the lake. In addition, for every walleye head turned in, an entry is earned into a monthly drawing for ten rewards worth $100 each. Think of it as a raffle, where each walleye head is a raffle ticket. The more tickets you have in the hat, the more likely you are to win. In addition, the more walleye heads you turn in, the better your chances of both winning a monthly drawing and landing one of the lake's $1,000 tagged fish.

Lake Pend Oreille spearfisherman with a winning walleye

Lake trout rewards are even simpler. Every lake trout head turned in earns a $15 reward—turn in 100 heads and you'll receive $1,500.

Why the AIP matters

The AIP helps Fish and Game manage Lake Pend Oreille's diverse fisheries, which includes trophy rainbow trout, kokanee, bull trout, lake trout, walleye and many other species.

Lake trout and walleye are effective predators, and without proper management, both species can reduce kokanee populations.

Kokanee are a critical part of Lake Pend Oreille's, because they support the lake's world-renowned trophy rainbow trout fishery while also providing popular fishing opportunities of their own. Anglers interested in learning more can watch:

- Managing Fisheries in Lake Pend Oreille: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=V92SKlI9U38>
- Lake Pend Oreille State of the Lake presentation: www.youtube.com/watch?v=KZQqVmN28xo

The AIP for lake trout began in 2006, and thirteen years later the incentive program was expanded to include walleye. Anglers have earned approximately $1.5 million in rewards from lake trout since 2006 and roughly $125,000 from walleye since 2019. Over the past year alone, lake trout anglers earned approximately $32,000 and walleye anglers around $23,000.

Lake trout from Lake Pend Oreille

The AIP is funded by the Clark Fork Settlement Agreement through Avista. The overarching goals of the CFSA include the protection, mitigation and enhancement of fish and wildlife populations and associated habitat within the lower Clark Fork River-Lake Pend Oreille Basin.

Rob Ryan Mitigation Staff Biologist with Fish and Game said, "Anglers and spearfishers participating in the AIP have played and continue to play an instrumental role in Lake Pend Oreille kokanee recovery. Walleye are also a real challenge for maintaining balance in Lake Pend Oreille, and we hope walleye anglers and spearfishers will be just as influential in managing that species".

Salmon Region: Rabid Bat Confirmed in Blaine County
Public health officials advise residents to take precautions

— Idaho Dept. of Fish & Game —

South Central Public Health District (SCPHD) recently confirmed rabies in a bat on July 14 located in Blaine County, south of Stanley. The case is the first confirmed rabid bat in South Central Idaho this year and serves as a reminder to take extra precautions should you encounter one.

The rabies virus can cause a fatal illness in both people and their pets. Although rabies is found only in bats in Idaho, the disease is uncommon, occurring in only about 1% of bats.

The virus is spread through the saliva, typically by a bite or scratch. Because it is difficult to determine whether a bat is infected based on its appearance or behavior, people should avoid handling bats and treat any direct contact as a potential exposure.

If a person or pet may have been exposed to a live bat, contact your local public health district to determine whether rabies testing or medical treatment is needed.

Residents in Lemhi and Custer counties should contact Eastern Idaho Public Health at (208) 533-3152. Blaine County residents should contact South Central Public Health District at 208-737-5912.

As bats begin migrating and preparing for hibernation in the fall, encounters with people and pets can become more common. Give bats plenty of space and avoid disturbing them. If you find a live bat inside your home or another enclosure, please contact the Salmon Regional Office for assistance on safe removal.

To protect yourself and pets from rabies:

- Do not touch a bat with your bare hands.
- If you come in contact with a bat, seek medical attention.
- Place the bat in a ventilated (i.e., not airtight if the bat is alive) container while using thick gloves or another method to transfer into a container without touching it with bare skin.
- Contact your local public health district
- Always vaccinate your pets, including cats and horses. Pets may encounter bats outdoors or in the home.
- Bat-proof your home or cabin by plugging all holes in the siding and maintain tight fitting screens on windows. Bats can enter through holes the size of a quarter. To avoid killing dependent young inside the structure, wait to seal outside entrances until after bats are gone in the fall. Sealing gaps on the interior of the structure should be completed immediately and can be safely done anytime.

Simplify School Day Meals

— Family Features —

If every moment of school days feels like a rush in your house, you're not alone. Packing backpacks and lunchboxes in the morning can be a chore, not to mention after-school activities that put a dent in dinner planning.

Saving a few precious seconds starts with 30-minutes-or-less meals you can prep to send to school or enjoy together at the table each evening. These Vegan Burritos feature boldly seasoned mushrooms, black beans, corn and plenty of saucy, tangy toppings – in fact, kids won't miss a thing in this plant-based variation of meaty burritos.

They're easily packable in lunchboxes and made with Success Boil-in-Bag Jasmine Rice that's available in a new, shareable 32-ounce size, which means more sweetly aromatic rice that cooks up soft and fluffy in 10 minutes. Perfect for dishes like these burritos that complement its subtle flavor profile, it's gluten free, Non-GMO Project Verified and free of preservatives and additives so you can feel good about sending it to school.

Dinner can be ready in the snap of a finger with Mediterranean Lamb Meatballs and Pearl Couscous where savory ground lamb takes center stage. This tempting dish highlights tender pearl couscous, sauteed veggies and briny feta cheese coming together in half an hour so you can spend more time at the table and less time in the kitchen.

Thoroughly versatile, new Success Boil-in-Bag Pearl Couscous is a Mediterranean-style pasta that's distinguished from traditional Moroccan couscous by its slightly larger and rounder shape with a less dense, firmer consistency. It's ready in 7 minutes or less with slightly nutty flavor that absorbs flavors of soups and salads while retaining its density and chewy texture.

National Hot Fudge Sundae Day July 25th

— National Day Calendar —

On July 25th, National Hot Fudge Sundae Day takes a turn representing National Ice Cream Month in delicious style. Feast on this tasty ice cream dessert that combines hot and cold with a cherry on top. Even more important to note, this dessert has been served since 1906.

Given that the hot fudge sundae is a variation of the classic sundae, making one is a cinch. Simply put a couple of scoops of vanilla ice cream in a dish. Add hot fudge sauce. Top it with a dollop of whipped cream and some nuts (if you like). Finally, add a single, bright-red, sweet, maraschino cherry.

Sundae History

While the oldest known record of an ice cream sundae is an Ithaca, NY advertisement, the originator of the dessert is still debated. The October 5, 1892 ad in the Ithaca Daily Journal spelled the ice cream treat with the conventional day of the week spelling – Sunday.

However, Two Rivers, Wisconsin claims Druggist Edward Berners served the first ice cream sundae in 1881. According to the story, customer George Hallauer ordered an ice cream soda on a Sunday. Ordinances at the time prohibited the sale of ice cream sodas on the Sabbath. Even so, Berners came up with a compromise. He served the ice cream in a dish minus the soda.

Additionally, he topped it with chocolate syrup. Given the day, he called it a Sundae. One interesting catch – Berners was 18 at the time the story takes place.

Ithaca's claim to the ice cream sundae takes place at Platt & Colt Pharmacy in 1892 where Reverend John M. Scott stops to order a bowl of ice cream. When Chester Platt, proprietor, began preparing the ice cream for his customer, he didn't stop at just a couple of scoops of vanilla. Platt drizzled cherry syrup over the ice cream and topped them with a bright red, candied cherry. The dessert looked and tasted so delightful it required its own name. Since the day was Sunday, it was named for the day it was created. Ithaca also has historical evidence supporting the story, including an advertisement for a Cherry Sunday.

HOW TO OBSERVE NATIONAL HOT FUDGE SUNDAE DAY

While out with friends, enjoy a Hot Fudge Sundae. Give a shout-out to your favorite ice cream shop. Post on social media using #HotFudgeSundaeDay.

Permanent Protection: Upper Thompson CE Phase 1 Secures Critical Habitat In NW Montana

— Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks —

KALISPELL – Northwest Montana took an important step toward long-term habitat protection and public access, as the Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission unanimously approved the purchase of the Upper Thompson Conservation Easement Phase 1 during their June meeting. The 34,610-acre project, located in the Thompson River drainage, solidifies a key conservation effort years in the making.

The easement, situated on Green Diamond Montana Timberlands LLC property in the Cabinet Mountains, locks in a critical landscape connection north of Thompson Falls and Plains. The agreement prevents future development, secures permanent free public recreation access and keeps the land in active forest management with continued sustainable timber harvest.

The area is home to elk, moose, deer, mountain lions, black bears and a wide range of other wildlife. It also supports roughly 10,000 days of public hunting and angling use each year. With Phase 1 approved, those opportunities, and the habitat that sustains them, are now permanently protected.

“We are thrilled with the outcome of this project,” said Leah Breidinger, habitat conservation biologist for FWP. “Protecting this landscape ensures that the wildlife, the working forest and the outdoor traditions it supports will endure for generations.”

The project was made possible through a broad coalition of funding partners. The U.S. Forest Service

Forest Legacy Program contributed $13 million, joined by the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation, the Montana Fish & Wildlife Conservation Trust, and private fundraising coordinated by the Trust for Public Land. Green Diamond also committed a substantial land value donation, covering approximately 34 percent of the easement’s cost.

Approval of this project marks a major milestone for regional conservation and public access in northwest Montana.

Pets of the Week: Hildy and Teddy

— Second Chance Pet Rescue —

Hello everybody, my name is Hildy! I am a purebred spayed female standard Schnauzer, on the small side at 30 lb. I have a thick, heavy non-shedding coat that needs groomed regularly. I found myself homeless when my original owners were no longer able to care for me due to age related issues. I am housebroken, healthy and very easy to live with.

Hello everybody, my name is Teddy! I am a 4-year-old neutered male purebred mini Australian Shepherd. I weigh 36 lb. I am a real sweet dog who got a bad shake in life. I ended up homeless after my owners could no longer care for me. I'm thriving here in Rescue and learning how to be a very good dog. I'm looking for a active home with experienced owners without a lot of hustle and bustle in the household. I am great with chickens, cats, other dogs and kind, considerate, well supervised older children.

Please email Idahocoondog@yahoo.com or search for Second Chance Pet Rescue, Hayden ID on www.petfinder.com for more info and an adoption application.

Pets of the Week: BamBam and Sputnik

— Priest River Animal Rescue —

BamBam has been sponsored by Cheri to help him find his forever home. He came to our rescue with three siblings after growing up outdoors with limited human interaction, so he may be timid at first. With patience, his sweet personality quickly shines through. BamBam is gentle, outgoing, loves cuddles, and enjoys positive adventures. He will do best in a quiet home with a patient family and a securely fenced yard while he learns to trust. With gentle socialization, kindness, and love, BamBam can become a loyal, playful companion and lifelong best friend.

Hi there! I'm Sputnik, a 3-month-old black kitten with striking tabby markings. I was the first one born from my litter, ready to face the world. I'm ready to bring some serious spunk and fun into your home! I'm litter box trained, friendly, and love hanging out with other cats — in fact, I've got a best friend named Gemini who's pretty much my partner in crime. I'm active and playful. My adoption fee is $65, and I promise to fill your days with joy and kitten-powered entertainment!

Pets of the Week: Poppy and Jasper

— Luke's Legacy —

Poppy is a 2-3 year old black lab mix. She's spayed, current on vaccinations, dewormed, microchipped and flea and tick treated. Poppy came to us after earning the title of the longest resident in the shelter. She had been there since January 2026. I'm not sure why as she's such a wonderful girl. Poppy is playful, funny and very sweet natured. Poppy adores people and has eyes just stare into your soul. Her idea of a good day is to play fetch and be in the great outdoors enjoying all it has to offer. Poppy has been a friend to every foster here and gets along with everyone. She loves people of all sizes. Poppy would do well with an active couple or a family with kids and other dogs. I am assuming Poppy is house trained and she keeps a clean pen during the day. This wonderful girl has been waiting so long for a home to call her own. Could you be it?

Jasper was an owner surrender due to a bad domestic violence situation between his owners. I've had him about a month now and he's turned into a wonderful boy with a sweet demeanor. He has learned how to play well with other dogs and successfully has a group of friends he regularly plays with. He is house trained and does great in the car. Jasper is very treat motivated and sits nicely for one. He takes it gently from your hand. The leash could use some work as he wasn't had one on much. Jasper has now been neutered and brought current on his vaccinations. This sweet boy is eager to please and ready to be a part of a loving family with someone who will love and care for him. No more domestic situations for this guy. He's had his fill of those. Apply to come meet this precious soul.
